Through negotiation rather than subpoena

Nixon-Dean logs sought

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Watergate committee counsel said today he will seek through negotiations, rather than subpoena, to obtain logs of conversations between President Nixon and the ousted John W. Dean III.

Dean was Nixon's White House counsel.

Samuel Dash, the committee counsel, said if the White House material is relevant evidence "we certainly will be seeking it." He denied that he said Tuesday a subpoena would be issued soon.

But newsmen who questioned him after the Tuesday committee session confirmed that he had made that comment.

At today's televised hearing, Dash maintained he had said nothing about a subpoena. He also said he had issued a correcting statement, saying that he would be discussing the question of access to the logs with Leonard Garment, now White House counsel.

The White House maintains that presidential papers are not subject to subpoena.

Dash said "we have received complete cooperation" from the White House in the effort to obtain the Dean logs.

A White House spokesman has said the question of access to the logs, or to information in them, is under review by Garment.

Sen. Howard Baker, R-Tenn., the committee's vice chairman, told newsmen the committee will request the material from the White House.

Baker said the committee would issue a subpoena should that become necessary.

The White House said Monday that the logs would not be made available. But Tuesday, press spokesman Gerald Warren said he had erred in making that statement and that the question of access to the logs is under study.

Special Watergate prosecutor Archibald W. Cox had said Monday, "I shall insist on access to everything." Cox and the Senate committee are already at odds over whether the Senate panel should have continued its public televised hearings into the scandal.

They may now be in a further fight over the presidential logs.

Samuel Dash, counsel to the Senate committee, said the Nixon-Dean logs would be the subject of a subpoena by today.

He said the subpoena would be delivered to White House Counsel Leonard Garment.

Warren said the White House considers the logs as presidential papers and thus not subject to subpoena because this would be "constitutionally inappropriate." But he suggested they might be made available voluntarily or perhaps in some extracted form.

Warren said the question of the logs would be reviewed by the White House and Cox's staff.

If the final White House decision is to refuse any access, then the committee and Cox would have to decide what sort of legal fight, if any, to wage in order to get at the logs.

Such a struggle could hinge on constitutional issues including separation of powers and executive privilege.

Dean was quoted in a number of news accounts earlier this week as saying he had met with Nixon perhaps 30 to 40 times this year and that the Watergate developments had been discussed.

Sloan says he foresaw scandal

WASHINGTON (AP) — Former campaign treasurer Hugh W. Sloan Jr. testified today he tried to warn the White House shortly after the Watergate burglary that the affair posed "a tremendous problem" for President Nixon's political organization, but got nowhere.

Sloan also testified before the Senate Watergate committee that he told government prosecutors and a federal grand jury last July that another Nixon campaign official had said he might have to perjure himself in the case.

He said Jeb Stuart Magruder, the deputy campaign director, had asked him several days after the Watergate break-in to conceal the actual sum of $199,000 cash that the committee had paid G. Gordon Liddy.

Sloan said Magruder first asked him to say the amount was perhaps $80,000, and later cut the amount back to $45,000. The money had been paid to Liddy in early 1972, apparently for political espionage. Liddy has been convicted in the Watergate break-in.

Sloan said when he raised Watergate concerns at the White House, one Nixon aide told him the President had to be protected, and another said he didn't want to know of any links between the campaign and the burglary.

On the witness stand, the slender, youthful Sloan etched in details of the account he provided in advance to the committee staff.

After the June 17, 1972, wiretapping raid at Democratic headquarters, Sloan said, he became increasingly concerned that money he was instructed to give Liddy might have been used in the Watergate operation.

Sloan told the televised hearings that after the break-in, he sought out three White House aides at a cocktail party, and expressed concern that "there was something very definitely wrong at the campaign committee."

Six days after the break-in, Sloan said, he met at the White House with Dwight Chapin, then Nixon's appointments secretary, and later with John D. Ehrlichman, domestic affairs adviser to the President. Both have since resigned.

He said the tone of his conversation with Chapin was "that there is a tremendous problem there, something has to be done."

He said Chapin suggested Sloan was overwrought and should take a vacation. He said Chapin also "suggested that the important thing is that the President be protected."

Sloan said he had a similar talk with Ehrlichman. "I was just saying that somebody external to the campaign has to look at this," because he feared involvement, he said.

He said Ehrlichman indicated the White House would help him personally but he quoted the former Nixon aide as saying, "Don't tell me any of the details, I don't want to know, my position would have to be until after the election that I would have to take executive privilege."

Mandatory allocation plan OKd

Ration fuel, says Senate

WASHINGTON (AP) — Spurred by reported fuel shortages, the Senate has passed legislation requiring President Nixon to develop a mandatory national fuel-allocation formula.

By an 85-10 vote Tuesday, the Senate adopted Sen. Henry M. Jackson's proposal and rejected the administration's voluntary guidelines for oil and gas distributors.

The bill is the first major energy-crisis legislation to pass the Senate.

Jackson, D-Wash., said the vote "represents a new mood of urgency in the Congress that recognizes that there are critical shortages."

The bill was fought by the Nixon administration, but even many conservatives and consistent White House supporters deserted party ranks.

The measure is designed to ensure that all parts of the country and all groups of consumers receive fair shares of available fuel products. It also aims to prevent major oil companies from shutting off all fuel supplies to independent refiners and distributors.

The administration has issued guidelines following the same principles, but chose to leave them on a voluntary basis.

Sen. William Saxbe, R-Ohio, said he doubts the effectiveness of even a mandatory allocation formula. Congress itself may "have to establish priorities," he said.

That could mean determining who gets fuel—the Air Force or private planeowners, commercial barge captains or pleasure boaters, farmers or commuters.

Meanwhile, Jackson said he hopes the House will act on the bill before the August recess.

Other energy measures pending before Congress would create a national fuel reserve, accelerate energy research, tax car horsepower, lower highway speed limits, and speed up pipeline construction.

In a related development Tuesday, the American Automobile Association said its survey of 1,439 gasoline stations showed that the Southeast and Northwest have the tightest fuel supplies. The AAA reported after the first of a series of weekly polls of stations along major U.S. travel routes.

Jackson said major fuel companies such as Sunoco, Exxon and Gulf are abandoning some regional markets in what appears to be a move to eliminate price-cutting competition. And major-oil-company earnings were up some 37 per cent in the first quarter of this year, he said.

Nixon moves to rebuild

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon announced three moves today in a major rebuilding of his Watergate-shaken White House staff.

Army Gen. Alexander M. Haig Jr., will retire from active duty and continue as chief of the White House staff, a post he has held on an interim basis.

Former Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird was appointed counselor to the President for domestic affairs and, in that Cabinet-rank post, will in effect succeed John D. Ehrlichman who resigned April 30 along with the former staff chief H. R. Haldeman.

Ronald L. Ziegler, while remaining as press secretary, will be given the added title of assistant to the President and given a role in White House policy making.

Haig's retirement from the Army will take effect Aug. 1, at which time he will be appointed assistant to the President. A former deputy to foreign policy expert Henry A. Kissinger, Haig had been recalled to the White House from his post as Army vice chief of staff following Haldeman's resignation.

Today's announcement said Haig will be responsible for "coordination and supervision of the day-to-day operations and responsibilities of the White House staff."

Laird, a former U.S. House member from Wisconsin, "will be responsible for the over-all formulation and coordination of domestic policy," said the White House. He will be given a seat on the National Security Council.

The announcement said Ziegler, with the resignation of Herbert G. Klein as director of communications, will assume responsibility for the communications office as well as the press office. It said:

"As assistant to the President, he will be involved in policy meetings both with the President and other senior staff members, and also will retain his briefing responsibilities and daily contact with members of the press."

It had been known for some time that the 55-year-old Klein, former editor of the San Diego Union, wanted to get back into the news business after his one political venture.

Klein will officially leave the White House on July 1.

Ohio Senate to consider tax break for farmers

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A proposed constitutional amendment authorizing a tax break for Ohio farmers comes before the Ohio Senate today with supporters not sure of its fate.

Sen. Michael J. Maloney, R-7 Cincinnati, declined to predict the outcome. "I don't know if it will pass. There are some amendments to be considered," he said.

The amendment, which would go before voters in November, authorizes the legislature to permit taxation of farm property on the basis of use rather than market value as required by present law. Farmers in sprawling urban areas would benefit most.

Maloney said he understands there may be an amendment that would add recreational properties to those receiving the lower assessments.

"We would prefer to treat recreation with separate legislation," said the chairman of the Senate Ways and Means Committee, which recommended the House-approved amendment for Senate adoption.

Another constitutional amendment that would have benefitted Ohio newsmen was killed Tuesday in the House. With 60 votes, or a three-fifths majority needed, the House defeated 28-62 a proposal that would have assured the legislature of its right to pass laws protecting newsmen from having to divulge their sources.

Rep. William G. Batchelder, R-93 Medina, its sponsor, claimed recent court decisions raise doubts about Ohio's present "shield law" and said one that invalidated a similar statute in California held that it did not provide ample protection to keep a newsman from answering a subpoena.

"Our system of government is based on the informed judgment of the citizenry," Batchelder told the House. He added that a free flow of information is necessary "for a democracy to survive."

Minority Leader Charles F. Kurfess, R-83 Perrysburg, was among those arguing against the proposal. He said it would be "dangerous" to have the legislature passing laws with regard to the rights of the press. "At least, it does nothing. At its worst, it is dangerous," Kurfess asserted.

Dollar gains; trading light

LONDON (AP) — The U.S. dollar strengthened today after nearly a week's decline to record lows, and the price of gold eased on European bullion markets.

The volume of trading was low, however, as nervousness over future monetary trends persisted.

Dealers said reports from Washington that the Nixon administration was considering further tough measures to halt rising inflation apparently helped the dollar.

The dollar improved both in Tokyo and in Hong Kong as well as in Europe. It closed in Tokyo at 263.90 yen, up half a yen, and at 5.0650 Hong Kong dollars after opening at 5.06. The price of gold eased in Hong Kong to close at $120.19 an ounce.

The price of the metal dropped $3 an ounce to $123 at London's opening, and $2.50 to $123.50 an ounce in Zurich.

Administration healthy, Agnew assures governors

STATELINE, Nev. (AP) — Vice President Spiro T. Agnew, conducting some low-key fence mending among the nation's governors, has rejected the contention of some that the Watergate scandal has paralyzed the Nixon administration.

"I don't believe from what I've seen in Washington and outside that there is any claim of paralysis that is worthy of any credibility," the vice president told reporters during a dinner at the National Governors Conference Tuesday night.

Agnew flew here earlier in the day in the wake of fears among many governors that governmental paralysis due to Watergate is preventing the federal government from giving them the financial assurances they seek.

In rejecting the paralysis theory, Agnew declared that President Nixon is very busy. He said that serious matters were taken up at at a White House meeting Tuesday morning "and none of them related to Watergate."

Seated with Agnew, conference host Gov. Mike O'Callaghan of Nevada said he has seen no sign of a deterioration in federal-state relations because of Watergate. O'Callaghan, a Democrat, said the governors appreciated the opportunity to work again with Agnew.

While Agnew made his informal rounds, the governors prepared to adopt a series of policy statements today. Included are appeals for a halt in the administration's impoundment of federal highway funds and for restoration of threatened cuts in social services programs.

The annual conference winds up today at this Nevada-California border gambling resort.

When he arrived Tuesday, Agnew conceded his mission here was fence mending but told reporters he didn't plan to talk to the governors about Watergate.

He said, "Of course, when a member of the national administration comes to a governors' conference, he comes to make friends and eases tensions."

About the time Agnew was arriving, the impact of Watergate here was underscored by the strongest statement on the scandal yet by the Republican governor about to assume the conference chairmanship.

Emprise's ties with Big Crime ignored

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio State Racing Commission has virtually ignored the 40-year role as concessionaire and part owner of Buckeye race tracks of Emprise, a conglomerate with links to organized crime, the Dayton Daily News said today.

In the fourth of a 10-part copyrighted series, the newspaper said:

"The giant concession conglomerate has loaned millions of dollars to race tracks in Ohio. It has been a part owner of at least five tracks. Through financial pressures it has helped put at least two of them out of business. It has participated in secret deals.

"The firm was a business associate of members of the Cleveland crime syndicate when they controlled the state's two highest-volume horse racing tracks, River Downs at Cincinnati and Thistledown at Cleveland.

"Yet, Emprise-Sportservice's role in Ohio racing has been virtually ignored by the Ohio Racing Commission."

Sportservice is a principal subsidiary of Emprise, the world's largest operator of food and drink concessions at sports events.

The newspaper said a 1971 company brochure stated that Emprise had concession rights at 65 horse and dog tracks and part ownership in at least 28. The paper said Emprise also served as a major source of loans for America's race tracks.

Last year, the Daily News said, the firm was convicted of a federal crime along with three Mafia figures. The conviction came for conspiring to conceal the true ownership of a Nevada gambling casino. That conviction has been appealed.

The Daily News quoted Paul D. Fleming Jr., executive secretary of the racing commission, as saying, "We've all heard a lot about Sportservice, but we've yet to see that they are dishonest."

In the third of the series, the Daily News auoted Aaron Kohn, managing director of the Metropolitan Crime Commission of New Orleans, in testimony before the Louisiana State Racing Commission in 1971:

"It appears reasonable to conclude from the extensive Emprise record that they and their affiliate companies are given to deception and organized crime alliance."

In a statement last year to the Select Committee on Crime of the U.S. House of Representatives, Emprise President Jeremy Jacobs said, "Never in our more than 50 years of business service have ever been involved in any public or private endeavor that has reflected on our business standing, personal integrity or individual or business reputations."

"Ohio Racing Commission files show that at a hearing in 1953," The Daily News said, "commission Chairman O. C. Belt charged that (Irwin) Wiedrick had been secretly running the Fort Miami raceway near Toledo, and that an Emprise-Sportservice lawyer, Benjamin D. Reisman, had secretly purchased 50 per cent of the track from Wiedrick and an Illinois congressman in 1951."

The newspaper identified Wiedrick as a former convict and a principal figure in a race track scandal in Illinois as well as a track consultant for Emprise.

American captain joins lawsuit against bombing

SAIGON (AP) — "I just have my own conception about what is right and wrong," says Air Force Capt. James H. Strain. He opposes the bombing of Cambodia and has joined in a suit to test its constitutionality.

A navigator from Chickasha, Okla., Strain flew on 230 combat missions across Indochina. He participated in three B52 raids against Hanoi last year during the biggest air assault of the war, aimed at forcing North Vietnam to conclude a cease-fire.

Sometime later, he had a change of heart. Defense Department officials in Washington disclosed Tuesday he has been taken off flying status.

Strain and two other bomber crewmen, Capt. Michael Flugger, a copilot from New York City and Lt. Arthur Watson, an electronics warfare expert, from Rome, N.Y., joined in the constitutional test case filed in Brooklyn by Congresswoman Elizabeth Holtzman, D-N.Y.

Strain said he did not want to comment further on the suit.

"I don't want to put myself in a bind," he said in an interview today. "I have direct orders not to comment. My attorney has advised me against it."

Strain would not discuss his contact with Congresswoman Holtzman except to say it was made through mutual friends.

Flugger and Watson were not immediately available for comment.

Strain acknowledged that he had given a television interview last month in which he criticized the bombing.

He said he and the other two officers expressed opposition to the bombing to their commanding officers.

Strain confirmed reports from Washington that all three were disqualified from flying under the Air Force's "Human Reliability Program," which is designed to eliminate crew members with emotional problems from any flights that might carry nuclear weapons. The B52 bombers in Indochina operations carry only conventional bombs.

Pentagon officials in Washington emphasized the grounding was not intended as a disciplinary measure. Strain said he hoped to continue his career in the Air Force.

He said there has been no recrimination against him for his action and other crewmen had shown no bias.

Kissinger, Le Duc Tho resume talks

PARIS (AP) — Henry A. Kissinger and Hanoi's Le Duc Tho resumed their secret talks today to tighten the Vietnam cease-fire agreement.

They met in a villa owned by the French Communist party in suburban Gif-sur-Yvette. Tho was acting as host, and welcomed the American delegates on the lawn in front of the villa. He was smiling and shook their hands warmly.

"We shall certainly spare no effort to strengthen the peace in Indochina," Kissinger said on his arrival from Washington Tuesday night.

He said if he and Tho "continue the progress and cooperative spirit" that were shown when they recessed two weeks ago, "then the prospects are reasonably good that we might conclude this round."

Kissinger announced "significant progress" May 23 after conferring with Tho for six days on how to end violations of the truce they negotiated last winter. He said he and Tho had "every intention of concluding our discussions" in the upcoming round.

This was interpreted as a warning to President Nguyen Van Thieu that neither Hanoi nor Washington would allow any basic objections to their proposals to make the ceasefire work.

South Vietnamese sources said Thieu accepted the proposals in principle, but objected to some of the details. These have been discussed in a series of preparatory meetings here since Sunday between U.S. and North Vietnamese officials.

But North Vietnamese sources said the main issue in the preparatory talks was over the interpretation of Article 20 of the cease-fire agreement. Article 20 states that "foreign countries shall put an end to all military activities" in Laos and Cambodia.

The United States has justified its continued bombing in Cambodia on grounds that the North Vietnamese are supporting closely the antigovernment insurgents who are nominally led by the exiled Prince Norodom Sihanouk. Hanoi has denied the charges.

Ford plants switch to metric system

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)— Ford Motor Co. plants in Lima and suburban Cleveland have had few problems in a switch that makes major use of metric measurements, according to Ford officials.

Both plants have begun production of a four-cylinder 2.3-liter (140 cubic inches) engine, to be standard equipment in the 1974 Mustang II and optional in the 1974 Pinto, Ford said.

"Quite frankly, we overestimated our problems," said Thomas J. Feaheny, general manager of Ford's engine division. "We learned that the problems were mainly education and know-how.

"With good training and attention to detail, we were able to resolve the metrication problem without major difficulty," he said.

"The greatest problem we encountered," said division Operations Manager V. P. Masi, "was to get persons thinking in metric terms. "Once that hurdle was passed, the rest was easy."

Skylab crew rehearses for space walk

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — The Skylab repair crew today practices tricky maneuvers for a two-man space walk Thursday to attempt to pry or cut free a jammed solar panel.

The astronauts eliminated most experiments today and scheduled a four-hour rehearsal for the difficult task that could nearly double the electricity in their power-shy space station.

In the large workshop area of the orbiting laboratory, they were to assemble and work with a battery of tools and tethers needed for the unprecedented salvage job.

It was their 13th day in space.

If there are no problems, Commander Charles Conrad Jr. and Dr. Joseph P. Kerwin are to open an airlock hatch about 11:37 a.m. EDT Thursday. About half an hour later, Conrad is to scramble some 25 feet across the side of the barrelshaped vehicle to the stuck panel.

With Kerwin waiting near the open hatch to assist, the commander will try to cut through or pry loose a one-inch wide aluminum strip which is holding the one-ton panel against the side of the station.

The third crewman, Paul J. Weitz, will remain inside the workshop, relaying instructions from mission control.

Once Conrad frees the panel, he'll have to provide the muscle to snap it into place.

Experts estimate it will take about 100 pounds of force. When the restraints break, the panel will scissor out "at about the speed of the second hand on your watch."

If the wing swings properly into place, three large sections of solar cells will unfold to catch the sun's rays and convert them to electricity. They would add 3,000 watts to Skylab's power supply.

This will enable the astronauts to complete a full experiment schedule during the remainder of their 28-day flight. It also will increase the chances for success of the Skylab 2 and 3 crews who are to visit the station later in the year.

Day care to receive priority

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Day care services for working mothers or mothers training for jobs will be given high priority under revised federal-help programs in Ohio beginning July 1.

Welfare Director Charles Bates also said Wednesday that beginning Oct. 1, the department would begin expanding programs to provide jobs for day care aids and homemakers.

The new federal regulations limit Ohio to $130 million for social service programs in fiscal 1973 and 1974, Bates said.

The state had been counting on an allocation of $115 for Fiscal 1973 along, and Bates said he doubted if the state could attract the revenue needed to continue current services.

Nixon suspected Dean, Ehrlichman told court

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon was growing increasingly suspicious of John W. Dean III's role in the Watergate scandal while seeking to prevent Dean from being questioned publicly about it, John D. Ehrlichman has testified.

The former presidential adviser said Dean hid the fact that he himself had participated in discussions of wiretapping plans months before the raid on Democratic headquarters last year.

And he said Dean, then the President's official lawyer, resisted repeated requests by presidential staff chief H.R. Haldeman to produce a written report of his investigation into the affair.

It was this investigation Nixon had cited during the presidential election campaign as clearing all administration employes in the case.

Ehrlichman, now under investigation himself, gave his version of the affair in pretrial testimony May 22, 23 and 24 in lawsuits over the wiretapping. A transcript of his testimony was released Tuesday.

Ehrlichman said that during his own short-lived investigation into the Watergate affair, Jeb S. Magruder, once the second in command at the Nixon re-election campaign, told him former Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell reluctantly approved the final plans to wiretap the Watergate.

Ehrlichman quoted Magruder as saying final approval came at a meeting in Key Biscayne, Fla., in late March 1972. Only Mitchell, Magruder and campaign aide Frederick C. LaRue were present.

All agreed to the plan, which also included authorization to wiretap the Washington headquarters of Sen. George McGovern's presidential campaign and the Miami Beach convention offices of top Democratic officials, Ehrlichman said. The Watergate wiretappers had intended to carry out those plans the weekend they were caught in Democratic headquarters in the Watergate.

Ehrlichman also quoted Dean as saying that Mitchell approved the Watergate plans in writing. Mitchell has said he rejected plans to bug Democratic headquarters.

After the Watergate operation, Ehrlichman said, the President had a number of conversations with Dean starting the last week in February.

Finally, around March 22, Nixon sent Dean to his Maryland mountain retreat, Camp David, to write a report. "He was there for six days. He came down the night of the 28th and delivered nothing," Ehrlichman said.

Within 24 hours Nixon relieved Dean of his investigative duties. "The President called me in on the 30th and said, 'My suspicions are crystallized and I want you to get into this," Ehrlichman said.

Watergate scandal

Ehrlichman said Nixon assigned him to gather Watergate information in April. Ehrlichman quoted Nixon as saying that Dean, the previous White House Watergate investigator, was involved in the scandal "up to his eyebrows." Ehrlichman quit within the month.

—The Senate committee heard Robert Reisner, a former Nixon campaign committee assistant, testify that documents with the "Gemstone" political-espionage label were placed with matters to be taken up with John N. Mitchell, former attorney general and then Nixon campaign director.

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

More showers are in store for Ohio today and tonight, the National Weather Service predicts, as the state remains in an area of warm, humid, unstable air ahead of a moving cold front.

At dawn overcast skies were reported across most of the state with light rain falling in some areas. Radar reports also indicated an occasional thundershower. Temperatures at sunrise were in the 60s.

The cold front stretches southwestward out of Canada across lower Michigan to the southern tip of Illinois and continues south to the Texas gulf coast. It is expected to cross Ohio today and tonight, passing south and east of the state by midmorning Thursday.

While there may be periods of sunshine again today they probably will be shorter in duration and fewer in number. Showers will also be more frequent but thundershower activity probably not quite as intense as Tuesday. Highs will be held down by cloudiness and showers and readings will range mostly in the 70s. In the southeast corner of the state the muercury could still top the 80-degree mark.

Sunshine is in the forecast for Thursday. The western sections of the state will begin the day under sunny skies Thursday while in the east mostly cloudy conditions with possibly a few showers conginuing through the morning. Not much change in temperatures is expected Thursday with highs again mostly in the 70s.

Fair Friday through Sunday. Highs from the mid 70s to low 80s Friday warming to the low to mid 80s Sunday. Lows from the mid 50s to low 60s.

Jet stream gets blame

WASHINGTON (AP) — That sometimes-capricious river of high-speed air above the Northern Hemisphere, the jet stream, has been a major culprit in the record rash of tornadoes and other unusual weather across the nation in recent months.

Government meteorologists said Tuesday the jet stream has been unusually strong for several months:

—Causing more than 700 tornadoes since Jan. 1, mostly in Southern states.

—Dumping heavy rains from the Appalachians to the Midwest and down into the South.

—Causing drought conditions in the Pacific Northwest.

The weathermen say the jet stream appears to be weakening now, possibly lessening tornado activity in Southern states.

They also said their June outlook shows a shift in the heavy rain picture from the Midwest and South to the Middle Atlantic, South Atlantic and Gulf Coast. It also appears, they said, that the weakening jet stream will cause rain in the Pacific Northwest during June.

Like its sister, the "polar jet," flowing above northerly areas of the earth, the sub-tropical jet stream is hundreds of miles wide and 20,000 feet high.

Stock prices show decline

NEW YORK (AP) — Stock market prices opened higher today, became mixed, then moved downward.

Analysts said the higher prices at the opening today were a continuation of a technical rally that began Tuesday after five days of declines. But volume during the rally remained low, the analysts said, and there was no permanant positive economic news to sustain it.

The Dow Jones average of 30 industrials, which had been up more than 4 points earlier, was down at noon by 3.31 at 897.50. Advancing Big Board stocks outpaced gainers 718 to 472 but losers were closing the gap.

On the American Stock Exchange, the price-change index was up .04 at 22.45 and losing ground.

The Amex volume leader was Bowmar Instruments, up 7/8 at 23¼. Its chairman announced sharp earnings increase for fiscal 1973.

The New York Stock Exchange broad-based index of some 1,500 common shares was down 0.03 at 55.05.

The volume leader on the New York Stock Exchange was Monogram Industries, up 7/8 at 23¼.

Ex-ball player arrested in bomb plot

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Former major league ball player Jerry Priddy was held on extortion charges today in connection with a bomb threat against a luxury ship, officials said.

The FBI in Washington confirmed the identity of Gerald Edward Priddy, 53, of North Hollywood, who was arrested in a $250,000 extortion bomb plot Tuesday.

Priddy, who spent 11 years in the major leagues between 1941 and 1953, was arrested after two cigarette pack-size items were found on the cruise ship Island Princess while at sea.

The ship's captain said the packages were live bombs and were thrown overboard, officials reported.

Spokesmen for the Coast Guard and the FBI said today they were unaware of any other explosive devices on board, but the vessel's captain ordered a further search as the cruise continued.

This statement contradicted an earlier report from the Coast Guard that they were searching for four other bombs.

Priddy was to be arraigned today before a U.S. magistrate on a charge of violating the federal extortion statute.

He was arrested Tuesday near the offices of Jerry Priddy and Associates Products Unlimited, an advertising specialities company which he heads.

No sale on ambassadorships

Today's exercise in empathy is to put yourself in the position of a career man in the Foreign Service who finds himself occupying a relatively minor post despite his demonstrated ability and years in the service. He has his eye on an assignment as ambassador to Suchandsuch - only to see this diplomatic plum handed on a platter to someone with the potent qualification of having contributed a hundred thousand or so to the party coffers.

Either party's coffers, let it be noted; neither the Republicans nor the Democrats have notably shied away from this practice. It is a practice vulnerable to attack on several grounds.

It would be hard to make a good case for the contention that under no circumstances should anyone outside the Foreign Service be tapped for a principal diplomatic assignment. That would rule out such extraordinarily able men as W. Averell Harriman and our present representative in China, David K.E. Bruce.

It can be strongly argued, however, that for the sake of both fairness and doing what is best in the national interest, experienced and well trained career men should be given procedence over all but the very ablest "outsiders."

When one comes to the business of rewarding heavy contributors with diplomatic posts, the arguments against this are overwhelming. This custom demeans our whole system of diplomatic representation abroad. Moreover, it works against the national interest to make partisan generosity the sole - or at any rate the primary - criterion by which persons are chosen for important posts.

The Senate Foreign Relations Committee is on the point of taking corrective action. It is reportedly about to propose two things to the State Department. One is that the number of ambassadors from outside the Foreign Service be limited to about 15 per cent of the total.

The other is that henceforth the committee, in passing on ambassadorial nominations, would frown on any nominee who had given more than $10,000 to a presidential campaign fund.

The monetary limitation strikes us as too rigid, though we agree with it on principle. We are, however, fully in sympathy with the idea of drawing the bulk of ambassadors from the Foreign Service.

The custom of entrusting America's relations with foreign governments to persons chosen on the strength of their campaign gifts is outmoded and dangerous.

THESE DAYS . . . by John Chamberlain

Is Kissinger Rockefeller's ace?

Nelson Rockefeller has a sleeper going for him in seeking the Republican presidential nomination for 1976. The sleeper is Henry Kissinger.

Before taking service with the Nixon Administration, Kissinger was a "Rockefeller man." It was on the basis of the many brilliant position papers written for Rockefeller that Nixon hired Kissinger in the first place.

Just how the credit should be divided for the successful extricatiion of 500,000-plus American troops from Vietnam without betraying the Saigon government won't be known until the inner history of the first Nixon Administration comes clear.

But before Kissinger went to Washington he already had made the point in memos to Rockefeller that the Vietnam War could only be settled in the wider contest of Soviet-Red Chinese-U.S. relations.

LUCK PLAYED into the Nixon Administration's hands when Moscow and Peking began snarling at each other along 4,000 miles of inner Asian border. The Communist giants, each tending to resist the other's claims to "sphere of influence" domination in Southeast Asia, were immobilized when Nixon, with a brilliant economy of force, mined Haiphong harbor and used the B-52s to force Hanoi to the negotiating table.

The agricultural crisis in China and in the Soviet Union sustained the Nixon moves, enabling the U.S. to dicker with both Peking and Moscow without taking sides in the intramural Marxist struggle.

The fortuitous combination of a Red quarrel over orthodoxy and big crop failures made Kissinger's balance-of-power thinking relevant, and it should remain so as long as Mao Tse-tung and Brezhnev continue to fight each other.

If the two Red giants should ever patch up their differences and simultaneously fill their granaries, it would destroy the Kissinger thinking in a day. But the quarrel between the Marxists isn't likely to abate as long as each side feels threatened by the nuclear potential of the other.

Almost alone among the Nixon White House "power centers," the Kissinger operation looks good. George P. Shultz, the Secretary of the Treasury, has not been able to solve Nixon's problems with inflation. Nobody does anything about the energy crisis. Erhlichman was a flop at coordinating the domestic policies of the Administration even before he was tarred with Watergate. Vice President Spiro Agnew has been kept on the outside. Kissinger has made foreign policy the one conspicuous Nixon success.

IF THE GOOD LUCK continues, Nelson Rockefeller will be in a position to say that it was his use of Kissinger as a pre-1968 foreign affairs adviser that started the whole business. Kissinger hasn't had any part in Spiro Agnew's career. John Connally can't claim Kissinger as a devotee or comrade in arms. But Kissinger could go on working for a Nelson Rockefeller administration without a single qualm or hitch.

Assuming success in the forthcoming negotiations with the West Europeans and the Soviet Union, the American people would surely want to see the Kissinger influence extended beyond 1976. It would be a realistic move for Kissinger to resign his White House advisory job in early 1976 to take service once again with Rockefeller as a foreign policy expert.

With Kissinger writing Rockefeller's speeches and preparing his position papers, Agnew and Connally would have a difficult time claiming contact with the one accomplishment of Nixon Republicanism.

Gov. Ronald Reagan of California is, of course, just as untouched by Watergate as Nelson Rockefeller. The Reagan appeal to the conservatives is obvious.

But Rockefeller has taken on a good law-and-order coloration with his attitude toward drug pushers, and he has been matching Reagan in his tax policies.

With Kissinger as a plus, Rockefeller could have the best of both worlds even with the conservative voter.

Your Horoscope

By FRANCES DRAKE

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars.

THURSDAY, JUNE 7

ARIES
(March 21 to April 20)

Control Emotions now. There will be tendencies to exaggerate, to lose temper. Be especially tactful in dealings with marriage or business partners.

TAURUS
(April 21 to May 21)

A lively outlook. Advancement indicated in several areas. If you have felt some restraint recently, you may step more freely now — but not recklessly, of course.

GEMINI
(May 22 to June 21)

Procrastination is everyone's temptation at times. Don't let this or other "tricksters" besiege YOU during this somewhat mixed period. Stress foresight and common sense.

CANCER
(June 22 to July 23)

This day may be described as a duel between promise and performance. The effort expended and the direction taken will be the deciding factors. Think before acting!

LEO
(July 24 to Aug. 23)

You may run into some opposition. But you need not let it disturb your equilibrium or your sense of humor. You usually enjoy outwitting opposing forces.

VIRGO
(Aug. 24 to Sept. 23)

Avoid any tendency toward vagueness. Set sights calculatingly on your target, and aim for it unerringly. Stellar influences helpful.

LIBRA
(Sept. 24 to Oct. 23)

Don't jump to hasty conclusions. And, even where long-postponed changes are due, do not make them impulsively. Best efforts could be offset by premature action.

SCORPIO
(Oct. 24 to Nov. 22)

Careful analysis, good judgment and understanding of the temperaments of associates will be required to make this a smooth-running day.

SAGITTARIUS
(Nov. 23 to Dec. 21)

You should win top-grade returns for your efforts now. Adhere to well-tested procedure. Emphasize your individualism, charm and perceptiveness.

CAPRICORN
(Dec. 22 to Jan. 20)

Splendid prospects! But others may also have such fine opportunities to achieve that you may find it difficult to put over YOUR ideas. Don't worry! This makes for healthy competition.

AQUARIUS
(Jan. 21 to Feb. 19)

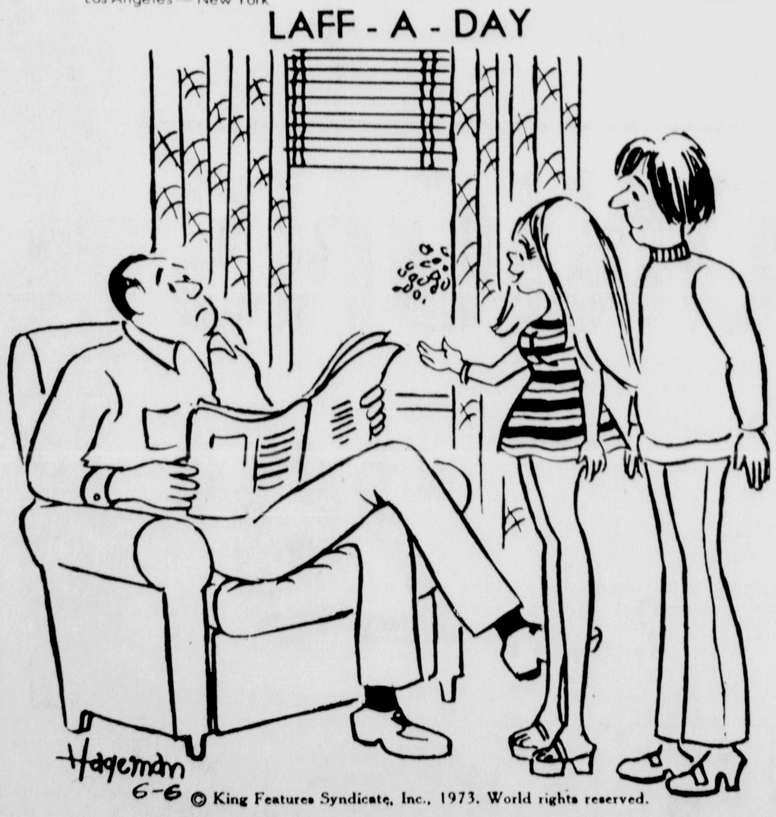

Many small matters may conspire to try to keep you from accomplishing what you set out to do — and must. Be firm! Direct energies only to worthwhile areas.

PISCES
(Feb. 20 to March 20)

How you accept vicissitudes AND advantages will make the difference between just getting by and doing well. This day has the makings of a big success story.

YOU BORN TODAY are endowed with a brilliant intellect, an insatiable love of knowledge and a warm, outgoing personality. Like MOST Geminians, however, you tend to scatter energies, thus often defeating your own purposes. Your goals are usually lofty ones, but you MUST acquire the stick-to-it-iveness required to attain them. You work better alone than with others and your happiest occupation would be one which permits your imagination to stretch its lively wings. You are gifted along many lines, but could especially succeed at writing, art, the theater, music, science, the law or education — depending, of course, on your leanings and education.

Hal Boyle . . . Down Memory Lane with Hal

NEW YORK (AP) — Memory is a great healing agent.

It is the balm that reconciles us to today's pains and the premised emptiness and loneliness of tomorrow.

By reminding us of good times we had in the past and the bad times we survived, memory can also by those examples give us hope that our future may still hold great times, too.

Your own store of memories is large enough to fill many an idle hour if you can look back and remember when —

Most of the things you bought cost you only about what the tax on them is now.

Many boys went hungry Saturdays because if they didn't sneak out of the house before breakfast their mothers would tell them they'd have to spend most of the day beating dust out of rugs hung up on a wire in the backyard.

You didn't have to worry about getting air-conditioners or television sets repaired, but somehow something always seemed to go wrong with the coal furnace or the hot water heater.

Doctors didn't charge much, and they were usually the last to get paid. The first thing a family paid every week was its grocery bill.

A young fellow who could strum a pretty fair mandolin usually didn't have much trouble getting dates.

Many a strict mother wouldn't let her daughter go out with a boy who drove a car that had a rumble seat.

While life had problems we don't face now, no man had to spend half the day in an office washroom because of a stuck zipper.

A juvenile delinquent was a kid who sat in the front row of the balcony at the movies, and threw beans at the audience below as soon as the lights were turned off.

A lot of folks thought you were throwing away your money if you sent your daughter away to college. The male theory was that a girl didn't need to go to college to learn how to raise children, and too much education served only to unbalance the female mind more than nature had done it already.

People gave less money to formal charity, but were more willing to pitch in and help an individual who was in trouble.

Those were the days — remember?

Close loophole in campaign law, Brown urges

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The man who is charged with responsibility for overseeing elections in Ohio has recommended that the legislature act to plug an "obvious loophole" in the state's campaign expense reporting law.

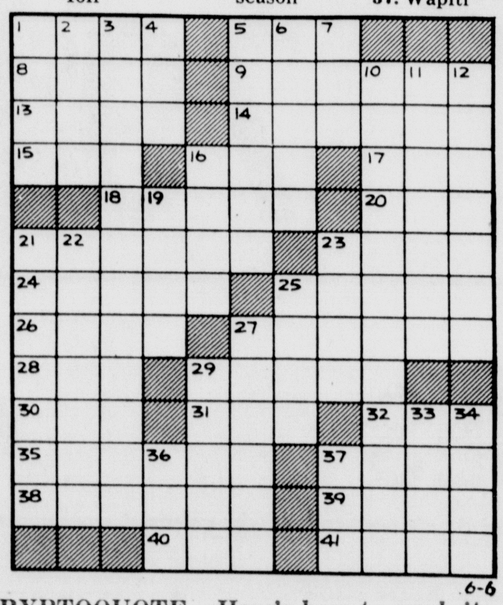

Secretary of State Ted Brown made his recommendations in letters to Sen. Stanley Aronoff, R-8 Cincinnati, chairman of the Senate Finance and Election Committee, and Rep. Michael Del Bane, D-56 Hubbard, chairman of the House State Government Committee.

Brown suggested the law be amended to require candidates with campaign deficits to file periodic statements with election officials as they paid the debts, identifying contributors and detailing the expenditures made.

Dear Abby:

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

This dating game version more like wrestling match

DEAR ABBY: I am 20 and I'm dating this guy who is 28. I like him as a date, but I don't like the battles I have with him to get him to keep his hands to himself.

Ten minutes after I'm in his car he's all over me. He is really just like a high school sophomore-only stronger. The day after I've been out with him I ache all over from fighting him off. I'm not kidding. I've even left some scratches on his hands and face in addition to ripping his shirt and breaking his wristwatch.

I am not against a little affection, but this guy acts like a sex maniac. I am no big turnon, I'm a plain-looking girl and I don't invite his advances, so I can't understand it.

How can I cool him down without losing him completely?

AIRES

DEAR AIRES: If you continue to date this guy you must be hard up. Quit while you're ahead and tell the octopus to get lost.

DEAR ABBY: Our fine, handsome grandson is graduating from college soon, after which he is marrying a nice girl he met at college. (I'll call her Mary.) Mary is one of 12 children so there wasn't much money for extras in her family. To get to the point, Mary is desperately in need of dental work. It would improve her appearance 100 per cent.

I can well afford to pay for any dental work Mary needs done, but I don't know how to make the offer to our grandson without offending him. It is a wonder to us how this girl could have let her teeth get into such bad shape. And a greater wonder that our grandson wouldn't have noticed it. (Or perhaps he has, but didn't know what to do about it.)

How can we let our grandson know we will foot the bill if Mary will see a dentist?

GRANDPA

DEAR GRANDPA: Tell him (privately) what you've told me. (P.S. And since when is dental care an "extra"? It's vital to general good health.)

DEAR ABBY: I am a 16-year-old girl with a big problem. My favorite cousin is getting married in two months and my parents won't let me go to the wedding unless I take off 10 pounds! That is an awful lot to lose in two months, but my mother said she talked to the doctor and he said I could do it if I tried. Abby, I would have to live on practically nothing to lose all that weight in two months. I'm afraid I would get so weak I couldn't do as well in school, etc.

I have enough money in the bank to fly to the wedding which is across the country, but my parents say I can't go at all unless I lose 10 pounds, and if I do so, they will buy my ticket.

Why are people so prejudiced against overweight people? It's as if we weren't ever human.

Are my parents being unfair to me, Abby? I just have to go to that wedding. I pray a lot and it makes me feel better but it doesn't get me there. Please help me.

HEARTBROKEN

DEAR HEARTBROKEN: Five pounds a month is not too much to lose, and if the doctor says you can do it, you should try. Quit looking for excuses why you CAN'T, and start on a diet right now and you'll make it. Good luck.

Miss Orr, Mr. Fountain exchange vows

The New Holland United Methodist Church was the setting for the marriage of Miss Deborah Jean Orr and Gary M. Fountain at 1:30 p.m. Sunday. The Rev. Frank White performed the double-ring ceremony.

Miss Orr is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Orr, Rt. 1, New Holland. Mr. and Mrs. Robert Fountain, Rt. 5, are parents of the bridegroom.

Mrs. Paul Huff, organist, and Mrs. Steve Huff, vocalist, presented a prelude of wedding selections.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a dress of silk organza over white bridal satin, accented with full lace cuffs. The dress and train were accented with ruffles of white lace. She wore a white wide-brimmed hat trimmed with pale blue daisies and a blue satin band. She carried an arrangement of daisies, white Fuji mums, baby's breath and pink sweetheart roses. Pink gladioli and white carnations filled the altar vases.

Mrs. Paul Huddle, Columbus, was matron of honor for her sister. The bridesmaids were Mrs. Donnie Beekman of Washington C. H., and Mrs. John Tussey of Mount Sterling, sister of the groom. They wore long flowered blue voile dresses with empire waist and short puff sleeves. The dresses were ruffled at the hemline and trimmed with blue velvet at the waist. They each wore a blue hat and carried a basket of pink, white and blue daisies with blue streamers.

Russ Ladwig of Columbus served as best man. Seating the wedding guests were Steve Huff of Washington C. H. and John Tussey of Mount Sterling.

Mrs. Orr greeted the guests in a blue and white knit dress with matching accessories and a corsage of pink sweetheart roses. The bridegroom's mother wore a blue knit dress with white accessories and a corsage of pink roses.

Hostesses for the reception which followed were the Misses Joyce Armintrout, Patty Landrum and Debby Reed, all of Washington C. H., and Mrs. Candy Rodgers of Mount Sterling. Miss Royanne Speakman presided at the guest book.

Following a trip to Cincinnati, the couple is residing at Rt. 1, Mount Sterling (White Oak Rd.).

Both Mr. and Mrs. Fountain are graduates of Miami Trace High School. Mr. Fountain is presently assistant manager at the "Post House" for Greyhound Food Management.

The bridal party was entertained on Friday evening at Wardell's Party Home.

Ethel Kennedy's family occupies most of her time

WASHINGTON (AP) — She skis with Jean-Claude Killy, plays tennis with Rod Laver, lunches with Art Buchwald. But only occasionally.

In the last five years since her husband was shot to death in a Los Angeles hotel kitchen, Ethel Kennedy has led a quieter life, spending most of her time with her children—all 11 of them.

The raucous, back-lawn parties of the early '60s, when it wasn't unusual for a Cabinet member to take a pool-dunking, have given way to smaller dinner parties for a few close friends.

Despite occasional rumors, Mrs. Kennedy attends most social functions alone and friends say she has no plans to remarry.

At 45, she is trim, equally at ease in flared pants or a long skirt. Her curly blonde hair is slightly frosted to hide flecks of gray.

"If she's ever glum, it never shows," says a close Kennedy friend. "She centers her life around other people. She's a very caring person."

Hickory Hill, the handsome Kennedy estate in McLean, Va., still is a gathering place for the family, friends, a handful of servants, one turtle named Kruthers and three dogs, including Freckles, the late Robert F. Kennedy's black-and-white spaniel. During much of the winter, a sign on the Kennedys' front door read: "Beware — Trespassers will be eaten."

It is here under the spreading hickory trees where the Kennedy family and friends will gather tonight for a private memorial Mass on the fifth anniversary of Sen. Kennedy's death.

"All the children are flying in for it," a family friend said. "It must be hard for them to have to relive the emotional trauma of their father's death each year."

Joseph P. Kennedy III, the eldest son who, at 15, walked through his father's funeral train and thanked people for coming, is 20 now. He attended the University of California at Berkeley briefly beginning last January but dropped out because he said he "could get a better education out of school."

Kathleen Kennedy, at 21, is the family's eldest daughter. Last spring she took a semester off from Radcliffe College in Cambridge, Mass., to study journalism independently, and she returned Tuesday from a trip to Ireland.

Robert Kennedy Jr. is 19 now and a sophomore at Harvard. His long black hair hangs to his shoulders, and a school friend describes him as "sort of shy." Last summer he paid $13 to get a friend out of jail in Colombia during a two-week visit to South America. The friend had been arrested for playing rock music on a cathedral pipe organ.

David, 17, Courtney, 16, and Michael, 15, are in New England prep schools. The younger Kennedy children attend private school near their home.

Weinberg creations inspire return to old-time flirting

NEW YORK (AP) — Polish up your mysterious flirt routine, if you're going to wear Chester Weinberg's clothes this fall.

Models instinctively raised one shoulder or an eyebrow as they padded self-confidently down the aisles Monday in halter sweaters, with rhinestone clips and brown satin slip dresses.

These little numbers insist on some rendition, however halting, of a flirt. Remember flirting? It was when you didn't tell everything about yourself on the first date. It made for suspense.

If there must be nostalgia, Weinberg has pared it down to simple and luxurious proportions. Clip-on pins, button earrings and envelope purses lend their oldie-but-goodie influence, too.

Halter dresses abound in slick ivory leather with furtrimmed jacket. They're also offered in low key green and peach.

Weinberg has spared everyone a great array of ruffles, sticking instead to simple lines. He banks on unusual fabric combinations and bold strokes of color to carry the drama. It works.

A long matt jersey dress, in camel, is paired with a cotton topper rain coat. Fur jackets sport sweater-ribbed trimming.

Part of the luxurious look of his day clothes comes from the abundant fabric in his tent dresses and full-backed coats. Even jackets have deep pleats in back.

He throws in a little Gatsby with low-waisted dresses and nips at the heels of the bulky sweater movement in a series of applause-winning beige styles.

Camel was a big color, followed by red and green. Black was good for one-shoulder evening dresses, set with small but powerful rhinestone pins.

As a topping for a very sweet dessert, beat together cream cheese, sour cream and heavy cream. Add just enough of the creams to give a good consistency.

'Irritable Colons' Out of Date

Many years ago I was told that I had an "irritable" colon. I have always attributed my intestinal complaints to this.

Now I have been told that I do not have this condition, but that my problem is caused by long years of enemas and laxatives.

Is there such a thing as an "irritable colon"?

Mr. S.F., Maine

Dear Mr. F.: The term "irritable colon" once captured people's fancy and became almost a term of medical prestige. The word was bandied about almost as if it had special medical status.

The result was that this very real condition was self-diagnosed with great promiscuity, and most often, wrongly.

In reality, doctors do recognize a condition of irritable colon which is sometimes called a "spastic colon." So many factors are involved that the "irritable colon" can well be described as a complex of symptoms rather than a single condition.

Many people who are overworked, tense, anxious, and emotionally upset reflect these problems in the ppor functioning of the intestinal tract.

Hurried meals, certain drugs, dependence on laxatives and enemas add to upset the proper motility of the large intestine. The result is that abdominal pain, distention of the bowel with gas, excess mucous, and spasm of the lower bowel may follow.

It is important that you forget specific terms that were used to describe your complaints.

Now is a good time to give up your dependence on laxatives and enemas and have a complete re-evaluation of your entire gastro-intestinal status.

When once you are assured that you have no serious underlying condition, a well-established program of diet and exercise, supported by drugs carefully chosen by your doctor to reduce emotional tensions, willl relieve the symptoms that have plagued you for such a long time.

I find that occasionally a few chips of teflon chip away from my frying pans.

By any chance, could this be dangerous if a small flake should be inadvertently swallowed:?

Mrs. G.S., Ill.

Dear Mrs. S.:

Teflon is one of the many ingenious synthetic plastic products which has saved the energy of many housewives. Its advantages are well known.

It keeps food from sticking, enables frying with a minimum of fats and is easy to keep clean.

It is a non-toxic substance which means that small chips of it should not be harmful if swallowed. If your pans keep chipping and flaking you would do well to replace them, for you are losing the benefit of the teflon.

Opening lead - king of hearts.

There are times when one must violate a rule because the situation calls for it.

For example, consider this deal where South got to four spades and the defense started with three rounds of hearts, declarer ruffing the third round.

Exercising excellent technique, South cashed the A-K of trumps and the A-K-Q of diamonds before playing the ten of trumps to the jack and returning a club.

East following low, South finessed the nine — which lost to the queen. It did not matter whether West returned a club to declarer's A-J or yielded a ruff and discard by leading a heart, for in either case South was bound to win the rest of the tricks. Declarer thus made four on the nose.

However, South would have failed in his project had East risen to the occasion by playing his king on the club lead from dummy at trick ten. This would have violated the general principle of playing second hand low on defense, but it would also have made South's position untenable. Whatever he did next, declarer would eventually have to bend the knee, losing two club tricks.

In retrospect, is it easy to see that East should have gone up with the king. He was at a point in the play where he knew for a certainty that declarer had started the hand with five spades, two hearts and three diamonds — and hence precisely three clubs.

If South had the A-Q, he would make the contract and the king play would make no difference. But if South had his actual holding, the king play was absolutely and positively essential.

Corn planting still behind

WASHINGTON (AP) — The 1973 corn crop in the Corn Belt was 84 per cent planted by June 3, compared with 90 per cent on the date last year, says the Agriculture Department.

Normally on June 3, about 93 per cent of the Corn Belt crop is planted, the department said Tuesday in its weekly weather report.

Wet fields delayed farmers in the eastern part of the belt last week. Illinois was 80 per cent planted; Indiana, 75; and Ohio, 70.

In the western part of the Corn Belt, Iowa's crop was 90 per cent planted. Most of it was completed in Nebraska, Minnesota and South Dakota, the report said. Rainy weather, however, held back field work in Missouri, where 66 per cent of the corn was planted by June 3.

The corn crop in the South generally was 88 per cent planted. The Kentucky crop was only 60 per cent completed; Tennessee's, 70 per cent, the report said.

Soybean planting, put off by many farmers who wanted to get corn in the ground first, was 43 per cent completed in the Corn Belt by June 3, compared with 72 per cent by June 3 last year.

Negligence blamed as 7 youths escape

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Officials at the Franklin County Juvenile Detention Center said an escape Tuesday night by seven youths may have come as a result of staff negligence.

The youths, ranging in age from 14 to 17 removed padlocks from a wire mesh screen in one of several unoccupied sections of the center, tied bedsheets together and lowered themselves from a third floor window.

WANTS DELAY — Archibald Cox, special Watergate prosecutor, tells newsmen he has asked the Senate committee investigating the Watergate break-in to suspend its televised hearings for at least three months. The Senate committee voted not to suspend the hearings.

Sen. Griffin says Nixon should talk

DETROIT (AP) — Sen. Robert P. Griffin, R-Mich., said Tuesday it is "almost essential" that President Nixon appear before the Senate's Watergate investigation committee, The Detroit Free Press reported.

The story said the move makes Griffin the first GOP leader to call for presidential testimony. Griffin is minority whip.

"It's a matter of timing if he chooses to do it ... of course maybe four weeks from now the hearings will produce an entirely different situation," Griffin was quoted as saying in the story from Washington.

Striking Antioch students regroup, schedule rally

YELLOW SPRINGS, Ohio (AP)— Striking students at Antioch College planned to regroup today and make plans for the future of their strike against the liberal arts school, shut down for seven weeks in a student attempt to win financial aid guarantees.

Plans call for a rally at 1:30 p.m., in support of 20 students expelled for their participation in the strike and the seven faculty members fired for strike activities.

There was some picketing Tuesday by about 50 demonstrators who finally abandoned their efforts to disrupt the return to more or less normal campus activities.

Students returned to their classes on campus, although not in large numbers, and maintenance employes began cleaning up debris which had remained uncollected since they were laid off last week because of the strike.

An injunction was gained by four Antioch students against the strikers which forced them out of the administration building last week. The order does permit moving pickets.

Long-term plans were discussed Tuesday during a meeting of the National Publicity Committee—a student striker group. But a spokesman said these plans were for after the current quarter ends.

Strikers sought financial guarantees for students participating in the New Directions program, mainly minority group and low income students who normally would not be able to attend a private college like Antioch.

One-eighth of the students entering school last term were under this program. They were guaranteed one year of financial aid, to be renegotiated annually for five terms.

The strikers want the five years' aid guaranteed, not negotiated and the school has said this is impossible.

The dead man was identified as Harry Powell III, 25, of Lima. Robert McGill Jr., 24, also of Lima, was hospitalized in serious condition. Police said both had been shot in the chest.

Police said they were holding a third man in connection with the shootings, but declined to identify him.

Part-time lawyers urged for jails

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)— Cuyahoga County Common Pleas Court Judge George M. White says he will propose hiring part-time lawyers to aid county prisoners unable to secure their own lawyer immediately.

White paid a surprise visit to the county jail Tuesday and reported he found it cleaner than he expected. White said he also didn't feel the jail was overcrowded, although the population Tuesday was 522, far over the jail's listed capacity of 300.

The judge said one or two part-time lawyers are needed at the jail, however, to help inmates without lawyers. White said one man without a lawyer told him he had been held in jail for more than two months without being indicted.

Bloomingburg gets new principal; other teachers hired

County board endorses 'middle school' plan

A recommendation from the Miami Trace School Study Committee calling for the establishment of a middle school which would house two or three intermediate grades was termed "extremely significant" by members of the Fayette County Board of Education at their regular semi-monthly meeting held Tuesday night at New Holland Elementary School.

The board took care of a number of personnel matters, including naming a new principal at Bloomingburg, transferred 63 students from two elementary schools and offered supplemental contracts in addition to taking care of several other items on a heavy agenda.

Board members unanimously supported the school study committee's proposal that a school bond issue be placed on the November ballot for a new middle school to accommodate all students in grades 6, 7 and 8 or grades 7 and 8 as the board and administration deems necessary.

According to President Kenneth A. Payton, the board is expected to take formal action on the proposal at its next regular meeting.

THE BOARD employed Ronald Grottendick, of Wellston, as principal of Bloomingburg Elementary School, and also hired four other new teachers. Grottendick, who received his masters degree in educational administration from Xavier University, Cincinnati, has had 11 years of experience as a head teacher and will succeed Miss Joan Black at Bloomingburg.

Other teacher contracts approved included:

Miss Deborah Wright, of Canton, master degree in education from Tufts University, two years experience, elementary assignment;

Miss Deborah Burnett, of Circleville, bachelor degree in education from Wilmington College, one year experience, elementary assignment;

Miss Betsy Hamrick, of Circleville, bachelor degree in education from Ohio State University, no experience, high school home economics; and

Joseph Faris, of Hillsboro, bachelor degree in education from Miami University, 13 years of experience, junior high assignment.

The board approved the resignations of five teachers and granted leaves of absence to two others in addition to authorizing the retirements of a teacher and two non-certificated employes.

TEACHERS resigning were Mrs. Cynthia Shaltry, second trade teacher at Wayne School; Mrs. Shirley Bowen, special education teacher at Jasper School; Mrs. Kelly Doyle, an elementary teacher currently on leave; Mrs. Mariah Fullerton, second grade teacher at Jeffersonville, and Mrs. Celeste Armentrout, elementary music teacher.

Mrs. Carolyn Shoemaker, a Title I reading teacher at New Holland and Wayne, and Mrs. Jennifer Pellior, third grade teacher at Chaffin, were granted one-year leaves of absence.

The board approved the retirements of Mrs. Althea Case, music teacher at New Holland and Chaffin; John Snyder, a bus driver-custodian, and Mrs. Edith Knox, a cook at Jeffersonville.

The board offered supplemental contracts to eight persons for head teaching assignments and to 16 persons for additional duties.

Following the recommendation of Mrs. Phyrne Coil, lunchroom supervisor, the board employed six cooks. They are Mrs. Edna Brown, Bloomingburg; Mrs. Wilma Burnett, Olive; Mrs. Ludine Penrod, Wilson; Mrs. Mary Pinkerton, Wayne; Mrs. Linda Taylor, Staunton, and Mrs. Mary Welsh, Bloomingburg. Mrs. Coil also presented the annual lunch financial statement to the board.

TRANSFER of Staunton and Olive elementary students for the 1973-74 school year was approved by board members. Twenty-five Chaffin second graders will be moved to Staunton, 24 Staunton third graders will be transferred to Olive, and 24 more Staunton third graders will be switched to Chaffin.

The board, following a report from elementary supervisor Mrs. June Slaughter, made formal application for $89,228.92 in Title I funds and $26,412 in DPPF funds for the 1973-74 school year.

Along the same lines, the board designated Mrs. Slaughter as the authorized representative for the two projects, and extended the employment of Mrs. Nancy Chaney for summer secretarial work on daily salary schedule under the federal Title I project.

Board members approved the adoption of new seventh grade social studies textbooks presented by Mrs. Slaughter in addition to her report on a favorable Title I inspection. The board also authorized Mrs. Slaughter to attend the state supervisors meeting at Salt Fork Park June 7-9.

A REPORT on summer maintenance projects was presented by assistant superintendent Steve Yambor. He said the school district will not receive Neighborhood Youth Corps Workers this summer. After that report, the board approved the employment of Richard Doyle and Kevin Dunn for summer maintenance projects.

Yambor also was instructed to obtain cost estimates for clearing a termite problem at Jasper School and the board agreed to cooperate with the Milledgeville PTO in sharing the cost of retiling two rooms at the school. The cost was estimated at $500-$600.

A letter from Rev. Elmer Burrall, of the Fayette County Ministerial Association, concerning scheduling of school activities so that they do not interfere with church functions was read by Mrs. Martha Fleming, board clerk. The board agreed to cooperate with the church association and adopt a resolution pertaining to the scheduling.

IN OTHER MATTERS:

The board heard reports from Marion Waddle, who serves on the high school athletic association, and Payton, a member of the vocational school board;

Authorized a request from Mr. and Mrs. James Polk, of Washington C. H. who will be moving to the Miami Trace District in August, for their daughter to attend Washington Senior High School the first semester of the new school year;

Adopted a resolution of endorsement of the "Right to Read" effort;

Granted Fred Doyle, high school counselor, permission Counselors Workshop at the University of Akron July 29-Aug. 3; and Heard a report from Superintendent Guy M. Foster concerning bills that are being considered now by committees or by the state legislature.

DP&L man briefs Rotarians

The energy picture: short term crisis, long term challenge

"We're faced with a short term energy crisis and a long term challenge," Al Hill, an assistant planning engineer with the Dayton Power and Light Co., told members of the Washington C.H. Rotary Club at their noon luncheon Tuesday in the Country Club.

Hill, in speaking about the energy challenge and crisis, said one of the primary problems concerning the shortage of fuel arose 18 years ago when the federal government regulated the price of natural gas.

The price was set low, Hill said, and consequently companies did not look for new supplies since it was not profitable to them. As a result, there was little expansion in the natural gas industry.

The DP&L engineer pointed out that the regulated price of natural gas will have to be increased so that it will be more conducive for utility companies to locate more natural gas resources.

HE ALSO explained that utility companies are perhaps the biggest users of coal for energy, but that environmental problems have curtailed this route and they have been forced to resort to nuclear power plants.

Hill commented that the nuclear power possibilities are nearly unlimited, but that the safety factor must be improved due to the number of government regulations issued.

He cited the Stuart Station, located on the Ohio River, as an example of the strict government regulations.

The station, being constructed by DP&L in conjunction with Cincinnati Gas and Electric and Columbus and Southern Ohio Electric companies, has smokestacks 800 feet high and precipitators are used to remove 95 per cent of the pollutants before they are spread into the atmosphere.

Recently, Hill said, the companies were forced to invest $7 million for new equipment to take out only 2 per cent more of the pollutants in order to comply with Ohio's clean air standards.

IN OFFERING solutions for the energy crisis, Hill said technology must be increased so that fuel resources can be developed. And he also said the natural gas price must be more competitive.

Hill said that DP&L projects a reserve energy capacity of 21 per cent for the summer months and did not predict any power failures, barring a major plant loss, in the Washington C.H. service area.

President Fred L. Domenico conducted the business meeting and George Winkle was the program chairman.

Robert Mehl, of Greenfield, representing the district governor, presented a trophy to the Washington C.H. Rotary Club for having the best attendance at the district meeting held recently in Middletown.

Other visiting Rotarians were Art Dick and Dave Kohli, both of Mount Sterling.

Guests were David Finley, with his father, George Finley, and Phil Mosley, with Loren Brackney.

Bloomingburg to ask fire levy renewal

BLOOMINGBURG — Bloomingburg Council adopted an ordinance Tuesday that will place a renewal of the Fire Department operating levy on the fall ballot.

Voters will be asked to renew the 1.5-mill property tax.

The Ohio Liquor Control board notified the Council that the liquor licenses of Bolen's Market and Mike's Ashland Station will soon be up for renewal. Council may file objections if it wishes. The consensus of councilmen indicated no objections.

Semiannual salaries were paid to village officers in the following amounts: mayor, $180; fire chief, $180; clerk $300; councilmen, $60 each; volunteer firemen, $96 (total).

Storms hit eastern U.S.

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Thunderstorms crackled over much of the eastern half of the nation today, but most other sections enjoyed fair and pleasant weather.

Severe thunderstorms that hit the East on Tuesday died down considerably during the early hours today. Some heavy storms also drenched southeastern Texas early today.

The storms spawned two tornadoes in Texas and one in Walton County, Ga., east of Atlanta. No injuries were reported.

Up to four inches of rain and high winds lashed Atlanta late Tuesday. Winds of 60 miles per hour pounded Corpus Christi, Tex.

Corpus Christi was soaked by nearly 2.5 inches of rain; Syracuse, N.Y., had 1.5 inches; and Houston and Victoria, Tex., had more than an inch.

Cool temperatures spread out behind the storm system through the Mississippi Valley and Plains states. A few showers dampened the Pacific Northwest coast.

Anne's husband-to-be faces traffic charge

LONDON (AP) — Lt. Mark Phillips, engaged to Princess Anne, is being invited to appear at court. But not the royal one.

He will be summoned to go before a court of law for an alleged traffic offense, police said Tuesday.

They said the 24-year-old lieutenant will be prosecuted before a Salisbury County court on a later date. They said the alleged offense involved a traffic accident on April 7, a week before Phillips was secretly engaged to the 22-year-old daughter of Queen Elizabeth II.

Cyclist hurt in rural collision

A motorcyclist was injured in one of three traffic mishaps investigated in the city-county area Tuesday. One driver was cited for a traffic law violation.

Donald R. Bailey, 15, Rt. 1, was treated at Memorial Hospital for minor injuries after his motorcycle collided with the rear of a car on Greenfield-Sabina Road, just west of Stafford Road at 6:10 p.m.

Sheriff's deputies said a car driven by Alice M. Reed, 34, Rt. 3, Greenfield, had stopped for an animal in the road when the Bailey cycle collided with the rear of her auto.

Neither driver was cited.

Willie M. Rucker, 19, Cincinnati, was cited for starting without safety following a two car collision on I-71, three miles south of Jeffersonville Tuesday evening.

Officers reported Rucker pulled his car from the berm of the freeway into the path of a car driven by Lonzo N. Hardman, 23, of Chardon. There was extensive damage.

Police investigated a minor collision on Court Street, just east of Main Street at 3:07 p.m.

Officers said cars driven by William C. Allen Sr., 75, of 330 Hopkins St., and Hazel N. Gray, 45, Rt. 3, were both westbound when Allen changed lanes and collided with the right side of the Gray car. Damage was minor.

Faulty alarm systems result in fire runs

City firemen made runs to Washington Lumber Co., 319 Broadway St., and Redman Industries, 2000 Kenskill Ave., shortly before midnight Tuesday but both proved to be false alarms.

Firemen said a faulty alarm box had caused them to malfunction. There was no fire at either place.

Loss $419 in tool theft

Tools valued at $419 were stolen from a storage shed on a lot on Jonesboro Road sometime during the past two weeks, the Sheriff's Department reported.

Officers said the lot owned by W.J. Seidensticker, Reynoldsburg, was emcompassed by a high fence, but the gate was left open in the daytime. The shed where the tools were kept was unlocked.

Taken were a acetylene welding set, electric drill, a set of sockets and other tools.

Sheriff's deputies also investigated a failure-to-pay incident at the Union 76 Plaza, U.S. 35 and I-71 Tuesday morning. Employes told officers a customer had pulled to the pumps and ordered $4.50 worth of gas then drove away after the tank was filled.

John Edelblute, of 919 Millwood Ave., reported that sometime Tuesday afternoon the hood of his 1965 model car was damaged when someone walked on it. Police said footprints were also found on the top and rear deck of the auto. Damage to the hood was set at $25.

Prisoners' union meets officials

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Officials of the state Corrections Department and the Ohio Prisoners Labor Union met Tuesday for a formal presentation of the union's aims.

Ray Twohig, a Columbus lawyer and spokesman for the union, said the meeting he had with Bennett Cooper was a good one. He said it was agreed that it would be at least a month before any position on possible recognition of the union could be determined.

John Linta, a spokesman for the department, said there was no request made for recognition during the meeting. Linta also said there was no indication from Cooper as to whether he would favor such recognition.

TV Viewing

By JAY SHARBUTT
AP Television Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Jerry Lewis smiled with exaggerated unease when asked if he'd like to do another regular television variety show. "No," he said slowly. "I really wouldn't like to do that."

After a moment's reflection, he partly overruled himself: "If I could go back my way, sure I would. But you can't go back your way.

"They (network executives) would never let me go my way. They say they will, but then they stop you."

What would be the Lewis way?

"Visual," the 46-year-old comedian said. "The medium to be used for what it is." He said there would have to be a minimum of spoken material.

"You can get that on a recording," he said. "I call it visual hi-fi. You watch a variety show, and it's visual hi-fi."

Lewis was in town helping plan the national telethon he'll host next September to raise funds for muscular dystrophy research. He immediately proved that you shouldn't associate the man with his movie characters.

Unlike the rubber-faced clowns and well-meaning dimwits he portrays on film, Lewis in the flesh comes across as an articulate, well-read man with a surprising knowledge of both music and electronics.

Perhaps the most unexpected thing about him is that he rarely cracks a joke. He's deadly serious about life in general and the need for laughter in particular. He thinks the latter is slowly disappearing in America.

He blames the disappearance partly on grim times in which our "sense of humor has been filed down—right to the nerve end."

He also argues that our ability to laugh or get excited about anything has been dulled by the availability of some 20 hours of television each day in most parts of the United States.

"We're all pretty uptight. It's hard to laugh," Lewis said, proposing two remedies that would make the networks extremely uptight.

"The only way we're going to get the people back to that vital aspect of our existence—a sense of humor—is to turn that damned television set off or do what they do in France," he said.

"There, you've only got television from noon to 4 and then from 8 in the evening until 11. Then it goes black.

"Do that here and you've got a resurgence not only of a sense of humor, but of people caring for one another, of people communicating again with one another."

Ohio Penitentiary to get new boilers

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)— Ohio Public Works Director Roland Nesslinger said Tuesday a diesel boiler system replacing the state heating plant at the Ohio Penitentiary should be installed by January on top of the Ohio Transportation Building in downtown Columbus.

Nesslinger said fuel tanks for the new system are slated to arrive July 1, and the boilers are expected Aug. 1.

He said he expected the state Controlling Board to release funds for initial installation next Monday.

The total cost of the new system should be about $683,000, State Architect Carl E. Bentz said.

Sinking dollar may be devalued

By JOHN CUNNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — Incongruous as it may seem, the devaluation of the dollar appears to be viewed by some currency traders as evidence that it could be devalued again.

This, at any rate, is one of the explanations offered by puzzled monetary authorities, who feel the dollar is now realistically priced but who find their views contradicted by a falling market.

While most Americans might have only a vague feeling of insecurity because of the dollar's decline, those who travel to Europe this summer will encounter the specific consequences in the form of higher bills everywhere.

The oddity of why the value of American currency should continue to slide, relative to the currency of most of its trading partners, is reasoned this way by some bankers:

Unique among world currencies, the dollar held to its official value throughout the post-World War II period, and thus was widely desired for its stability.

This view continued to be held even when the United States developed a chronic imbalance in its international payments, traditionally viewed as evidence of an overpriced currency. The imbalance, it was hoped, would be corrected.

But then the dollar met the fate of other important currencies: it devalued, and it did so twice. This removed the assurance. No longer could you be certain of the dollar's value either.

Most international bankers now believe the devalued dollar is priced right or perhaps even less than its worth. But that is no longer a promise; the dollar is afloat, drifting with the currents.

In a strictly banking sense, the dollar isn't nearly so suspect as it is in the market place, where psychology—which involves fears and rumors as well as facts—holds sway.

Add to the fears held by many European and American businessmen, and bankers too, the feeling that the U.S. economy itself is adrift, despite continued assurances from Washington that things are getting better all the time.

And then, in addition to those worries, pile on the burden of Watergate, which is viewed by some Americans and Europeans as lessening the President's ability to negotiate trade agreements, work toward international monetary stability and control domestic inflation.

And while the dollar falls, the price of gold soars. Are the two prices like weights on an apothecary's balance? To an extent. When people fear paper currencies they traditionally seek gold or diamonds or some such.

Realty Board defends use of oral exams

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio Real Estate Commission used "discretionary authority" in administering oral license examinations for brokers and salesmen, commission members said Tuesday.

Members of OREC and other state officials testified before a committee hearing on current real estate practices. The five-member bipartisan committee was appointed by Gov. John Gilligan.

Gilligan named the panel following disclosures that former Republican Gov. James Rhodes and others were given oral and special tests before receiving real estate licenses. The normal exam is a six-hour written test.

Commissioner Paul Everson of Euclid told the panel the purpose of the state's licensing exam is to "surface knowledge" from the applicant. He said there is no difference between the written and oral exam.

Everson said the commission has no written guidelines on who qualifies for an oral exam. He said its decision is based on "discretionary authority" interpreted for them by assistant attorneys-general.

Everson said "special exams" differ only in the date of scheduling from the regular exam. He cited tests given to two handicapped applicants as special cases.

THE DAYTON POWER AND LIGHT COMPANY
NOTICE OF APPLICATION TO
THE PUBLIC UTILITIES COMMISSION OF OHIO
FOR AN INCREASE IN RATES
FOR NATURAL GAS SERVICE

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:

Pursuant to the requirements of Section 4909.19 of the Revised Code of Ohio, The Dayton Power and Light Company hereby gives notice that on March 9, 1973, it filed with The Public Utilities Commission of Ohio an application for authority to modify and increase its rates for natural gas service to all consumers.

Consumers in the Village of Ansonia and its environs are the only consumers of gas service in the Company's service area whose rates are fixed by ordinance. These Ordinance Rates are development rates under which the initial extension of gas service was made to this Village and the unincorporated area served by its distribution system. The ordinance fixing these rates expires on September 17, 1973, at which time the consumers subject thereto will be placed on the Company's applicable standard rates then in effect, either the existing or proposed standard rates, all of which are lower than the Ordinance Rates now in effect.

The substance of the modifications and increases proposed to be incorporated in the new rate sheets is as follows:

COST ADJUSTMENT CLAUSE

The cost of purchased gas, based on the Company's suppliers' rates effective in the month of December, 1972, is included in the base rates of the proposed rate sheets. The proposed cost adjustment clause is presented as a separate rate sheet, to which each proposed rate sheet is appropriately referenced, rather than being repeated, as applicable, in every rate sheet, which is the form of the rate sheets presently in effect. The proposed clause is designed to reflect increases or decreases in the Company's costs of purchased gas, including natural gas and all types of fuel used as a replacement for natural gas or in the production of a replacement for natural gas, and provides for separate calculations and applications of demand and commodity costs, the base rates for which are $0.2490 per CCF of peak day demand and $0.0382 per CCF of commodity, respectively. Added to the proposed clause is the following provision as to gross receipts taxes: "The net amount of the decrease or increase determined above shall be adjusted by the amount of any gross receipts taxes saved or payable by the Company with respect to the amount of the decrease or increase so determined". The proposed clause further provides that the report setting forth the computations upon which any decrease or increase is determined shall be submitted to The Public Utilities Commission of Ohio on or before the 10th day of the month prior to the month in which the change will be made effective, rather than the 25th day as contained in present rate sheets.

TAX ADJUSTMENT CLAUSE

A proposed tax adjustment clause has been added as a separate rate sheet, to which each proposed rate sheet is referenced, providing as follows: "The amount of any new or additional taxes levied after March 9, 1973 on the purchase, production, distribution or sale of gas, including natural gas and all types of fuel used as a replacement for natural gas or in the production of a replacement for natural gas, whether based upon CCF sale, revenue, income, the amount of the bill rendered or any other basis, or any changes in or enactments of after March 9, 1973 any Federal, state or local income tax laws or regulations thereunder, shall be added to the charges to be paid hereunder. In the event of a reduction or elimination of any such taxes, the charges shall be reduced accordingly."

Fayette County gets share of license revenue

The Ohio Bureau of Motor Vehicles has released more than $74 million in 1972 license plate revenues for distribution among the state's 88 counties, including $249,937 for Fayette County.

Registrar C. Donald Curry noted that this is the first of three such distributions, and represents only about 55 per cent of the total amount which the BMV will have turned over to local tax districts when August and December installments are completed. Curry explained that each county receives a share of the total plate revenues commensurate with the number of vehicles registered in the names of its residents. The counties then forward specified amounts to the separate taxing entities within their boundaries on the same basis.

"By the time this redistribution process is complete, 99 cents out of every dollar spent by a car owner for his license plates will have been returned to his home area, to help maintain the county and township roads he drives on," Curry said.

Amounts to be distributed to area counties include: Clinton, $271,249; Greene, $827,107; Highland, $231,896; Madison, $217,125; Pickaway, $277,962, and Ross, $365,452.

Employment discrimination suits increase

WASHINGTON (AP) — Armed with what its chairman calls "real teeth," the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission is expanding rapidly the number of discrimination suits it files.

Congress last year authorized the commission, formerly limited to investigation and conciliation, to sue employers if these methods fail.

In the last three months the commission has nearly tripled the number of suits it filed during the first year of its expanded powers.

"The enforcement powers that we received in March of 1972 have given the Equal Employment Opportunity Act, and particularly the commission, real teeth to use against employment discrimination,"said Chairman William H. Brown III.

Until the new law, the commission's jurisdiction was limited to employers of 25 persons or more.

Congress added city and state government to the jurisdiction and included employers of 15 or more.

Eighty-six discrimination suits have been filed in the past three months, out of a total of 116 filed across the country under the new law.

Targets include both large and small employers. In a suit still pending, Western Electric was accused of practicing racial discrimination at its Memphis plant and racial and sex discrimination at plants in Maryland and Massachusetts. Another suit has accused Vinnell-Dravo-Lockheed-Mannix with discrimination against Indians living on and near the reservation at Coulee Dam in Washington.

Ohio Perspective

Lucasville: prison with problems

By KEN DAVIS
Associated Press Writer

LUCASVILLE, Ohio (AP) — If bars do not a prison make then neither do $32.5 million, as the state of Ohio has found out at its huge new Southern Ohio Correctional Facility.

Ten months after the first of the present 954 inmates arrived from old Ohio Penitentiary in Columbus, the Lucasville institution still has not been completely accepted by the state.

The four factories inside the wire either are idle or limping along with temporary electric hookups.

There have been kitchen problems, power plant problems, heating and roofing problems, staffing problems, guard strikes, labor strikes, bed problems, hospital problems, inmate problems.

"You name it, we've had it," said Supt. Wilfred J. Whealon, speaking with noteworthy patience and good humor, even after news reports had him being replaced.

A late headache was a court suit seeking to bar further transfer of prisoners to Lucasville on the grounds of inadequate health facilities. That sprang from the death of a prisoner amid outcries that he had not been given adequate medical attention. U.S. District Court at Cincinnati turned down the request.

"We'll probably begin transferring prisoners again sometime this week" said Whealon.

The prison population now is 954, about 560 short of maximum. Staff, including guards, clerks and professionals, numbers about 500, or about 80 per cent of the anticipated total.

Factory work is minimal. The print shop awaits an air conditioner for its darkroom. The shoe factory has to hook up its machines and awaits electric switching gears. The machine shop is producing only dogtags and some wire baskets. The steel fabricating shop awaits an oven and five additional machines which are expected within 60 days, a spokesman for the Department of Rehabilitation and Corrections said in Columbus.

The spokesman said, "The prison is 99 point 9 per cent completed. We've just minor things to clear up."

Meantime, Silverblat, the prime contractor, is reported seeking release of the 4 per cent of the total price withheld by the state, and sub-contractors are reported clamoring for release of the 10 per cent Silverblat reportedly withheld from them.

Highland jury to consider murder charge

HILLSBORO — A special session of the Highland County grand jury has been called for Friday to consider the case of Edison W. Lowery, 38, of Waverly, charged with first degree murder.

Lowery is charged with the shooting death of another Pike Countian, Uriah Lands, 40, of Stockdale. The shooting occurred at the Green Roof Motel in Hillsboro May 15. The wife of the suspect, Barbara Lowery, 38, of Waverly, apparently was at the scene at the time of the shooting and will be a prime witness in the case.

JOHN POWELL

Former Lion coach takes Florida job

ORLANDO, Fla. — John A. Powell, former head basketball coach at Washington C. H., has been named athletic director at Florida Technological University, Orlando, Fla.

Powell, a 1954 product of Franklin High School and a 1958 graduate of Miami University, has a professional background that began as freshman basketball coach at Miami University and coaching stints at Springboro and Washington C. H. before moving to Florida, nearly 10 years ago.

HE COACHED basketball at Washington C. H. for two seasons, 1962-63 and 1963-64, and guided the Blue Lion teams to a 10-23 all-games record.

Powell, who lettered in basketball, football and baseball each of his years at Franklin, went on to captain Miami's basketball squad two years, when he was an All-Mid-American Conference choice and capped his playing days in tryouts with the Cincinnati Royals.

Reds win third straight

Cincy nips Mets on Bench's homer

CINCINNATI (AP) — Sparky Anderson, who has been saying the only thing Cincinnati's Big Red Machine needs is a little spark, thinks the Reds got it Tuesday night.

"That's the one we've been waiting for," said Anderson.

"That will be the big hit: the one that turns us around," he said after Johnny Bench's noneout 10th-inning home run which gave the Reds a 6-5 win over the New York Mets.

Bench's 12th homer of the season came after the Mets had scored three runs to break a 2-2 tie in the top of the 10th.

"It could very well do it for us," agreed Bench.

It prevented the Reds from falling six games behind San Francisco and came in a game delayed by rain three times for a total of an hour and 45 minutes.

The home run was Bench's only hit of the night and produced the Reds' first extra-innings win in four attempts.

Bench said he was confident he would get a chance to bat in the 10th, though he was the fourth batter.

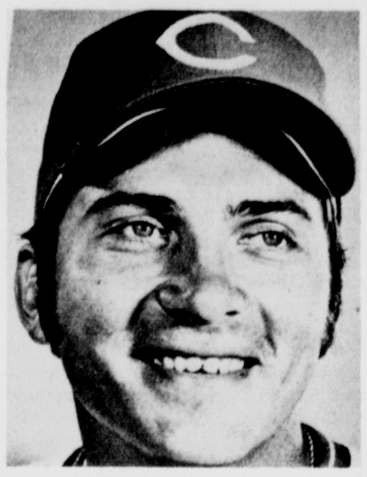

"I just felt sure I'd hit. It was a long night and I felt almost like I was ready to get it over with. But no one quit."

The Reds faced Mets' ace reliever Tug McGraw, who has had an earned run average of 1.70 the last two seasons.

"We just went after him," said Bench, whose three runs batted in thrust him into a tie with Los Angeles' Joe Ferguson for the National League lead with 43.

McGraw, troubled by wildness most of the year, walked pinchhitter Richie Scheinblum to start the inning and followed with a single to Pete Rose, his third hit of the night.

A wild pitch scored Scheinblum and, after Joe Morgan walked, Hennigan was summoned to face Bench. His second pitch was slammed over the left center field fence.

JOHNNY BENCH

"I wondered if the ball would stay up long enough to get out," said Bench. "I tried to watch it, but lost it in the lights and started running hard. I thought it might hit the fence."

The loss ended a disastrous road trip for the injury-riddled Mets, who have dropped 11 of 14 games, including three of 12 on this trip.

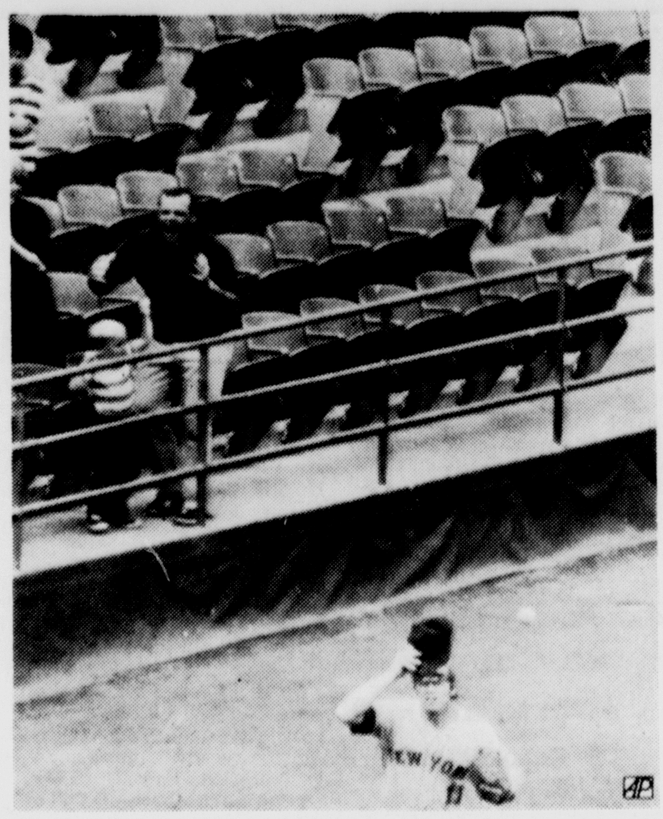

Don Gullett, 6-3, picked up the win in relief and Hennigan, 0-3, took the defeat.

Orioles spoil Wilbur's bid

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The question in the American League suddenly is not whether Wilbur Wood will win 30 games or even 40 but rather when will he win No. 14?

Wilbur Wonderful's knuckleball failed him again Tuesday night as the Baltimore Orioles rallied for four runs in the eighth inning to defeat the Chicago White Sox 7-4 and hand Wood his second loss in a row since he notched both his 12th and 13th victories on May 28.

Elsewhere in the American League, the Detroit Tigers downed the California Angels 5-2, the New York Yankees outslugged the Texas Rangers 8-6, the Boston Red Sox trounced the Kansas City Royals 9-2 and the Milwaukee Brewers edged the Oakland A's 5-4. Minnesota and Cleveland were rained out with the Twins leading 4-0 in the third inning, washing out home runs by Harmon Killebrew and Rod Carew.

Wood's pitching actually was more impressive than the seven runs he surrendered. He yielded a ground single to Bobby Grich in the first inning and then retired the Orioles in order until Brooks Robinson and Paul Blair hit ground singles with two out in the fifth.

Boog Powell followed with a towering fly right at the right field foul pole for his second home run of the season and first since April 27, wiping out a 2-0 Chicago lead on Dick Allen's 13th homer.

Eddie Brinkman drove in two runs with a homer and double and reliever John Hiller posted his 11th save of the season in the Tigers' victory over the Angels.

Hiller bailed winner Jim Perry out of a bases-loaded, twoout situation in the sixth when he fanned pinch hitter Winston Llenas on three pitches. He then stopped the Angels on one hit the rest of the way as the Tigers maintained their 1½game lead over New York in the AL East.

Jim Ray Hart smashed a three-run homer, Roy White clubbed a two-run shot and Ron Blomberg drove in three runs with a single and double in the Yankees' victory over the Rangers. The Yanks took advantage of an error by second baseman Dave Nelson to score five unearned runs off Sonny Siebert in the sixth, including a two-run single by Blomberg and Hart's homer.

Carlton Fisk drove in four runs for the second game in a row with a homer and double, powering the Red Sox over the Royals behind Marty Pattin's seven-hit pitching.

Don Money greeted reliever Rollie Fingers with a leadoff home run in the ninth inning, snapping a tie and boosting the surprising Brewers over the A's. Money cracked a 2-0 pitch from Fingers over the left field fence for his fourth home run of the season, stretching the Brewers' winning streak to five games—three over the White Sox and two over the world champion A's.

Challenge Stakes attracts classy eight-horse field

COLUMBUS — The Howard Beissinger stable entry of Quick Work and The Gipper rate a slight nod as the early morning line choice in the $12,500 Challenge Stakes four-year-old trot Thursday night at Scioto Downs.

The second in a series of six Challenge Stakes events at Scioto Downs attracted eight entries including Aflame Hanover, Ickawowie, Majestic Cliff, Snippy Dawn and the great Klaus.

Quick Work, a blazing bay son of Speedster, took his record in a race at Scioto Downs a year ago in 2:03.1 under the expert hand of veteran Curly Smart, before being syndicated for $100,000. The syndicate, headed by Pennsylvania breeder Alan Leavitt, turned the colt over to Beissinger who guided Quick Work to a time trial record of 2:00 over Lexington's famed Red Mile.

THURSDAY'S engagement is the first start of the 1973 season for Quick Work. The Gipper, a promising son of Star's Pride, was a bit of a disappointment last year, but has sparkled in early workouts this year.

Ickawowie, the slick son of Lumber Boy, may have a tongue-twisting name, but the huge four-year-old can trot fast and straight. Owned by Barbara Drensky, of Brecksville, Ickawowie offers driver Greg Wright the chance to score his second straight stakes triumph at Scioto Downs. Wright guided J.R. Skipper to a smashing win in the May 24 Challenge Stakes three-year-old pace in 1:59.1.

Ickawowie comes into Scioto Downs fresh from a decisive victory in 2:04 at Woverine Raceway in Detroit last Friday night.

Lou Huber is scheduled his 1973 Scioto Downs debut Thursday night behind the powerful Klaus, owned by R.D. Ricketts, of Houston, Tex. The winner of 11 of 27 starts last year, the bay son of Florlis earned his record of 2:02.4, but in his only 73 starts.

The veteran Bob Seabrook has an outstanding entry in Aflame Hanover, a bay daughter of Hickory Smoke, owned by Joel Black, of Mansfield. Aflame Hanover posted a half-mile track mark of 2:07 last year at the Ohio State Fair, and won last week in 2:09.

Dick Taylor has Majestic Cliff in for his first Scioto appearance. Majestic Cliff won 14 of 21 starts last year, but is winless in three starts this season against some pretty stiff competition.

Dick Williams with Snippy Dawn and Ed Novak with Tom Circo, round out the classy eight-horse field.

Willis, B'burg open campaigns with wins

Willis Insurance and Bloomingburg opened the 1973 Fayette County Babe Ruth League baseball campaign with victories Tuesday night.

The Willis team topped the defending champion Girtons 7-5 in action at Roszmann Field, while Bloomingburg downed Sabina in a 12-10 struggle.

Girtons roughed up Willis pitcher David Van Dyke for two runs in the opening frame, but Van Dyke settled down after the shaky start and scattered six hits while fanning a total of 13 Girton batters.

Van Dyke received plenty of firepower as the Willis players provided a 10-hit offensive attack. Gary English and Bob Wilson unloaded doubles, while David Stackhouse had four hits in four trips to the plate and chased home four runs.

JACK JAMES, one of two Girton pitchers, drove home two runs with a bases-loaded single. Ted Mercer absorbed the setback for the Girtons, surrendering seven runs and all 10 hits.

After giving up six runs in the bottom of the first inning, Bloomingburg scored 12 runs in the final four innings to down the determined Sabina bunch.

Sabina got to Bloomingburg starter Carl Riley for the six runs in the opening frame, however, Riley stiffened and hurled four scoreless innings. Tom Ingersol, who relieved Riley in the fifth inning, yielded four runs, all in the sixth inning, but picked up the win.

Bloomingburg's 11-hit attack was sparked by Allen Anschutz, Ken Darling and Riley with two hits apiece. Allen Conner, who doubled, Darling and Jim McCoy had two runs-batted-in each.

Boggs had a double and triple for Sabina and Smith, who was tagged with the pitching defeat, also tripled.

Sham ready to challenge Secretariat

NEW YORK (AP) — Trainer Pancho Martin gave Sham his final workout Tuesday and pronounced the colt "in perfect condition" for Saturday's Belmont Stakes—and another confrontation with Secretariat.

Sham was beaten by Secretariat by 2½ lengths in both the Kentucky Derby and Preakness, but Martin is not ready to concede the third jewel in the Triple Crown.

"I throw out the Derby and the Preakness," said Martin. "Sham had trouble both times. Only if Secretariat beats him in the 1½-mile Belmont will I say yes, Secretariat is the best and maybe great.

"But I hold off till Saturday."

If Secretariat does win the 105th running of the Belmont, he'll become the first Triple Crown winner since Citation in 1948. If Sham should come in second, he'll become the first horse ever to finish second in each of the three races.

Four horses are expected to try and foil Secretariat's Triple Crown bid. Joining Sham in the effort will be My Gallant, Pvt. Smiles and Twice A Prince.

Arapaho paces to win in Scioto feature

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Arapaho crossed the wire a head in front of Action to win the eighth race featured pace at Scioto Downs Tuesday night.

Arapaho ran the mile in 2:03 1-5 and paid $3.40, $2.40 and $2.20. Action paid $3 and $2.60. Nubby Creed showed and paid $3.40.

Egerton Miss and Tuesday's Child combined for a daily double of 2-8 and paid $131.20.

A crowd of 6,689 wagered $338,449.

LEBANON, Ohio (AP) — Prince Lobell, at 2-1, and Gay Swinger, 3-1, are the favorites in tonight's $900 condition pace at Lebanon Raceway.

Jimmys Blaze won Tuesday's $1,000 claiming handicap pace over one mile in 2:06 4-5. He returned $8.80, $3.20 and $2.80.

Brite Reaction wins River Downs feature

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP)— Brite Reaxtion won the $2,600 six furlongs feature race at River Downs Tuesay in 1:11.

His three-quarter length win paid $5.20, $3.80 and $2.40.

Mike's Pal placed to pay $4.40 and $2.60. Rockysocky showed at $3.40.

Cincy's second draft pick signs contract

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — The Cincinnati Reds announced the signing Tuesday night of their No. 2 pick in the free agent draft.

Larry Jensen, an 18-year-old pitcher from Toole, Utah, who has thrown back-to-back no-hitters in the last five days, was the Reds' first signee.

Jensen, with an 0.82 earned run average and an 11-2 record, has also fired a one-hitter and three two-hitters in his prep career.

The Reds first choice in the regular phase was outfielder Brad Kessler, 17, of Claremont, Calif.

A total of 35 selections were made by Cincinnati and 20 were pitchers.

Gary Lucas, 19, of Riverside, Calif., was the only player selected by the Reds in the secondary draft. He had been picked by the Reds in January's draft, but didn't sign.

The Reds' top five choices were Kessler, Jensen, Wallace Williams, 18, catcher, Merritt Island, Fla.; Pat Garvey, 18, pitcher Ashtabula, Ohio and Marlon Styles, 18, catcher, Cincinnati.

Davis shines as Dodgers pop Cubs

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Who's on first? Willie Davis. As a matter of fact, he's on second, third and home, too.

The "old man" of the Los Angeles Dodgers is getting around these days.

"I'm really excited about our chances," said the Dodgers' most exciting player after belting a triple, double and two singles in a 10-1 rout of the Chicago Cubs Tuesday.

Davis' 4-for-5 performance, which included three runs scored and one RBI, boosted his batting average to .292. Not bad for a guy going on 34.

The Dodgers' victory kept them within three games of San Francisco in the NL West after the Giants beat the Pittsburgh Pirates 3-2.

In the other National league games, the Montreal Expos nipped the Atlanta Braves 7-6 in 11 innings; the Cincinnati Reds stopped the New York Mets 6-5 in 10; the Philadelphia Phillies turned back the Houston Astros 4-0 and the St. Louis Cardinals trimmed the San Diego Padres 5-3.

Ron Fairly belted a two-out home run in the 11th inning, powering Montreal past Atlanta. Fairly's shot over the right field fence, his eighth of the year, made a winner out of Mike Marshall.

Johnny Bench capped a four-run rally in the last of the 10th inning, carrying Cincinnati over New York. The rally wiped out a three-run uprising by the Mets in the top of the inning.

Ed Gooson cracked a runscoring double in the seventh that powered Ron Bryant and San Francisco over Pittsburgh.

FAMILY AFFAIR — Former National Hockey League star Gordie Howe, right, helps son, Marty, 19, up, as the rest of the family, left to right, Mark, 18; Colleen, Murry and Cathy look on. The Howe family was in Houston to start negotiations with the Houston Aeros of the World Hockey Association that could lead to Howe and his sons, Mark and Marty, playing for the Aeros next season.

Nicklaus, Weiskopf meet in Philadelphia classic

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The tournament preceding the United States Open often gets short shrift from the great names of professional golf, but the $150,000 IVB Philadelphia Classic offers a nead-to-head confrontation between Jack Nicklaus and streaking Tom Weiskopf.

The 72-hole test—the last regular event before next week's national championship at Oakmont, Pa.—begins Thursday on the 6,708-yard par 72 Whitemarsh Country Club course.

Nicklaus, the season's leading money winner, 1972 Player of the Year, defending champion in the National Open, and winner of three of his last four starts, is making a break with tradition in appearing in this tournament.

"I think Whitemarsh will be good practice for Oakmont."

While Jack, easily the outstanding player in the game today, may be looking for practice, Weiskopf may be looking for something entirely different.

"I'll worry about the Open next week," he said. "Right now I'm just interested in this one."

The tall, hard-hitting Weiskopf has won two of his last three starts, including last week's Kemper Open at Charlotte, N.C. He's won $87,100 in that period.

But there's a catch. The only one he lost—when he played well enough to win any previous Atlanta Classic—Nicklaus beat him. In the two he won, Nicklaus wasn't playing.

Two no-hitters spun in minors

A pair of no-hit pitching performances were turned in Tuesday night in Little League Minor action at Armbrust Field.

Bumgarner Real Estate, behind the no-hit pitching job of Anderson, scored a lopsided 22-2 win over the County Bankers in the opener, while McKinney held First Federal hitless in the Elks one-sided 20-4 win.

Anderson, who fanned 10 batters in the no-hit effort, helped his own cause with a home run while Seymore and Crider doubled for Bumgarner. The County Bankers used four pitchers in an attempt to quiet the Bumgarner bats. Cockerill started and was followed by Clay, Huysman and Carl.

Tubbs cracked a home run and two doubles and Oesterle had a pair of triples for the Elks in support of McKinney's no-hitter. Brown and Ruth pitched for First Federal.

Good Hope chalks 2nd straight win

BLOOMINGBURG — Good Hope's Mosquito League baseball team won its second game in as many starts Tuesday night with an 18-3 win over Bloomingburg.

Roman Linton and Jimmy Perrill combined for a three-hit pitching job for the Good Hope team and Randy Boyer sparked an eight-hit attack with a bases-loaded triple. Eric English and Linton had two hits apiece. Ryan, Mullins, Russell, Massie and Tackett pitched for Bloomingburg.

Bengals exchange Buie for draft pick

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP)— The Cincinnati Bengals, who figure they have an abundance of receivers, traded little-used Drew Buie Tuesday.

The Catawaba College product went to the New Orleans Saints for a "not very high" draft choice.

Buie was signed by the Oakland Raiders in 1969 and played three seasons there.

Cincinnati's top three draft choices this year were receivers.

Bellino grabs lead in Ohio Seniors golf

MANSFIELD, Ohio (AP) — The leader going into today's final round of the 33rd annual Ohio Seniors Golf Tournament was Frank Bellino, 58, of Youngstown.

Two county shooters win 4th place honor

Alan Yeoman and Robert Russell, auxiliary deputies with the Fayette County Sheriff's Department, won a fourth place team trophy at the Columbus Police Academy's annual combat pistol match.

Yeoman and Russell, who competed with over 200 other shooters, will be representing Fayette County in other combat pistol matches throughout the state this summer.

Two weeks ago, Russell placed third in the Springfield FOPA match.

Board of Health seeks more funds

The Fayette County Board of Health, meeting Tuesday, voted to request the Board of County Commissioners to place a two-tenths mill tax levy on the November ballot for Health Department services.

Dr. William E. Covert, health commissioner, said the proposed five-year levy would produce an additional $20,000 per year.

The board's action was recommended by the Fayette County Health Advisory Council earlier this year. At that time, Dr. Covert reported that changes in the personal property tax laws had caused an erosion of monies for operation of the Health Department. He said additional money will be needed in 1974 to maintain the current public health program.

The proposed tax levy will be in addition to the current two-tenths mill levy which was passed in 1971 for five years.

IN OTHER action Tuesday, the board discussed a routine survey of schools made by Charles Funk, sanitarian, and adopted a new complaint form.

It was reported that the Ohio Environmental Protection Agency had inspected the county's landfill during the past week but had made no report.

The board reviewed the Jeffrey Estates No. 1 and No. 2 subdivisions and will begin issuing sewage permits for these areas. The subdivisions are located north of Washington C.H.

Dr. Covert reported that he will be begin working five days a week in the health field. He will be in Chillicothe and Ross County three days a week, and will spend one day a week in Fayette County and in Pike County.

Gilligan raps White House on fuel crisis

STATELINE, Nev. (AP)— There may be a "full-blown energy crisis," but Ohio Gov. John Gilligan said Tuesday that he found it hard to believe that it could happen without prior warning from the federal government and oil firms.

The Democratic chief executive, speaking during a discussion of the energy situation at the National Governors Conference, blasted the Nixon administration for failing to take some action to avoid such a crisis.

"There has been no warning whatever from the national administration over the past few years that such a crisis was impending," Gilligan said. "And no really meaningful proposals, plans or programs" have come from the federal government on how to deal with the crisis.

"Instead," he said, "The President and his people have simply announced that such a crisis exists and advised the governors and others to do something about it."

Gilligan said the governors attending the meeting could do little more than complain about energy shortages in their home states.

Gilligan said he could not understand how the "most highly developed technological nation in the world could have been confronted in the past few months" with such a situation.

The governor also announced that he would submit a report Wednesday from the Urban and Rural Development Committee of the conference which he chairs.

That report, he said, will deal with a survey taken among the 50 governors on revenue sharing and its effectiveness in meeting the needs of states in handling urban and rural problems.

Senate considering farm support

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate begins voting today on a new five-year farm program which sponsors say will protect growers against economic failure while guaranteeing consumers would benefit from falling prices.

Senate leaders hope to pass the complex legislation by the end of this week. But numerous amendments are to be offered before the final vote.

The bill, drafted by Democrats and farm-state Republicans on the Senate Agriculture Committee, would put into effect a new approach to farm-income support based on target prices for the major crops.

The target prices for wheat, feed grains and cotton are fixed close to the present high market prices.

If prices were at the target level at the start of the program in 1974, there would be no income payments to farmers.

But if prices fall, and some experts predict this will happen because of big crops expected this year, the farmers would receive subsidies to make up the difference between the price and the target.

Sponsors emphasize that consumers would get the benefit of such price decreases. This was not the case under some previous programs which were designed to bolster commodity prices.

However, under the new plans, consumers' tax dollars would have to contribute to the subsidies.

Administration officials have criticized the Senate committee's plan as extremely expensive and as aimed in the opposite direction of President Nixon's recommendations.

Trash removal poses New Holland problem

NEW HOLLAND — The village dump in New Holland will be covered as soon as arrangements can be made for bulldozing equipment.

The closing of the dump and the prospects for alternative means of trash removal were the focus of discussion at the New Holland Council meeting this week.

The most workable alternatives seem to be finding a contractor from a nearby community to collect and haul the trash out of the village, or locating a local landfill which could be used.

As yet, the council has not been in contact with any contractors, and the outlook of finding a landfill is not very promising, it was said.

It was announced at the meeting that a federal loan will be available to help finance the village sewer system, and the Council has resolved to proceed in the matter.

Council discussed the purchase of a portable generator for the Fire Department without reaching a decision, and decided to purchase lumber for the repair of the bleachers in the park.

Hamulak, Mrs. McCullough file for Council

Chester F. Hamulak, of 1028 Center St., and Mrs. Bertha McCullough, wife of Archie McCullough, 431 Circle Ave., have filed petitions with the Board of Elections as candidates for City Council seats.

The two long-time residents of Washington C.H. disagree on the matter of pay raises for councilmen. Hamulak believes that compensation for Council should be kept at a minimum, thereby restricting the candidates to "dedicated" individuals.

Mrs. McCullough, who took out her petition prior to the suggestion of a pay raise, feels that in the long run the higher salaries would encourage highly professional persons to make the time to serve on Council. She says that doing a good job for the Council requires time and expense for which there should be adequate compensation.

Mrs. McCullough, who is a service representative for Ohio Bell, does not feel that being a woman will hamper her in the election.

"Women do have a different viewpoint," she said, but she thinks that it can be a complement to the men's views.

Hamulak, who works for Industrial Nucleonics, Columbus, says that he has attended most of the Council meetings for many years, and has offered his time and service to the Council in the past. He says that he was instrumental in promoting the city's ordinance against flog desecration and gathered for Council a survey of residents-opinions concerning their preference for an income or property tax.

Making his second bid for council, Hamulak is a member of the Burnett Ducey Post, VFW, Paul H. Hughey Post, American Legion, and the Church of Christ in Christian Union.

Through negotiation rather than subpoena

Nixon-Dean logs sought

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Watergate committee counsel said today he will seek through negotiations, rather than subpoena, to obtain logs of conversations between President Nixon and the ousted John W. Dean III.

Dean was Nixon's White House counsel.

Samuel Dash, the committee counsel, said if the White House material is relevant evidence "we certainly will be seeking it." He denied that he said Tuesday a subpoena would be issued soon.

But newsmen who questioned him after the Tuesday committee session confirmed that he had made that comment.

At today's televised hearing, Dash maintained he had said nothing about a subpoena. He also said he had issued a correcting statement, saying that he would be discussing the question of access to the logs with Leonard Garment, now White House counsel.

The White House maintains that presidential papers are not subject to subpoena.

Dash said "we have received complete cooperation" from the White House in the effort to obtain the Dean logs.

A White House spokesman has said the question of access to the logs, or to information in them, is under review by Garment.

Sen. Howard Baker, R-Tenn., the committee's vice chairman, told newsmen the committee will request the material from the White House.

Baker said the committee would issue a subpoena should that become necessary.

The White House said Monday that the logs would not be made available. But Tuesday, press spokesman Gerald Warren said he had erred in making that statement and that the question of access to the logs is under study.

Special Watergate prosecutor Archibald W. Cox had said Monday, "I shall insist on access to everything." Cox and the Senate committee are already at odds over whether the Senate panel should have continued its public televised hearings into the scandal.

They may now be in a further fight over the presidential logs.

Samuel Dash, counsel to the Senate committee, said the Nixon-Dean logs would be the subject of a subpoena by today.

He said the subpoena would be delivered to White House Counsel Leonard Garment.

Warren said the White House considers the logs as presidential papers and thus not subject to subpoena because this would be "constitutionally inappropriate." But he suggested they might be made available voluntarily or perhaps in some extracted form.

Warren said the question of the logs would be reviewed by the White House and Cox's staff.

If the final White House decision is to refuse any access, then the committee and Cox would have to decide what sort of legal fight, if any, to wage in order to get at the logs.

Such a struggle could hinge on constitutional issues including separation of powers and executive privilege.

Dean was quoted in a number of news accounts earlier this week as saying he had met with Nixon perhaps 30 to 40 times this year and that the Watergate developments had been discussed.

Sloan says he foresaw scandal

WASHINGTON (AP) — Former campaign treasurer Hugh W. Sloan Jr. testified today he tried to warn the White House shortly after the Watergate burglary that the affair posed "a tremendous problem" for President Nixon's political organization, but got nowhere.

Sloan also testified before the Senate Watergate committee that he told government prosecutors and a federal grand jury last July that another Nixon campaign official had said he might have to perjure himself in the case.

He said Jeb Stuart Magruder, the deputy campaign director, had asked him several days after the Watergate break-in to conceal the actual sum of $199,000 cash that the committee had paid G. Gordon Liddy.

Sloan said Magruder first asked him to say the amount was perhaps $80,000, and later cut the amount back to $45,000. The money had been paid to Liddy in early 1972, apparently for political espionage. Liddy has been convicted in the Watergate break-in.

Sloan said when he raised Watergate concerns at the White House, one Nixon aide told him the President had to be protected, and another said he didn't want to know of any links between the campaign and the burglary.

On the witness stand, the slender, youthful Sloan etched in details of the account he provided in advance to the committee staff.

After the June 17, 1972, wiretapping raid at Democratic headquarters, Sloan said, he became increasingly concerned that money he was instructed to give Liddy might have been used in the Watergate operation.

Sloan told the televised hearings that after the break-in, he sought out three White House aides at a cocktail party, and expressed concern that "there was something very definitely wrong at the campaign committee."

Six days after the break-in, Sloan said, he met at the White House with Dwight Chapin, then Nixon's appointments secretary, and later with John D. Ehrlichman, domestic affairs adviser to the President. Both have since resigned.

He said the tone of his conversation with Chapin was "that there is a tremendous problem there, something has to be done."

He said Chapin suggested Sloan was overwrought and should take a vacation. He said Chapin also "suggested that the important thing is that the President be protected."

Sloan said he had a similar talk with Ehrlichman. "I was just saying that somebody external to the campaign has to look at this," because he feared involvement, he said.

He said Ehrlichman indicated the White House would help him personally but he quoted the former Nixon aide as saying, "Don't tell me any of the details, I don't want to know, my position would have to be until after the election that I would have to take executive privilege."

Mandatory allocation plan OKd

Ration fuel, says Senate

WASHINGTON (AP) — Spurred by reported fuel shortages, the Senate has passed legislation requiring President Nixon to develop a mandatory national fuel-allocation formula.

By an 85-10 vote Tuesday, the Senate adopted Sen. Henry M. Jackson's proposal and rejected the administration's voluntary guidelines for oil and gas distributors.

The bill is the first major energy-crisis legislation to pass the Senate.

Jackson, D-Wash., said the vote "represents a new mood of urgency in the Congress that recognizes that there are critical shortages."

The bill was fought by the Nixon administration, but even many conservatives and consistent White House supporters deserted party ranks.

The measure is designed to ensure that all parts of the country and all groups of consumers receive fair shares of available fuel products. It also aims to prevent major oil companies from shutting off all fuel supplies to independent refiners and distributors.

The administration has issued guidelines following the same principles, but chose to leave them on a voluntary basis.

Sen. William Saxbe, R-Ohio, said he doubts the effectiveness of even a mandatory allocation formula. Congress itself may "have to establish priorities," he said.

That could mean determining who gets fuel—the Air Force or private planeowners, commercial barge captains or pleasure boaters, farmers or commuters.

Meanwhile, Jackson said he hopes the House will act on the bill before the August recess.

Other energy measures pending before Congress would create a national fuel reserve, accelerate energy research, tax car horsepower, lower highway speed limits, and speed up pipeline construction.

In a related development Tuesday, the American Automobile Association said its survey of 1,439 gasoline stations showed that the Southeast and Northwest have the tightest fuel supplies. The AAA reported after the first of a series of weekly polls of stations along major U.S. travel routes.

Jackson said major fuel companies such as Sunoco, Exxon and Gulf are abandoning some regional markets in what appears to be a move to eliminate price-cutting competition. And major-oil-company earnings were up some 37 per cent in the first quarter of this year, he said.

Nixon moves to rebuild

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon announced three moves today in a major rebuilding of his Watergate-shaken White House staff.

Army Gen. Alexander M. Haig Jr., will retire from active duty and continue as chief of the White House staff, a post he has held on an interim basis.

Former Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird was appointed counselor to the President for domestic affairs and, in that Cabinet-rank post, will in effect succeed John D. Ehrlichman who resigned April 30 along with the former staff chief H. R. Haldeman.

Ronald L. Ziegler, while remaining as press secretary, will be given the added title of assistant to the President and given a role in White House policy making.

Haig's retirement from the Army will take effect Aug. 1, at which time he will be appointed assistant to the President. A former deputy to foreign policy expert Henry A. Kissinger, Haig had been recalled to the White House from his post as Army vice chief of staff following Haldeman's resignation.

Today's announcement said Haig will be responsible for "coordination and supervision of the day-to-day operations and responsibilities of the White House staff."

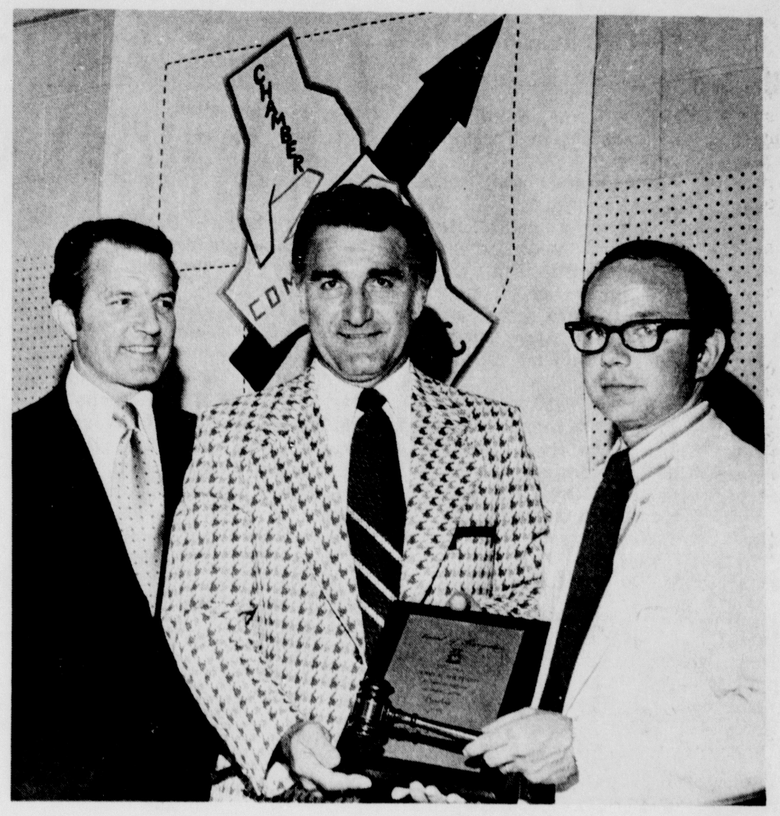

Laird, a former U.S. House member from Wisconsin, "will be responsible for the over-all formulation and coordination of domestic policy," said the White House. He will be given a seat on the National Security Council.

The announcement said Ziegler, with the resignation of Herbert G. Klein as director of communications, will assume responsibility for the communications office as well as the press office. It said:

"As assistant to the President, he will be involved in policy meetings both with the President and other senior staff members, and also will retain his briefing responsibilities and daily contact with members of the press."

It had been known for some time that the 55-year-old Klein, former editor of the San Diego Union, wanted to get back into the news business after his one political venture.

Klein will officially leave the White House on July 1.

NEW YEAR BEGINS — Fred L. Domenico, center, became the 30th president of the Washington C.H. Area Chamber of Commerce at the annual banquet held Tuesday night. He received the gavel from Jerry R. Sheppard. Jack I. Criswell, left, was the featured speaker.

The event was held Tuesday night in the Mahan Building on the Fairground.

Criswell was the featured speaker at the dinner meeting which marked the change in command of the Chamber. Fred L. Domenico was installed as president, and received the gavel from Jerry R. The new president said the main purpose of the Chamber is to make the Washington C.H. area a better community in which to live.

Domenico and Sheppard both paid tribute to James Dunn, executive vice president, and Miss Pam Landrum, secretary, for their work.

Dollar gains; trading light

LONDON (AP) — The U.S. dollar strengthened today after nearly a week's decline to record lows, and the price of gold eased on European bullion markets.

The volume of trading was low, however, as nervousness over future monetary trends persisted.

Dealers said reports from Washington that the Nixon administration was considering further tough measures to halt rising inflation apparently helped the dollar.

The dollar improved both in Tokyo and in Hong Kong as well as in Europe. It closed in Tokyo at 263.90 yen, up half a yen, and at 5.0650 Hong Kong dollars after opening at 5.06. The price of gold eased in Hong Kong to close at $120.19 an ounce.

The price of the metal dropped $3 an ounce to $123 at London's opening, and $2.50 to $123.50 an ounce in Zurich.

Ohio Senate to consider tax break for farmers

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A proposed constitutional amendment authorizing a tax break for Ohio farmers comes before the Ohio Senate today with supporters not sure of its fate.

Sen. Michael J. Maloney, R-7 Cincinnati, declined to predict the outcome. "I don't know if it will pass. There are some amendments to be considered," he said.

The amendment, which would go before voters in November, authorizes the legislature to permit taxation of farm property on the basis of use rather than market value as required by present law. Farmers in sprawling urban areas would benefit most.

Maloney said he understands there may be an amendment that would add recreational properties to those receiving the lower assessments.

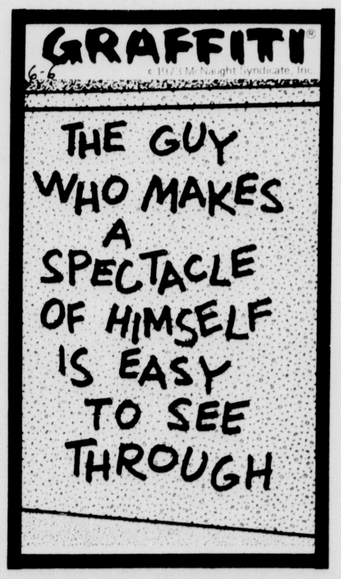

"We would prefer to treat recreation with separate legislation," said the chairman of the Senate Ways and Means Committee, which recommended the House-approved amendment for Senate adoption.

Another constitutional amendment that would have benefitted Ohio newsmen was killed Tuesday in the House. With 60 votes, or a three-fifths majority needed, the House defeated 28-62 a proposal that would have assured the legislature of its right to pass laws protecting newsmen from having to divulge their sources.

Rep. William G. Batchelder, R-93 Medina, its sponsor, claimed recent court decisions raise doubts about Ohio's present "shield law" and said one that invalidated a similar statute in California held that it did not provide ample protection to keep a newsman from answering a subpoena.

"Our system of government is based on the informed judgment of the citizenry," Batchelder told the House. He added that a free flow of information is necessary "for a democracy to survive."

Minority Leader Charles F. Kurfess, R-83 Perrysburg, was among those arguing against the proposal. He said it would be "dangerous" to have the legislature passing laws with regard to the rights of the press. "At least, it does nothing. At its worst, it is dangerous," Kurfess asserted.

Emprise's ties with Big Crime ignored

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio State Racing Commission has virtually ignored the 40-year role as concessionaire and part owner of Buckeye race tracks of Emprise, a conglomerate with links to organized crime, the Dayton Daily News said today.

In the fourth of a 10-part copyrighted series, the newspaper said:

"The giant concession conglomerate has loaned millions of dollars to race tracks in Ohio. It has been a part owner of at least five tracks. Through financial pressures it has helped put at least two of them out of business. It has participated in secret deals.

"The firm was a business associate of members of the Cleveland crime syndicate when they controlled the state's two highest-volume horse racing tracks, River Downs at Cincinnati and Thistledown at Cleveland.

"Yet, Emprise-Sportservice's role in Ohio racing has been virtually ignored by the Ohio Racing Commission."

Sportservice is a principal subsidiary of Emprise, the world's largest operator of food and drink concessions at sports events.

The newspaper said a 1971 company brochure stated that Emprise had concession rights at 65 horse and dog tracks and part ownership in at least 28. The paper said Emprise also served as a major source of loans for America's race tracks.

Last year, the Daily News said, the firm was convicted of a federal crime along with three Mafia figures. The conviction came for conspiring to conceal the true ownership of a Nevada gambling casino. That conviction has been appealed.

The Daily News quoted Paul D. Fleming Jr., executive secretary of the racing commission, as saying, "We've all heard a lot about Sportservice, but we've yet to see that they are dishonest."

In the third of the series, the Daily News auoted Aaron Kohn, managing director of the Metropolitan Crime Commission of New Orleans, in testimony before the Louisiana State Racing Commission in 1971:

"It appears reasonable to conclude from the extensive Emprise record that they and their affiliate companies are given to deception and organized crime alliance."

In a statement last year to the Select Committee on Crime of the U.S. House of Representatives, Emprise President Jeremy Jacobs said, "Never in our more than 50 years of business service have ever been involved in any public or private endeavor that has reflected on our business standing, personal integrity or individual or business reputations."

"Ohio Racing Commission files show that at a hearing in 1953," The Daily News said, "commission Chairman O. C. Belt charged that (Irwin) Wiedrick had been secretly running the Fort Miami raceway near Toledo, and that an Emprise-Sportservice lawyer, Benjamin D. Reisman, had secretly purchased 50 per cent of the track from Wiedrick and an Illinois congressman in 1951."

The newspaper identified Wiedrick as a former convict and a principal figure in a race track scandal in Illinois as well as a track consultant for Emprise.

Administration healthy, Agnew assures governors

STATELINE, Nev. (AP) — Vice President Spiro T. Agnew, conducting some low-key fence mending among the nation's governors, has rejected the contention of some that the Watergate scandal has paralyzed the Nixon administration.

"I don't believe from what I've seen in Washington and outside that there is any claim of paralysis that is worthy of any credibility," the vice president told reporters during a dinner at the National Governors Conference Tuesday night.

Agnew flew here earlier in the day in the wake of fears among many governors that governmental paralysis due to Watergate is preventing the federal government from giving them the financial assurances they seek.

In rejecting the paralysis theory, Agnew declared that President Nixon is very busy. He said that serious matters were taken up at at a White House meeting Tuesday morning "and none of them related to Watergate."

Seated with Agnew, conference host Gov. Mike O'Callaghan of Nevada said he has seen no sign of a deterioration in federal-state relations because of Watergate. O'Callaghan, a Democrat, said the governors appreciated the opportunity to work again with Agnew.

While Agnew made his informal rounds, the governors prepared to adopt a series of policy statements today. Included are appeals for a halt in the administration's impoundment of federal highway funds and for restoration of threatened cuts in social services programs.

The annual conference winds up today at this Nevada-California border gambling resort.

When he arrived Tuesday, Agnew conceded his mission here was fence mending but told reporters he didn't plan to talk to the governors about Watergate.

He said, "Of course, when a member of the national administration comes to a governors' conference, he comes to make friends and eases tensions."

About the time Agnew was arriving, the impact of Watergate here was underscored by the strongest statement on the scandal yet by the Republican governor about to assume the conference chairmanship.

American captain joins lawsuit against bombing

SAIGON (AP) — "I just have my own conception about what is right and wrong," says Air Force Capt. James H. Strain. He opposes the bombing of Cambodia and has joined in a suit to test its constitutionality.

A navigator from Chickasha, Okla., Strain flew on 230 combat missions across Indochina. He participated in three B52 raids against Hanoi last year during the biggest air assault of the war, aimed at forcing North Vietnam to conclude a cease-fire.

Sometime later, he had a change of heart. Defense Department officials in Washington disclosed Tuesday he has been taken off flying status.

Strain and two other bomber crewmen, Capt. Michael Flugger, a copilot from New York City and Lt. Arthur Watson, an electronics warfare expert, from Rome, N.Y., joined in the constitutional test case filed in Brooklyn by Congresswoman Elizabeth Holtzman, D-N.Y.

Strain said he did not want to comment further on the suit.

"I don't want to put myself in a bind," he said in an interview today. "I have direct orders not to comment. My attorney has advised me against it."

Strain would not discuss his contact with Congresswoman Holtzman except to say it was made through mutual friends.

Flugger and Watson were not immediately available for comment.

Strain acknowledged that he had given a television interview last month in which he criticized the bombing.

He said he and the other two officers expressed opposition to the bombing to their commanding officers.

Strain confirmed reports from Washington that all three were disqualified from flying under the Air Force's "Human Reliability Program," which is designed to eliminate crew members with emotional problems from any flights that might carry nuclear weapons. The B52 bombers in Indochina operations carry only conventional bombs.

Pentagon officials in Washington emphasized the grounding was not intended as a disciplinary measure. Strain said he hoped to continue his career in the Air Force.

He said there has been no recrimination against him for his action and other crewmen had shown no bias.

Kissinger, Le Duc Tho resume talks

PARIS (AP) — Henry A. Kissinger and Hanoi's Le Duc Tho resumed their secret talks today to tighten the Vietnam cease-fire agreement.

They met in a villa owned by the French Communist party in suburban Gif-sur-Yvette. Tho was acting as host, and welcomed the American delegates on the lawn in front of the villa. He was smiling and shook their hands warmly.

"We shall certainly spare no effort to strengthen the peace in Indochina," Kissinger said on his arrival from Washington Tuesday night.

He said if he and Tho "continue the progress and cooperative spirit" that were shown when they recessed two weeks ago, "then the prospects are reasonably good that we might conclude this round."

Kissinger announced "significant progress" May 23 after conferring with Tho for six days on how to end violations of the truce they negotiated last winter. He said he and Tho had "every intention of concluding our discussions" in the upcoming round.

This was interpreted as a warning to President Nguyen Van Thieu that neither Hanoi nor Washington would allow any basic objections to their proposals to make the ceasefire work.

South Vietnamese sources said Thieu accepted the proposals in principle, but objected to some of the details. These have been discussed in a series of preparatory meetings here since Sunday between U.S. and North Vietnamese officials.

But North Vietnamese sources said the main issue in the preparatory talks was over the interpretation of Article 20 of the cease-fire agreement. Article 20 states that "foreign countries shall put an end to all military activities" in Laos and Cambodia.

The United States has justified its continued bombing in Cambodia on grounds that the North Vietnamese are supporting closely the antigovernment insurgents who are nominally led by the exiled Prince Norodom Sihanouk. Hanoi has denied the charges.

Ford plants switch to metric system

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)— Ford Motor Co. plants in Lima and suburban Cleveland have had few problems in a switch that makes major use of metric measurements, according to Ford officials.

Both plants have begun production of a four-cylinder 2.3-liter (140 cubic inches) engine, to be standard equipment in the 1974 Mustang II and optional in the 1974 Pinto, Ford said.

"Quite frankly, we overestimated our problems," said Thomas J. Feaheny, general manager of Ford's engine division. "We learned that the problems were mainly education and know-how.

"With good training and attention to detail, we were able to resolve the metrication problem without major difficulty," he said.

"The greatest problem we encountered," said division Operations Manager V. P. Masi, "was to get persons thinking in metric terms. "Once that hurdle was passed, the rest was easy."

Skylab crew rehearses for space walk

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — The Skylab repair crew today practices tricky maneuvers for a two-man space walk Thursday to attempt to pry or cut free a jammed solar panel.

The astronauts eliminated most experiments today and scheduled a four-hour rehearsal for the difficult task that could nearly double the electricity in their power-shy space station.

In the large workshop area of the orbiting laboratory, they were to assemble and work with a battery of tools and tethers needed for the unprecedented salvage job.

It was their 13th day in space.

If there are no problems, Commander Charles Conrad Jr. and Dr. Joseph P. Kerwin are to open an airlock hatch about 11:37 a.m. EDT Thursday. About half an hour later, Conrad is to scramble some 25 feet across the side of the barrelshaped vehicle to the stuck panel.

With Kerwin waiting near the open hatch to assist, the commander will try to cut through or pry loose a one-inch wide aluminum strip which is holding the one-ton panel against the side of the station.

The third crewman, Paul J. Weitz, will remain inside the workshop, relaying instructions from mission control.

Once Conrad frees the panel, he'll have to provide the muscle to snap it into place.

Experts estimate it will take about 100 pounds of force. When the restraints break, the panel will scissor out "at about the speed of the second hand on your watch."

If the wing swings properly into place, three large sections of solar cells will unfold to catch the sun's rays and convert them to electricity. They would add 3,000 watts to Skylab's power supply.

This will enable the astronauts to complete a full experiment schedule during the remainder of their 28-day flight. It also will increase the chances for success of the Skylab 2 and 3 crews who are to visit the station later in the year.

Ehrlichman said Nixon assigned him to gather Watergate information in April. Ehrlichman quoted Nixon as saying that Dean, the previous White House Watergate investigator, was involved in the scandal "up to his eyebrows." Ehrlichman quit within the month.

—The Senate committee heard Robert Reisner, a former Nixon campaign committee assistant, testify that documents with the "Gemstone" political-espionage label were placed with matters to be taken up with John N. Mitchell, former attorney general and then Nixon campaign director.

Day care to receive priority

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Day care services for working mothers or mothers training for jobs will be given high priority under revised federal-help programs in Ohio beginning July 1.

Welfare Director Charles Bates also said Wednesday that beginning Oct. 1, the department would begin expanding programs to provide jobs for day care aids and homemakers.

The new federal regulations limit Ohio to $130 million for social service programs in fiscal 1973 and 1974, Bates said.

The state had been counting on an allocation of $115 for Fiscal 1973 along, and Bates said he doubted if the state could attract the revenue needed to continue current services.

Nixon suspected Dean, Ehrlichman told court

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon was growing increasingly suspicious of John W. Dean III's role in the Watergate scandal while seeking to prevent Dean from being questioned publicly about it, John D. Ehrlichman has testified.

The former presidential adviser said Dean hid the fact that he himself had participated in discussions of wiretapping plans months before the raid on Democratic headquarters last year.

And he said Dean, then the President's official lawyer, resisted repeated requests by presidential staff chief H.R. Haldeman to produce a written report of his investigation into the affair.

It was this investigation Nixon had cited during the presidential election campaign as clearing all administration employes in the case.

Ehrlichman, now under investigation himself, gave his version of the affair in pretrial testimony May 22, 23 and 24 in lawsuits over the wiretapping. A transcript of his testimony was released Tuesday.

Ehrlichman said that during his own short-lived investigation into the Watergate affair, Jeb S. Magruder, once the second in command at the Nixon re-election campaign, told him former Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell reluctantly approved the final plans to wiretap the Watergate.

Ehrlichman quoted Magruder as saying final approval came at a meeting in Key Biscayne, Fla., in late March 1972. Only Mitchell, Magruder and campaign aide Frederick C. LaRue were present.

All agreed to the plan, which also included authorization to wiretap the Washington headquarters of Sen. George McGovern's presidential campaign and the Miami Beach convention offices of top Democratic officials, Ehrlichman said. The Watergate wiretappers had intended to carry out those plans the weekend they were caught in Democratic headquarters in the Watergate.

Ehrlichman also quoted Dean as saying that Mitchell approved the Watergate plans in writing. Mitchell has said he rejected plans to bug Democratic headquarters.

After the Watergate operation, Ehrlichman said, the President had a number of conversations with Dean starting the last week in February.

Finally, around March 22, Nixon sent Dean to his Maryland mountain retreat, Camp David, to write a report. "He was there for six days. He came down the night of the 28th and delivered nothing," Ehrlichman said.

Within 24 hours Nixon relieved Dean of his investigative duties. "The President called me in on the 30th and said, 'My suspicions are crystallized and I want you to get into this," Ehrlichman said.

More showers are in store for Ohio today and tonight, the National Weather Service predicts, as the state remains in an area of warm, humid, unstable air ahead of a moving cold front.

At dawn overcast skies were reported across most of the state with light rain falling in some areas. Radar reports also indicated an occasional thundershower. Temperatures at sunrise were in the 60s.

The cold front stretches southwestward out of Canada across lower Michigan to the southern tip of Illinois and continues south to the Texas gulf coast. It is expected to cross Ohio today and tonight, passing south and east of the state by midmorning Thursday.

While there may be periods of sunshine again today they probably will be shorter in duration and fewer in number. Showers will also be more frequent but thundershower activity probably not quite as intense as Tuesday. Highs will be held down by cloudiness and showers and readings will range mostly in the 70s. In the southeast corner of the state the muercury could still top the 80-degree mark.

Sunshine is in the forecast for Thursday. The western sections of the state will begin the day under sunny skies Thursday while in the east mostly cloudy conditions with possibly a few showers conginuing through the morning. Not much change in temperatures is expected Thursday with highs again mostly in the 70s.

Fair Friday through Sunday. Highs from the mid 70s to low 80s Friday warming to the low to mid 80s Sunday. Lows from the mid 50s to low 60s.

Jet stream gets blame

WASHINGTON (AP) — That sometimes-capricious river of high-speed air above the Northern Hemisphere, the jet stream, has been a major culprit in the record rash of tornadoes and other unusual weather across the nation in recent months.

Government meteorologists said Tuesday the jet stream has been unusually strong for several months:

—Causing more than 700 tornadoes since Jan. 1, mostly in Southern states.

—Dumping heavy rains from the Appalachians to the Midwest and down into the South.

—Causing drought conditions in the Pacific Northwest.

The weathermen say the jet stream appears to be weakening now, possibly lessening tornado activity in Southern states.

They also said their June outlook shows a shift in the heavy rain picture from the Midwest and South to the Middle Atlantic, South Atlantic and Gulf Coast. It also appears, they said, that the weakening jet stream will cause rain in the Pacific Northwest during June.

Like its sister, the "polar jet," flowing above northerly areas of the earth, the sub-tropical jet stream is hundreds of miles wide and 20,000 feet high.

Stock prices show decline

NEW YORK (AP) — Stock market prices opened higher today, became mixed, then moved downward.

Analysts said the higher prices at the opening today were a continuation of a technical rally that began Tuesday after five days of declines. But volume during the rally remained low, the analysts said, and there was no permanant positive economic news to sustain it.

The Dow Jones average of 30 industrials, which had been up more than 4 points earlier, was down at noon by 3.31 at 897.50. Advancing Big Board stocks outpaced gainers 718 to 472 but losers were closing the gap.

On the American Stock Exchange, the price-change index was up .04 at 22.45 and losing ground.

The Amex volume leader was Bowmar Instruments, up 7/8 at 23 1/4. Its chairman announced sharp earnings increase for fiscal 1973.

The New York Stock Exchange broad-based index of some 1,500 common shares was down 0.03 at 55.05.

The volume leader on the New York Stock Exchange was Monogram Industries, up 7/8 at 23 1/4.

Ex-ball player arrested in bomb plot

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Former major league ball player Jerry Priddy was held on extortion charges today in connection with a bomb threat against a luxury ship, officials said.

The FBI in Washington confirmed the identity of Gerald Edward Priddy, 53, of North Hollywood, who was arrested in a $250,000 extortion bomb plot Tuesday.

Priddy, who spent 11 years in the major leagues between 1941 and 1953, was arrested after two cigarette pack-size items were found on the cruise ship Island Princess while at sea.

The ship's captain said the packages were live bombs and were thrown overboard, officials reported.

Spokesmen for the Coast Guard and the FBI said today they were unaware of any other explosive devices on board, but the vessel's captain ordered a further search as the cruise continued.

This statement contradicted an earlier report from the Coast Guard that they were searching for four other bombs.

Priddy was to be arraigned today before a U.S. magistrate on a charge of violating the federal extortion statute.

He was arrested Tuesday near the offices of Jerry Priddy and Associates Products Unlimited, an advertising specialities company which he heads.

No sale on ambassadorships

Today's exercise in empathy is to put yourself in the position of a career man in the Foreign Service who finds himself occupying a relatively minor post despite his demonstrated ability and years in the service. He has his eye on an assignment as ambassador to Suchandsuch - only to see this diplomatic plum handed on a platter to someone with the potent qualification of having contributed a hundred thousand or so to the party coffers.

Either party's coffers, let it be noted; neither the Republicans nor the Democrats have notably shied away from this practice. It is a practice vulnerable to attack on several grounds.

It would be hard to make a good case for the contention that under no circumstances should anyone outside the Foreign Service be tapped for a principal diplomatic assignment. That would rule out such extraordinarily able men as W. Averell Harriman and our present representative in China, David K.E. Bruce.

It can be strongly argued, however, that for the sake of both fairness and doing what is best in the national interest, experienced and well trained career men should be given procedence over all but the very ablest "outsiders."

When one comes to the business of rewarding heavy contributors with diplomatic posts, the arguments against this are overwhelming. This custom demeans our whole system of diplomatic representation abroad. Moreover, it works against the national interest to make partisan generosity the sole - or at any rate the primary - criterion by which persons are chosen for important posts.

The Senate Foreign Relations Committee is on the point of taking corrective action. It is reportedly about to propose two things to the State Department. One is that the number of ambassadors from outside the Foreign Service be limited to about 15 per cent of the total.

The other is that henceforth the committee, in passing on ambassadorial nominations, would frown on any nominee who had given more than $10,000 to a presidential campaign fund.

The monetary limitation strikes us as too rigid, though we agree with it on principle. We are, however, fully in sympathy with the idea of drawing the bulk of ambassadors from the Foreign Service.

The custom of entrusting America's relations with foreign governments to persons chosen on the strength of their campaign gifts is outmoded and dangerous.

THESE DAYS . . . by John Chamberlain

Is Kissinger Rockefeller's ace?

Nelson Rockefeller has a sleeper going for him in seeking the Republican presidential nomination for 1976. The sleeper is Henry Kissinger.

Before taking service with the Nixon Administration, Kissinger was a "Rockefeller man." It was on the basis of the many brilliant position papers written for Rockefeller that Nixon hired Kissinger in the first place.

Just how the credit should be divided for the successful extricatiion of 500,000-plus American troops from Vietnam without betraying the Saigon government won't be known until the inner history of the first Nixon Administration comes clear.

But before Kissinger went to Washington he already had made the point in memos to Rockefeller that the Vietnam War could only be settled in the wider contest of Soviet-Red Chinese-U.S. relations.

LUCK PLAYED into the Nixon Administration's hands when Moscow and Peking began snarling at each other along 4,000 miles of inner Asian border. The Communist giants, each tending to resist the other's claims to "sphere of influence" domination in Southeast Asia, were immobilized when Nixon, with a brilliant economy of force, mined Haiphong harbor and used the B-52s to force Hanoi to the negotiating table.

The agricultural crisis in China and in the Soviet Union sustained the Nixon moves, enabling the U.S. to dicker with both Peking and Moscow without taking sides in the intramural Marxist struggle.

The fortuitous combination of a Red quarrel over orthodoxy and big crop failures made Kissinger's balance-of-power thinking relevant, and it should remain so as long as Mao Tse-tung and Brezhnev continue to fight each other.

If the two Red giants should ever patch up their differences and simultaneously fill their granaries, it would destroy the Kissinger thinking in a day. But the quarrel between the Marxists isn't likely to abate as long as each side feels threatened by the nuclear potential of the other.

Almost alone among the Nixon White House "power centers," the Kissinger operation looks good. George P. Shultz, the Secretary of the Treasury, has not been able to solve Nixon's problems with inflation. Nobody does anything about the energy crisis. Erhlichman was a flop at coordinating the domestic policies of the Administration even before he was tarred with Watergate. Vice President Spiro Agnew has been kept on the outside. Kissinger has made foreign policy the one conspicuous Nixon success.

IF THE GOOD LUCK continues, Nelson Rockefeller will be in a position to say that it was his use of Kissinger as a pre-1968 foreign affairs adviser that started the whole business. Kissinger hasn't had any part in Spiro Agnew's career. John Connally can't claim Kissinger as a devotee or comrade in arms. But Kissinger could go on working for a Nelson Rockefeller administration without a single qualm or hitch.

Assuming success in the forthcoming negotiations with the West Europeans and the Soviet Union, the American people would surely want to see the Kissinger influence extended beyond 1976. It would be a realistic move for Kissinger to resign his White House advisory job in early 1976 to take service once again with Rockefeller as a foreign policy expert.

With Kissinger writing Rockefeller's speeches and preparing his position papers, Agnew and Connally would have a difficult time claiming contact with the one accomplishment of Nixon Republicanism.

Gov. Ronald Reagan of California is, of course, just as untouched by Watergate as Nelson Rockefeller. The Reagan appeal to the conservatives is obvious.

But Rockefeller has taken on a good law-and-order coloration with his attitude toward drug pushers, and he has been matching Reagan in his tax policies.

With Kissinger as a plus, Rockefeller could have the best of both worlds even with the conservative voter.

Your Horoscope

By FRANCES DRAKE

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars.

THURSDAY, JUNE 7

ARIES
(March 21 to April 20)

Control Emotions now. There will be tendencies to exaggerate, to lose temper. Be especially tactful in dealings with marriage or business partners.

TAURUS
(April 21 to May 21)

A lively outlook. Advancement indicated in several areas. If you have felt some restraint recently, you may step more freely now — but not recklessly, of course.

GEMINI
(May 22 to June 21)

Procrastination is everyone's temptation at times. Don't let this or other "tricksters" besiege YOU during this somewhat mixed period. Stress foresight and common sense.

CANCER
(June 22 to July 23)

This day may be described as a duel between promise and performance. The effort expended and the direction taken will be the deciding factors. Think before acting!

LEO
(July 24 to Aug. 23)

You may run into some opposition. But you need not let it disturb your equilibrium or your sense of humor. You usually enjoy outwitting opposing forces.

VIRGO
(Aug. 24 to Sept. 23)

Avoid any tendency toward vagueness. Set sights calculatingly on your target, and aim for it unerringly. Stellar influences helpful.

LIBRA
(Sept. 24 to Oct. 23)

Don't jump to hasty conclusions. And, even where long-postponed changes are due, do not make them impulsively. Best efforts could be offset by premature action.

SCORPIO
(Oct. 24 to Nov. 22)

Careful analysis, good judgment and understanding of the temperaments of associates will be required to make this a smooth-running day.

SAGITTARIUS
(Nov. 23 to Dec. 21)

You should win top-grade returns for your efforts now. Adhere to well-tested procedure. Emphasize your individualism, charm and perceptiveness.

CAPRICORN
(Dec. 22 to Jan. 20)

Splendid prospects! But others may also have such fine opportunities to achieve that you may find it difficult to put over YOUR ideas. Don't worry! This makes for healthy competition.

AQUARIUS
(Jan. 21 to Feb. 19)

Many small matters may conspire to try to keep you from accomplishing what you set out to do — and must. Be firm! Direct energies only to worthwhile areas.

PISCES
(Feb. 20 to March 20)

How you accept vicissitudes AND advantages will make the difference between just getting by and doing well. This day has the makings of a big success story.

YOU BORN TODAY are endowed with a brilliant intellect, an insatiable love of knowledge and a warm, outgoing personality. Like MOST Geminians, however, you tend to scatter energies, thus often defeating your own purposes. Your goals are usually lofty ones, but you MUST acquire the stick-to-it-iveness required to attain them. You work better alone than with others and your happiest occupation would be one which permits your imagination to stretch its lively wings. You are gifted along many lines, but could especially succeed at writing, art, the theater, music, science, the law or education — depending, of course, on your leanings and education.

Hal Boyle . . . Down Memory Lane with Hal

NEW YORK (AP) — Memory is a great healing agent.

It is the balm that reconciles us to today's pains and the premised emptiness and loneliness of tomorrow.

By reminding us of good times we had in the past and the bad times we survived, memory can also by those examples give us hope that our future may still hold great times, too.

Your own store of memories is large enough to fill many an idle hour if you can look back and remember when —

Most of the things you bought cost you only about what the tax on them is now.

Many boys went hungry Saturdays because if they didn't sneak out of the house before breakfast their mothers would tell them they'd have to spend most of the day beating dust out of rugs hung up on a wire in the backyard.

You didn't have to worry about getting air-conditioners or television sets repaired, but somehow something always seemed to go wrong with the coal furnace or the hot water heater.

Doctors didn't charge much, and they were usually the last to get paid. The first thing a family paid every week was its grocery bill.

A young fellow who could strum a pretty fair mandolin usually didn't have much trouble getting dates.

Many a strict mother wouldn't let her daughter go out with a boy who drove a car that had a rumble seat.

While life had problems we don't face now, no man had to spend half the day in an office washroom because of a stuck zipper.

A juvenile delinquent was a kid who sat in the front row of the balcony at the movies, and threw beans at the audience below as soon as the lights were turned off.

A lot of folks thought you were throwing away your money if you sent your daughter away to college. The male theory was that a girl didn't need to go to college to learn how to raise children, and too much education served only to unbalance the female mind more than nature had done it already.

People gave less money to formal charity, but were more willing to pitch in and help an individual who was in trouble.

Those were the days — remember?

Close loophole in campaign law, Brown urges

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The man who is charged with responsibility for overseeing elections in Ohio has recommended that the legislature act to plug an "obvious loophole" in the state's campaign expense reporting law.

Secretary of State Ted Brown made his recommendations in letters to Sen. Stanley Aronoff, R-8 Cincinnati, chairman of the Senate Finance and Election Committee, and Rep. Michael Del Bane, D-56 Hubbard, chairman of the House State Government Committee.

Brown suggested the law be amended to require candidates with campaign deficits to file periodic statements with election officials as they paid the debts, identifying contributors and detailing the expenditures made.

Dear Abby:

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

This dating game version more like wrestling match

DEAR ABBY: I am 20 and I'm dating this guy who is 28. I like him as a date, but I don't like the battles I have with him to get him to keep his hands to himself.

Ten minutes after I'm in his car he's all over me. He is really just like a high school sophomore-only stronger. The day after I've been out with him I ache all over from fighting him off. I'm not kidding. I've even left some scratches on his hands and face in addition to ripping his shirt and breaking his wristwatch.

I am not against a little affection, but this guy acts like a sex maniac. I am no big turnon, I'm a plain-looking girl and I don't invite his advances, so I can't understand it.

How can I cool him down without losing him completely?

AIRES

DEAR AIRES: If you continue to date this guy you must be hard up. Quit while you're ahead and tell the octopus to get lost.

DEAR ABBY: Our fine, handsome grandson is graduating from college soon, after which he is marrying a nice girl he met at college. (I'll call her Mary.) Mary is one of 12 children so there wasn't much money for extras in her family. To get to the point, Mary is desperately in need of dental work. It would improve her appearance 100 per cent.

I can well afford to pay for any dental work Mary needs done, but I don't know how to make the offer to our grandson without offending him. It is a wonder to us how this girl could have let her teeth get into such bad shape. And a greater wonder that our grandson wouldn't have noticed it. (Or perhaps he has, but didn't know what to do about it.)

How can we let our grandson know we will foot the bill if Mary will see a dentist?

GRANDPA

DEAR GRANDPA: Tell him (privately) what you've told me. (P.S. And since when is dental care an "extra"? It's vital to general good health.)

DEAR ABBY: I am a 16-year-old girl with a big problem. My favorite cousin is getting married in two months and my parents won't let me go to the wedding unless I take off 10 pounds! That is an awful lot to lose in two months, but my mother said she talked to the doctor and he said I could do it if I tried. Abby, I would have to live on practically nothing to lose all that weight in two months. I'm afraid I would get so weak I couldn't do as well in school, etc.

I have enough money in the bank to fly to the wedding which is across the country, but my parents say I can't go at all unless I lose 10 pounds, and if I do so, they will buy my ticket.

Why are people so prejudiced against overweight people? It's as if we weren't ever human.

Are my parents being unfair to me, Abby? I just have to go to that wedding. I pray a lot and it makes me feel better but it doesn't get me there. Please help me.

HEARTBROKEN

DEAR HEARTBROKEN: Five pounds a month is not too much to lose, and if the doctor says you can do it, you should try. Quit looking for excuses why you CAN'T, and start on a diet right now and you'll make it. Good luck.

Miss Orr, Mr. Fountain exchange vows

The New Holland United Methodist Church was the setting for the marriage of Miss Deborah Jean Orr and Gary M. Fountain at 1:30 p.m. Sunday. The Rev. Frank White performed the double-ring ceremony.

Miss Orr is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Orr, Rt. 1, New Holland. Mr. and Mrs. Robert Fountain, Rt. 5, are parents of the bridegroom.

Mrs. Paul Huff, organist, and Mrs. Steve Huff, vocalist, presented a prelude of wedding selections.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a dress of silk organza over white bridal satin, accented with full lace cuffs. The dress and train were accented with ruffles of white lace. She wore a white wide-brimmed hat trimmed with pale blue daisies and a blue satin band. She carried an arrangement of daisies, white Fuji mums, baby's breath and pink sweetheart roses. Pink gladioli and white carnations filled the altar vases.

Mrs. Paul Huddle, Columbus, was matron of honor for her sister. The bridesmaids were Mrs. Donnie Beekman of Washington C. H., and Mrs. John Tussey of Mount Sterling, sister of the groom. They wore long flowered blue voile dresses with empire waist and short puff sleeves. The dresses were ruffled at the hemline and trimmed with blue velvet at the waist. They each wore a blue hat and carried a basket of pink, white and blue daisies with blue streamers.

Russ Ladwig of Columbus served as best man. Seating the wedding guests were Steve Huff of Washington C. H. and John Tussey of Mount Sterling.

Mrs. Orr greeted the guests in a blue and white knit dress with matching accessories and a corsage of pink sweetheart roses. The bridegroom's mother wore a blue knit dress with white accessories and a corsage of pink roses.

Hostesses for the reception which followed were the Misses Joyce Armintrout, Patty Landrum and Debby Reed, all of Washington C. H., and Mrs. Candy Rodgers of Mount Sterling. Miss Royanne Speakman presided at the guest book.

Following a trip to Cincinnati, the couple is residing at Rt. 1, Mount Sterling (White Oak Rd.).

Both Mr. and Mrs. Fountain are graduates of Miami Trace High School. Mr. Fountain is presently assistant manager at the "Post House" for Greyhound Food Management.

The bridal party was entertained on Friday evening at Wardell's Party Home.

Ethel Kennedy's family occupies most of her time

WASHINGTON (AP) — She skis with Jean-Claude Killy, plays tennis with Rod Laver, lunches with Art Buchwald. But only occasionally.

In the last five years since her husband was shot to death in a Los Angeles hotel kitchen, Ethel Kennedy has led a quieter life, spending most of her time with her children—all 11 of them.

The raucous, back-lawn parties of the early '60s, when it wasn't unusual for a Cabinet member to take a pool-dunking, have given way to smaller dinner parties for a few close friends.

Despite occasional rumors, Mrs. Kennedy attends most social functions alone and friends say she has no plans to remarry.

At 45, she is trim, equally at ease in flared pants or a long skirt. Her curly blonde hair is slightly frosted to hide flecks of gray.

"If she's ever glum, it never shows," says a close Kennedy friend. "She centers her life around other people. She's a very caring person."

Hickory Hill, the handsome Kennedy estate in McLean, Va., still is a gathering place for the family, friends, a handful of servants, one turtle named Kruthers and three dogs, including Freckles, the late Robert F. Kennedy's black-and-white spaniel. During much of the winter, a sign on the Kennedys' front door read: "Beware — Trespassers will be eaten."

It is here under the spreading hickory trees where the Kennedy family and friends will gather tonight for a private memorial Mass on the fifth anniversary of Sen. Kennedy's death.

"All the children are flying in for it," a family friend said. "It must be hard for them to have to relive the emotional trauma of their father's death each year."

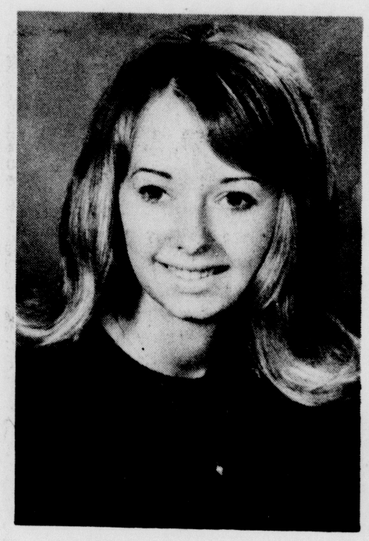

Joseph P. Kennedy III, the eldest son who, at 15, walked through his father's funeral train and thanked people for coming, is 20 now. He attended the University of California at Berkeley briefly beginning last January but dropped out because he said he "could get a better education out of school."

Kathleen Kennedy, at 21, is the family's eldest daughter. Last spring she took a semester off from Radcliffe College in Cambridge, Mass., to study journalism independently, and she returned Tuesday from a trip to Ireland.

Robert Kennedy Jr. is 19 now and a sophomore at Harvard. His long black hair hangs to his shoulders, and a school friend describes him as "sort of shy." Last summer he paid $13 to get a friend out of jail in Colombia during a two-week visit to South America. The friend had been arrested for playing rock music on a cathedral pipe organ.

David, 17, Courtney, 16, and Michael, 15, are in New England prep schools. The younger Kennedy children attend private school near their home.

Her fiance, also a MTHS graduate, is employed by Armco Steel Co. here.

An October wedding is being planned.

Area student wins Jenny Lind scholarship

Vicki Stoer recently was awarded the Jenny Lind Scholarship from the Conservatory of Music at Capital University. The Jenny Lind voice scholarship is the highest award given to upper classmen women.

To receive this honor, Miss Stoer competed with upper classmen and other freshmen who had maintained honor grades and who were recommended to enter the contest by their voice professors. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Stoer, Rt. 3, Mount Sterling, and is a former student of the late Mrs. Amanda Paxson of Washington C.H.

The Emmanuel Snyder award, second highest scholarship, was awarded to Rebecca Cate of Middletown, Miss Stoers's roommate and also a freshman at the conservatory.

This was thought to be the first time the two highest awards were won by freshmen at Capital's Conservatory.

Weinberg creations inspire return to old-time flirting

NEW YORK (AP) — Polish up your mysterious flirt routine, if you're going to wear Chester Weinberg's clothes this fall.

Models instinctively raised one shoulder or an eyebrow as they padded self-confidently down the aisles Monday in halter sweaters, with rhinestone clips and brown satin slip dresses.

These little numbers insist on some rendition, however halting, of a flirt. Remember flirting? It was when you didn't tell everything about yourself on the first date. It made for suspense.

If there must be nostalgia, Weinberg has pared it down to simple and luxurious proportions. Clip-on pins, button earrings and envelope purses lend their oldie-but-goodie influence, too.

Halter dresses abound in slick ivory leather with furtrimmed jacket. They're also offered in low key green and peach.

Weinberg has spared everyone a great array of ruffles, sticking instead to simple lines. He banks on unusual fabric combinations and bold strokes of color to carry the drama. It works.

A long matt jersey dress, in camel, is paired with a cotton topper rain coat. Fur jackets sport sweater-ribbed trimming.

Part of the luxurious look of his day clothes comes from the abundant fabric in his tent dresses and full-backed coats. Even jackets have deep pleats in back.

He throws in a little Gatsby with low-waisted dresses and nips at the heels of the bulky sweater movement in a series of applause-winning beige styles.

Camel was a big color, followed by red and green. Black was good for one-shoulder evening dresses, set with small but powerful rhinestone pins.

As a topping for a very sweet dessert, beat together cream cheese, sour cream and heavy cream. Add just enough of the creams to give a good consistency.

'Irritable Colons' Out of Date

Many years ago I was told that I had an "irritable" colon. I have always attributed my intestinal complaints to this.

Now I have been told that I do not have this condition, but that my problem is caused by long years of enemas and laxatives.

Is there such a thing as an "irritable colon"?

Mr. S.F., Maine

Dear Mr. F.: The term "irritable colon" once captured people's fancy and became almost a term of medical prestige. The word was bandied about almost as if it had special medical status.

The result was that this very real condition was self-diagnosed with great promiscuity, and most often, wrongly.

In reality, doctors do recognize a condition of irritable colon which is sometimes called a "spastic colon." So many factors are involved that the "irritable colon" can well be described as a complex of symptoms rather than a single condition.

Many people who are overworked, tense, anxious, and emotionally upset reflect these problems in the ppor functioning of the intestinal tract.

Hurried meals, certain drugs, dependence on laxatives and enemas add to upset the proper motility of the large intestine. The result is that abdominal pain, distention of the bowel with gas, excess mucous, and spasm of the lower bowel may follow.

It is important that you forget specific terms that were used to describe your complaints.

Now is a good time to give up your dependence on laxatives and enemas and have a complete re-evaluation of your entire gastro-intestinal status.

When once you are assured that you have no serious underlying condition, a well-established program of diet and exercise, supported by drugs carefully chosen by your doctor to reduce emotional tensions, willl relieve the symptoms that have plagued you for such a long time.

I find that occasionally a few chips of teflon chip away from my frying pans.

By any chance, could this be dangerous if a small flake should be inadvertently swallowed:?

Mrs. G.S., Ill.

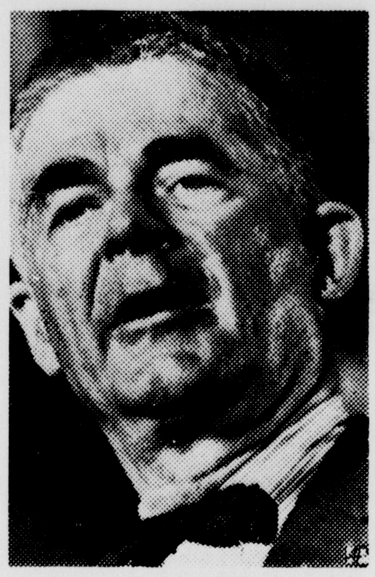

Dear Mrs. S.:

Teflon is one of the many ingenious synthetic plastic products which has saved the energy of many housewives. Its advantages are well known.

It keeps food from sticking, enables frying with a minimum of fats and is easy to keep clean.

It is a non-toxic substance which means that small chips of it should not be harmful if swallowed. If your pans keep chipping and flaking you would do well to replace them, for you are losing the benefit of the teflon.

WANTS DELAY — Archibald Cox, special Watergate prosecutor, tells newsmen he has asked the Senate committee investigating the Watergate break-in to suspend its televised hearings for at least three months. The Senate committee voted not to suspend the hearings.

Sen. Griffin says Nixon should talk

DETROIT (AP) — Sen. Robert P. Griffin, R-Mich., said Tuesday it is "almost essential" that President Nixon appear before the Senate's Watergate investigation committee, The Detroit Free Press reported.

The story said the move makes Griffin the first GOP leader to call for presidential testimony. Griffin is minority whip.

"It's a matter of timing if he chooses to do it ... of course maybe four weeks from now the hearings will produce an entirely different situation," Griffin was quoted as saying in the story from Washington.

Striking Antioch students regroup, schedule rally

YELLOW SPRINGS, Ohio (AP)— Striking students at Antioch College planned to regroup today and make plans for the future of their strike against the liberal arts school, shut down for seven weeks in a student attempt to win financial aid guarantees.

Plans call for a rally at 1:30 p.m., in support of 20 students expelled for their participation in the strike and the seven faculty members fired for strike activities.

There was some picketing Tuesday by about 50 demonstrators who finally abandoned their efforts to disrupt the return to more or less normal campus activities.

Students returned to their classes on campus, although not in large numbers, and maintenance employes began cleaning up debris which had remained uncollected since they were laid off last week because of the strike.

An injunction was gained by four Antioch students against the strikers which forced them out of the administration building last week. The order does permit moving pickets.

Long-term plans were discussed Tuesday during a meeting of the National Publicity Committee—a student striker group. But a spokesman said these plans were for after the current quarter ends.

Strikers sought financial guarantees for students participating in the New Directions program, mainly minority group and low income students who normally would not be able to attend a private college like Antioch.

One-eighth of the students entering school last term were under this program. They were guaranteed one year of financial aid, to be renegotiated annually for five terms.

The strikers want the five years' aid guaranteed, not negotiated and the school has said this is impossible.

Argument leaves Lima man dead

LIMA, Ohio (AP) — One man was killed and another seriously wounded in an argument early today at a home on Lima's south side.

The dead man was identified as Harry Powell III, 25, of Lima. Robert McGill Jr., 24, also of Lima, was hospitalized in serious condition. Police said both had been shot in the chest.

Police said they were holding a third man in connection with the shootings, but declined to identify him.

Part-time lawyers urged for jails

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)— Cuyahoga County Common Pleas Court Judge George M. White says he will propose hiring part-time lawyers to aid county prisoners unable to secure their own lawyer immediately.

White paid a surprise visit to the county jail Tuesday and reported he found it cleaner than he expected. White said he also didn't feel the jail was overcrowded, although the population Tuesday was 522, far over the jail's listed capacity of 300.

The judge said one or two part-time lawyers are needed at the jail, however, to help inmates without lawyers. White said one man without a lawyer told him he had been held in jail for more than two months without being indicted.

Opening lead - king of hearts.

There are times when one must violate a rule because the situation calls for it.

For example, consider this deal where South got to four spades and the defense started with three rounds of hearts, declarer ruffing the third round.

Exercising excellent technique, South cashed the A-K of trumps and the A-K-Q of diamonds before playing the ten of trumps to the jack and returning a club.

East following low, South finessed the nine — which lost to the queen. It did not matter whether West returned a club to declarer's A-J or yielded a ruff and discard by leading a heart, for in either case South was bound to win the rest of the tricks. Declarer thus made four on the nose.

However, South would have failed in his project had East risen to the occasion by playing his king on the club lead from dummy at trick ten. This would have violated the general principle of playing second hand low on defense, but it would also have made South's position untenable. Whatever he did next, declarer would eventually have to bend the knee, losing two club tricks.

In retrospect, is it easy to see that East should have gone up with the king. He was at a point in the play where he knew for a certainty that declarer had started the hand with five spades, two hearts and three diamonds — and hence precisely three clubs.

If South had the A-Q, he would make the contract and the king play would make no difference. But if South had his actual holding, the king play was absolutely and positively essential.

Corn planting still behind

WASHINGTON (AP) — The 1973 corn crop in the Corn Belt was 84 per cent planted by June 3, compared with 90 per cent on the date last year, says the Agriculture Department.

Normally on June 3, about 93 per cent of the Corn Belt crop is planted, the department said Tuesday in its weekly weather report.

Wet fields delayed farmers in the eastern part of the belt last week. Illinois was 80 per cent planted; Indiana, 75; and Ohio, 70.

In the western part of the Corn Belt, Iowa's crop was 90 per cent planted. Most of it was completed in Nebraska, Minnesota and South Dakota, the report said. Rainy weather, however, held back field work in Missouri, where 66 per cent of the corn was planted by June 3.

The corn crop in the South generally was 88 per cent planted. The Kentucky crop was only 60 per cent completed; Tennessee's, 70 per cent, the report said.

Soybean planting, put off by many farmers who wanted to get corn in the ground first, was 43 per cent completed in the Corn Belt by June 3, compared with 72 per cent by June 3 last year.

Bloomingburg gets new principal; other teachers hired

County board endorses 'middle school' plan

A recommendation from the Miami Trace School Study Committee calling for the establishment of a middle school which would house two or three intermediate grades was termed "extremely significant" by members of the Fayette County Board of Education at their regular semi-monthly meeting held Tuesday night at New Holland Elementary School.

The board took care of a number of personnel matters, including naming a new principal at Bloomingburg, transferred 63 students from two elementary schools and offered supplemental contracts in addition to taking care of several other items on a heavy agenda.

Board members unanimously supported the school study committee's proposal that a school bond issue be placed on the November ballot for a new middle school to accommodate all students in grades 6, 7 and 8 or grades 7 and 8 as the board and administration deems necessary.

According to President Kenneth A. Payton, the board is expected to take formal action on the proposal at its next regular meeting.

THE BOARD employed Ronald Grottendick, of Wellston, as principal of Bloomingburg Elementary School, and also hired four other new teachers. Grottendick, who received his masters degree in educational administration from Xavier University, Cincinnati, has had 11 years of experience as a head teacher and will succeed Miss Joan Black at Bloomingburg.

Other teacher contracts approved included:

Miss Deborah Wright, of Canton, master degree in education from Tufts University, two years experience, elementary assignment;

Miss Deborah Burnett, of Circleville, bachelor degree in education from Wilmington College, one year experience, elementary assignment;

Miss Betsy Hamrick, of Circleville, bachelor degree in education from Ohio State University, no experience, high school home economics; and

Joseph Faris, of Hillsboro, bachelor degree in education from Miami University, 13 years of experience, junior high assignment.

The board approved the resignations of five teachers and granted leaves of absence to two others in addition to authorizing the retirements of a teacher and two non-certificated employes.

TEACHERS resigning were Mrs. Cynthia Shaltry, second trade teacher at Wayne School; Mrs. Shirley Bowen, special education teacher at Jasper School; Mrs. Kelly Doyle, an elementary teacher currently on leave; Mrs. Mariah Fullerton, second grade teacher at Jeffersonville, and Mrs. Celeste Armentrout, elementary music teacher.

Mrs. Carolyn Shoemaker, a Title I reading teacher at New Holland and Wayne, and Mrs. Jennifer Pellior, third grade teacher at Chaffin, were granted one-year leaves of absence.

The board approved the retirements of Mrs. Althea Case, music teacher at New Holland and Chaffin; John Snyder, a bus driver-custodian, and Mrs. Edith Knox, a cook at Jeffersonville.

The board offered supplemental contracts to eight persons for head teaching assignments and to 16 persons for additional duties.

Following the recommendation of Mrs. Phyrne Coil, lunchroom supervisor, the board employed six cooks. They are Mrs. Edna Brown, Bloomingburg; Mrs. Wilma Burnett, Olive; Mrs. Ludine Penrod, Wilson; Mrs. Mary Pinkerton, Wayne; Mrs. Linda Taylor, Staunton, and Mrs. Mary Welsh, Bloomingburg. Mrs. Coil also presented the annual lunch financial statement to the board.

TRANSFER of Staunton and Olive elementary students for the 1973-74 school year was approved by board members. Twenty-five Chaffin second graders will be moved to Staunton, 24 Staunton third graders will be transferred to Olive, and 24 more Staunton third graders will be switched to Chaffin.

The board, following a report from elementary supervisor Mrs. June Slaughter, made formal application for $89,228.92 in Title I funds and $26,412 in DPPF funds for the 1973-74 school year.

Along the same lines, the board designated Mrs. Slaughter as the authorized representative for the two projects, and extended the employment of Mrs. Nancy Chaney for summer secretarial work on daily salary schedule under the federal Title I project.

Board members approved the adoption of new seventh grade social studies textbooks presented by Mrs. Slaughter in addition to her report on a favorable Title I inspection. The board also authorized Mrs. Slaughter to attend the state supervisors meeting at Salt Fork Park June 7-9.

A REPORT on summer maintenance projects was presented by assistant superintendent Steve Yambor. He said the school district will not receive Neighborhood Youth Corps Workers this summer. After that report, the board approved the employment of Richard Doyle and Kevin Dunn for summer maintenance projects.

Yambor also was instructed to obtain cost estimates for clearing a termite problem at Jasper School and the board agreed to cooperate with the Milledgeville PTO in sharing the cost of retiling two rooms at the school. The cost was estimated at $500-$600.

A letter from Rev. Elmer Burrall, of the Fayette County Ministerial Association, concerning scheduling of school activities so that they do not interfere with church functions was read by Mrs. Martha Fleming, board clerk. The board agreed to cooperate with the church association and adopt a resolution pertaining to the scheduling.

IN OTHER MATTERS:

The board heard reports from Marion Waddle, who serves on the high school athletic association, and Payton, a member of the vocational school board;

Authorized a request from Mr. and Mrs. James Polk, of Washington C. H. who will be moving to the Miami Trace District in August, for their daughter to attend Washington Senior High School the first semester of the new school year;

DP&L man briefs Rotarians

The energy picture: short term crisis, long term challenge

"We're faced with a short term energy crisis and a long term challenge," Al Hill, an assistant planning engineer with the Dayton Power and Light Co., told members of the Washington C.H. Rotary Club at their noon luncheon Tuesday in the Country Club.

Hill, in speaking about the energy challenge and crisis, said one of the primary problems concerning the shortage of fuel arose 18 years ago when the federal government regulated the price of natural gas.

The price was set low, Hill said, and consequently companies did not look for new supplies since it was not profitable to them. As a result, there was little expansion in the natural gas industry.

The DP&L engineer pointed out that the regulated price of natural gas will have to be increased so that it will be more conducive for utility companies to locate more natural gas resources.

HE ALSO explained that utility companies are perhaps the biggest users of coal for energy, but that environmental problems have curtailed this route and they have been forced to resort to nuclear power plants.

Hill commented that the nuclear power possibilities are nearly unlimited, but that the safety factor must be improved due to the number of government regulations issued.

He cited the Stuart Station, located on the Ohio River, as an example of the strict government regulations.

The station, being constructed by DP&L in conjunction with Cincinnati Gas and Electric and Columbus and Southern Ohio Electric companies, has smokestacks 800 feet high and precipitators are used to remove 95 per cent of the pollutants before they are spread into the atmosphere.

Recently, Hill said, the companies were forced to invest $7 million for new equipment to take out only 2 per cent more of the pollutants in order to comply with Ohio's clean air standards.

IN OFFERING solutions for the energy crisis, Hill said technology must be increased so that fuel resources can be developed. And he also said the natural gas price must be more competitive.

Hill said that DP&L projects a reserve energy capacity of 21 per cent for the summer months and did not predict any power failures, barring a major plant loss, in the Washington C.H. service area.

President Fred L. Domenico conducted the business meeting and George Winkle was the program chairman.

Robert Mehl, of Greenfield, representing the district governor, presented a trophy to the Washington C.H. Rotary Club for having the best attendance at the district meeting held recently in Middletown.

Other visiting Rotarians were Art Dick and Dave Kohli, both of Mount Sterling.

Guests were David Finley, with his father, George Finley, and Phil Mosley, with Loren Brackney.

TO HEAD ASSOCIATION — Richard D. Arnott, 701 Warren Ave., director of commercial staff services for the Nationwide Insurance companies in Columbus, has been elected president of the Insurance Accounting and Statistical Association. He has voted a one-year term at a recent conference for IASA members in Denver. Founded in 1928, IASA has 1,100 member companies and is devoted to the study, research and development of theories and procedures in insurance accounting and statistics.

Cyclist hurt in rural collision

A motorcyclist was injured in one of three traffic mishaps investigated in the city-county area Tuesday. One driver was cited for a traffic law violation.

Donald R. Bailey, 15, Rt. 1, was treated at Memorial Hospital for minor injuries after his motorcycle collided with the rear of a car on Greenfield-Sabina Road, just west of Stafford Road at 6:10 p.m.

Sheriff's deputies said a car driven by Alice M. Reed, 34, Rt. 3, Greenfield, had stopped for an animal in the road when the Bailey cycle collided with the rear of her auto.

Neither driver was cited.

Willie M. Rucker, 19, Cincinnati, was cited for starting without safety following a two car collision on I-71, three miles south of Jeffersonville Tuesday evening.

Officers reported Rucker pulled his car from the berm of the freeway into the path of a car driven by Lonzo N. Hardman, 23, of Chardon. There was extensive damage.

Police investigated a minor collision on Court Street, just east of Main Street at 3:07 p.m.

Officers said cars driven by William C. Allen Sr., 75, of 330 Hopkins St., and Hazel N. Gray, 45, Rt. 3, were both westbound when Allen changed lanes and collided with the right side of the Gray car. Damage was minor.

Faulty alarm systems result in fire runs

City firemen made runs to Washington Lumber Co., 319 Broadway St., and Redman Industries, 2000 Kenskill Ave., shortly before midnight Tuesday but both proved to be false alarms.

Firemen said a faulty alarm box had caused them to malfunction. There was no fire at either place.

Loss $419 in tool theft

Tools valued at $419 were stolen from a storage shed on a lot on Jonesboro Road sometime during the past two weeks, the Sheriff's Department reported.

Officers said the lot owned by W.J. Seidensticker, Reynoldsburg, was emcompassed by a high fence, but the gate was left open in the daytime. The shed where the tools were kept was unlocked.

Taken were a acetylene welding set, electric drill, a set of sockets and other tools.

Sheriff's deputies also investigated a failure-to-pay incident at the Union 76 Plaza, U.S. 35 and I-71 Tuesday morning. Employes told officers a customer had pulled to the pumps and ordered $4.50 worth of gas then drove away after the tank was filled.

John Edelblute, of 919 Millwood Ave., reported that sometime Tuesday afternoon the hood of his 1965 model car was damaged when someone walked on it. Police said footprints were also found on the top and rear deck of the auto. Damage to the hood was set at $25.

Prisoners' union meets officials

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Officials of the state Corrections Department and the Ohio Prisoners Labor Union met Tuesday for a formal presentation of the union's aims.

Ray Twohig, a Columbus lawyer and spokesman for the union, said the meeting he had with Bennett Cooper was a good one. He said it was agreed that it would be at least a month before any position on possible recognition of the union could be determined.

John Linta, a spokesman for the department, said there was no request made for recognition during the meeting. Linta also said there was no indication from Cooper as to whether he would favor such recognition.

Bloomingburg to ask fire levy renewal

BLOOMINGBURG — Bloomingburg Council adopted an ordinance Tuesday that will place a renewal of the Fire Department operating levy on the fall ballot.

Voters will be asked to renew the 1.5-mill property tax.

The Ohio Liquor Control board notified the Council that the liquor licenses of Bolen's Market and Mike's Ashland Station will soon be up for renewal. Council may file objections if it wishes. The consensus of councilmen indicated no objections.

Semiannual salaries were paid to village officers in the following amounts: mayor, $180; fire chief, $180; clerk $300; councilmen, $60 each; volunteer firemen, $96 (total).

Storms hit eastern U.S.

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Thunderstorms crackled over much of the eastern half of the nation today, but most other sections enjoyed fair and pleasant weather.

Severe thunderstorms that hit the East on Tuesday died down considerably during the early hours today. Some heavy storms also drenched southeastern Texas early today.

The storms spawned two tornadoes in Texas and one in Walton County, Ga., east of Atlanta. No injuries were reported.

Up to four inches of rain and high winds lashed Atlanta late Tuesday. Winds of 60 miles per hour pounded Corpus Christi, Tex.

Corpus Christi was soaked by nearly 2.5 inches of rain; Syracuse, N.Y., had 1.5 inches; and Houston and Victoria, Tex., had more than an inch.

Cool temperatures spread out behind the storm system through the Mississippi Valley and Plains states. A few showers dampened the Pacific Northwest coast.

Anne's husband-to-be faces traffic charge

LONDON (AP) — Lt. Mark Phillips, engaged to Princess Anne, is being invited to appear at court. But not the royal one.

He will be summoned to go before a court of law for an alleged traffic offense, police said Tuesday.

They said the 24-year-old lieutenant will be prosecuted before a Salisbury County court on a later date. They said the alleged offense involved a traffic accident on April 7, a week before Phillips was secretly engaged to the 22-year-old daughter of Queen Elizabeth II.

TV Viewing

By JAY SHARBUTT
AP Television Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Jerry Lewis smiled with exaggerated unease when asked if he'd like to do another regular television variety show. "No," he said slowly. "I really wouldn't like to do that."

After a moment's reflection, he partly overruled himself: "If I could go back my way, sure I would. But you can't go back your way.

"They (network executives) would never let me go my way. They say they will, but then they stop you."

What would be the Lewis way?

"Visual," the 46-year-old comedian said. "The medium to be used for what it is." He said there would have to be a minimum of spoken material.

"You can get that on a recording," he said. "I call it visual hi-fi. You watch a variety show, and it's visual hi-fi."

Lewis was in town helping plan the national telethon he'll host next September to raise funds for muscular dystrophy research. He immediately proved that you shouldn't associate the man with his movie characters.

Unlike the rubber-faced clowns and well-meaning dimwits he portrays on film, Lewis in the flesh comes across as an articulate, well-read man with a surprising knowledge of both music and electronics.

Perhaps the most unexpected thing about him is that he rarely cracks a joke. He's deadly serious about life in general and the need for laughter in particular. He thinks the latter is slowly disappearing in America.

He blames the disappearance partly on grim times in which our "sense of humor has been filed down—right to the nerve end."

He also argues that our ability to laugh or get excited about anything has been dulled by the availability of some 20 hours of television each day in most parts of the United States.

"We're all pretty uptight. It's hard to laugh," Lewis said, proposing two remedies that would make the networks extremely uptight.

"The only way we're going to get the people back to that vital aspect of our existence—a sense of humor—is to turn that damned television set off or do what they do in France," he said.

"There, you've only got television from noon to 4 and then from 8 in the evening until 11. Then it goes black.

"Do that here and you've got a resurgence not only of a sense of humor, but of people caring for one another, of people communicating again with one another."

Ohio Penitentiary to get new boilers

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)— Ohio Public Works Director Roland Nesslinger said Tuesday a diesel boiler system replacing the state heating plant at the Ohio Penitentiary should be installed by January on top of the Ohio Transportation Building in downtown Columbus.

Nesslinger said fuel tanks for the new system are slated to arrive July 1, and the boilers are expected Aug. 1.

He said he expected the state Controlling Board to release funds for initial installation next Monday.

The total cost of the new system should be about $683,000, State Architect Carl E. Bentz said.

Sinking dollar may be devalued

By JOHN CUNNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — Incongruous as it may seem, the devaluation of the dollar appears to be viewed by some currency traders as evidence that it could be devalued again.

This, at any rate, is one of the explanations offered by puzzled monetary authorities, who feel the dollar is now realistically priced but who find their views contradicted by a falling market.

While most Americans might have only a vague feeling of insecurity because of the dollar's decline, those who travel to Europe this summer will encounter the specific consequences in the form of higher bills everywhere.

The oddity of why the value of American currency should continue to slide, relative to the currency of most of its trading partners, is reasoned this way by some bankers:

Unique among world currencies, the dollar held to its official value throughout the post-World War II period, and thus was widely desired for its stability.

This view continued to be held even when the United States developed a chronic imbalance in its international payments, traditionally viewed as evidence of an overpriced currency. The imbalance, it was hoped, would be corrected.

But then the dollar met the fate of other important currencies: it devalued, and it did so twice. This removed the assurance. No longer could you be certain of the dollar's value either.

Most international bankers now believe the devalued dollar is priced right or perhaps even less than its worth. But that is no longer a promise; the dollar is afloat, drifting with the currents.

In a strictly banking sense, the dollar isn't nearly so suspect as it is in the market place, where psychology—which involves fears and rumors as well as facts—holds sway.

Add to the fears held by many European and American businessmen, and bankers too, the feeling that the U.S. economy itself is adrift, despite continued assurances from Washington that things are getting better all the time.

And then, in addition to those worries, pile on the burden of Watergate, which is viewed by some Americans and Europeans as lessening the President's ability to negotiate trade agreements, work toward international monetary stability and control domestic inflation.

And while the dollar falls, the price of gold soars. Are the two prices like weights on an apothecary's balance? To an extent. When people fear paper currencies they traditionally seek gold or diamonds or some such.

Realty Board defends use of oral exams

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio Real Estate Commission used "discretionary authority" in administering oral license examinations for brokers and salesmen, commission members said Tuesday.

Members of OREC and other state officials testified before a committee hearing on current real estate practices. The five-member bipartisan committee was appointed by Gov. John Gilligan.

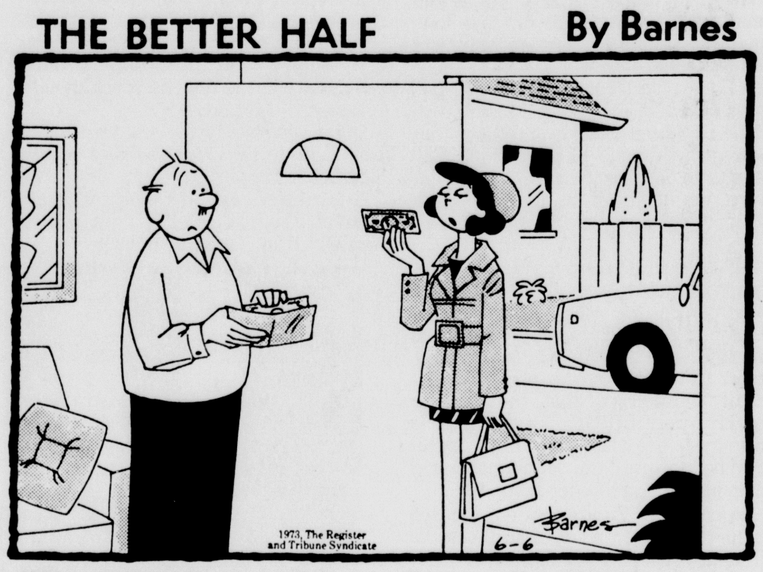

Gilligan named the panel following disclosures that former Republican Gov. James Rhodes and others were given oral and special tests before receiving real estate licenses. The normal exam is a six-hour written test.

Commissioner Paul Everson of Euclid told the panel the purpose of the state's licensing exam is to "surface knowledge" from the applicant. He said there is no difference between the written and oral exam.

Everson said the commission has no written guidelines on who qualifies for an oral exam. He said its decision is based on "discretionary authority" interpreted for them by assistant attorneys-general.

Everson said "special exams" differ only in the date of scheduling from the regular exam. He cited tests given to two handicapped applicants as special cases.

THE DAYTON POWER AND LIGHT COMPANY
NOTICE OF APPLICATION TO
THE PUBLIC UTILITIES COMMISSION OF OHIO
FOR AN INCREASE IN RATES
FOR NATURAL GAS SERVICE

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:

Pursuant to the requirements of Section 4909.19 of the Revised Code of Ohio, The Dayton Power and Light Company hereby gives notice that on March 9, 1973, it filed with The Public Utilities Commission of Ohio an application for authority to modify and increase its rates for natural gas service to all consumers.

Consumers in the Village of Ansonia and its environs are the only consumers of gas service in the Company's service area whose rates are fixed by ordinance. These Ordinance Rates are development rates under which the initial extension of gas service was made to this Village and the unincorporated area served by its distribution system. The ordinance fixing these rates expires on September 17, 1973, at which time the consumers subject thereto will be placed on the Company's applicable standard rates then in effect, either the existing or proposed standard rates, all of which are lower than the Ordinance Rates now in effect.

The substance of the modifications and increases proposed to be incorporated in the new rate sheets is as follows:

COST ADJUSTMENT CLAUSE

The cost of purchased gas, based on the Company's suppliers' rates effective in the month of December, 1972, is included in the base rates of the proposed rate sheets. The proposed cost adjustment clause is presented as a separate rate sheet, to which each proposed rate sheet is appropriately referenced, rather than being repeated, as applicable, in every rate sheet, which is the form of the rate sheets presently in effect. The proposed clause is designed to reflect increases or decreases in the Company's costs of purchased gas, including natural gas and all types of fuel used as a replacement for natural gas or in the production of a replacement for natural gas, and provides for separate calculations and applications of demand and commodity costs, the base rates for which are $0.2490 per CCF of peak day demand and $0.0382 per CCF of commodity, respectively. Added to the proposed clause is the following provision as to gross receipts taxes: "The net amount of the decrease or increase determined above shall be adjusted by the amount of any gross receipts taxes saved or payable by the Company with respect to the amount of the decrease or increase so determined". The proposed clause further provides that the report setting forth the computations upon which any decrease or increase is determined shall be submitted to The Public Utilities Commission of Ohio on or before the 10th day of the month prior to the month in which the change will be made effective, rather than the 25th day as contained in present rate sheets.

TAX ADJUSTMENT CLAUSE

A proposed tax adjustment clause has been added as a separate rate sheet, to which each proposed rate sheet is referenced, providing as follows: "The amount of any new or additional taxes levied after March 9, 1973 on the purchase, production, distribution or sale of gas, including natural gas and all types of fuel used as a replacement for natural gas or in the production of a replacement for natural gas, whether based upon CCF sale, revenue, income, the amount of the bill rendered or any other basis, or any changes in or enactments of after March 9, 1973 any Federal, state or local income tax laws or regulations thereunder, shall be added to the charges to be paid hereunder. In the event of a reduction or elimination of any such taxes, the charges shall be reduced accordingly."

Fayette County gets share of license revenue

The Ohio Bureau of Motor Vehicles has released more than $74 million in 1972 license plate revenues for distribution among the state's 88 counties, including $249,937 for Fayette County.

Registrar C. Donald Curry noted that this is the first of three such distributions, and represents only about 55 per cent of the total amount which the BMV will have turned over to local tax districts when August and December installments are completed. Curry explained that each county receives a share of the total plate revenues commensurate with the number of vehicles registered in the names of its residents. The counties then forward specified amounts to the separate taxing entities within their boundaries on the same basis.

"By the time this redistribution process is complete, 99 cents out of every dollar spent by a car owner for his license plates will have been returned to his home area, to help maintain the county and township roads he drives on," Curry said.

Amounts to be distributed to area counties include: Clinton, $271,249; Greene, $827,107; Highland, $231,896; Madison, $217,125; Pickaway, $277,962, and Ross, $365,452.

Employment discrimination suits increase

WASHINGTON (AP) — Armed with what its chairman calls "real teeth," the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission is expanding rapidly the number of discrimination suits it files.

Congress last year authorized the commission, formerly limited to investigation and conciliation, to sue employers if these methods fail.

In the last three months the commission has nearly tripled the number of suits it filed during the first year of its expanded powers.

"The enforcement powers that we received in March of 1972 have given the Equal Employment Opportunity Act, and particularly the commission, real teeth to use against employment discrimination,"said Chairman William H. Brown III.

Until the new law, the commission's jurisdiction was limited to employers of 25 persons or more.

Congress added city and state government to the jurisdiction and included employers of 15 or more.

Eighty-six discrimination suits have been filed in the past three months, out of a total of 116 filed across the country under the new law.

Targets include both large and small employers. In a suit still pending, Western Electric was accused of practicing racial discrimination at its Memphis plant and racial and sex discrimination at plants in Maryland and Massachusetts. Another suit has accused Vinnell-Dravo-Lockheed-Mannix with discrimination against Indians living on and near the reservation at Coulee Dam in Washington.

Lucasville: prison with problems

By KEN DAVIS
Associated Press Writer

LUCASVILLE, Ohio (AP) — If bars do not a prison make then neither do $32.5 million, as the state of Ohio has found out at its huge new Southern Ohio Correctional Facility.

Ten months after the first of the present 954 inmates arrived from old Ohio Penitentiary in Columbus, the Lucasville institution still has not been completely accepted by the state.

The four factories inside the wire either are idle or limping along with temporary electric hookups.

There have been kitchen problems, power plant problems, heating and roofing problems, staffing problems, guard strikes, labor strikes, bed problems, hospital problems, inmate problems.

"You name it, we've had it," said Supt. Wilfred J. Whealon, speaking with noteworthy patience and good humor, even after news reports had him being replaced.

A late headache was a court suit seeking to bar further transfer of prisoners to Lucasville on the grounds of inadequate health facilities. That sprang from the death of a prisoner amid outcries that he had not been given adequate medical attention. U.S. District Court at Cincinnati turned down the request.

"We'll probably begin transferring prisoners again sometime this week" said Whealon.

The prison population now is 954, about 560 short of maximum. Staff, including guards, clerks and professionals, numbers about 500, or about 80 per cent of the anticipated total.

Factory work is minimal. The print shop awaits an air conditioner for its darkroom. The shoe factory has to hook up its machines and awaits electric switching gears. The machine shop is producing only dogtags and some wire baskets. The steel fabricating shop awaits an oven and five additional machines which are expected within 60 days, a spokesman for the Department of Rehabilitation and Corrections said in Columbus.

The spokesman said, "The prison is 99 point 9 per cent completed. We've just minor things to clear up."

Meantime, Silverblat, the prime contractor, is reported seeking release of the 4 per cent of the total price withheld by the state, and sub-contractors are reported clamoring for release of the 10 per cent Silverblat reportedly withheld from them.

A sail carried forward of the main sail is the fore sail.

Highland jury to consider murder charge

HILLSBORO — A special session of the Highland County grand jury has been called for Friday to consider the case of Edison W. Lowery, 38, of Waverly, charged with first degree murder.

Lowery is charged with the shooting death of another Pike Countian, Uriah Lands, 40, of Stockdale. The shooting occurred at the Green Roof Motel in Hillsboro May 15. The wife of the suspect, Barbara Lowery, 38, of Waverly, apparently was at the scene at the time of the shooting and will be a prime witness in the case.

John O. Crouse, Highland County prosecuting attorney, has issued a call for 17 witnesses to appear before the panel.

Lowery was charged originally in Hillsboro Municipal Court but has not yet appeared for preliminary hearing. Preliminary hearing was set June 15, but Crouse said this would be waived and the case directed to the grand jury. Lowery has been held in Highland County jail without bond since the shooting.

JOHN POWELL

Former Lion coach takes Florida job

ORLANDO, Fla. — John A. Powell, former head basketball coach at Washington C. H., has been named athletic director at Florida Technological University, Orlando, Fla.

Powell, a 1954 product of Franklin High School and a 1958 graduate of Miami University, has a professional background that began as freshman basketball coach at Miami University and coaching stints at Springboro and Washington C. H. before moving to Florida, nearly 10 years ago.

HE COACHED basketball at Washington C. H. for two seasons, 1962-63 and 1963-64, and guided the Blue Lion teams to a 10-23 all-games record.

Powell, who lettered in basketball, football and baseball each of his years at Franklin, went on to captain Miami's basketball squad two years, when he was an All-Mid-American Conference choice and capped his playing days in tryouts with the Cincinnati Royals.

Reds win third straight

Cincy nips Mets on Bench's homer

CINCINNATI (AP) — Sparky Anderson, who has been saying the only thing Cincinnati's Big Red Machine needs is a little spark, thinks the Reds got it Tuesday night.

"That's the one we've been waiting for," said Anderson.

"That will be the big hit: the one that turns us around," he said after Johnny Bench's noneout 10th-inning home run which gave the Reds a 6-5 win over the New York Mets.

Bench's 12th homer of the season came after the Mets had scored three runs to break a 2-2 tie in the top of the 10th.

"It could very well do it for us," agreed Bench.

It prevented the Reds from falling six games behind San Francisco and came in a game delayed by rain three times for a total of an hour and 45 minutes.

The home run was Bench's only hit of the night and produced the Reds' first extra-innings win in four attempts.

Bench said he was confident he would get a chance to bat in the 10th, though he was the fourth batter.

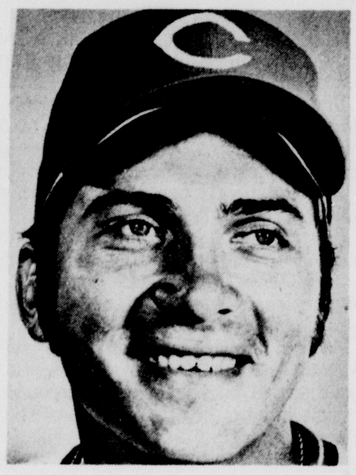

"I just felt sure I'd hit. It was a long night and I felt almost like I was ready to get it over with. But no one quit."

The Reds faced Mets' ace reliever Tug McGraw, who has had an earned run average of 1.70 the last two seasons.

"We just went after him," said Bench, whose three runs batted in thrust him into a tie with Los Angeles' Joe Ferguson for the National League lead with 43.

McGraw, troubled by wildness most of the year, walked pinchhitter Richie Scheinblum to start the inning and followed with a single to Pete Rose, his third hit of the night.

A wild pitch scored Scheinblum and, after Joe Morgan walked, Hennigan was summoned to face Bench. His second pitch was slammed over the left center field fence.

JOHNNY BENCH

"I wondered if the ball would stay up long enough to get out," said Bench. "I tried to watch it, but lost it in the lights and started running hard. I thought it might hit the fence."

The loss ended a disastrous road trip for the injury-riddled Mets, who have dropped 11 of 14 games, including three of 12 on this trip.

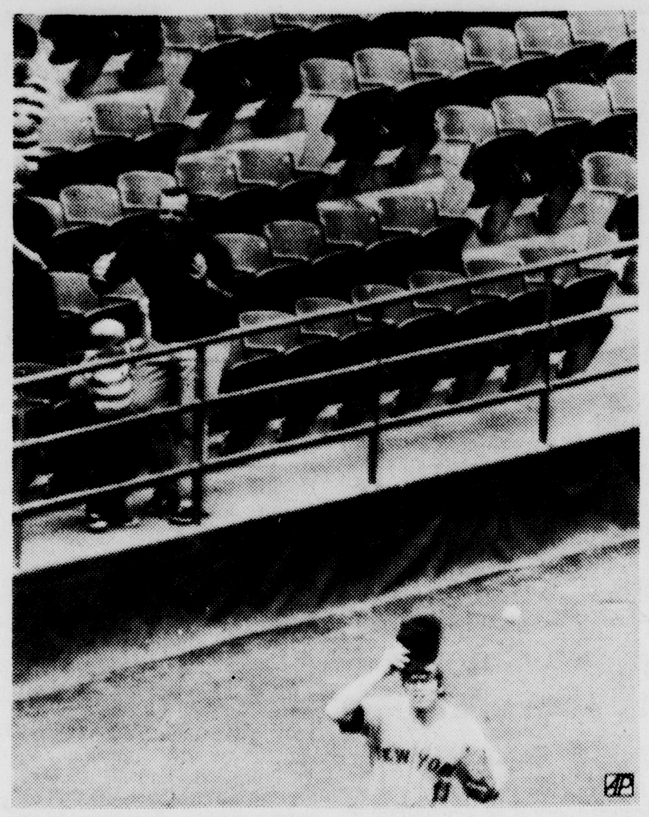

Don Gullett, 6-3, picked up the win in relief and Hennigan, 0-3, took the defeat.

Orioles spoil Wilbur's bid

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The question in the American League suddenly is not whether Wilbur Wood will win 30 games or even 40 but rather when will he win No. 14?

Wilbur Wonderful's knuckleball failed him again Tuesday night as the Baltimore Orioles rallied for four runs in the eighth inning to defeat the Chicago White Sox 7-4 and hand Wood his second loss in a row since he notched both his 12th and 13th victories on May 28.

Elsewhere in the American League, the Detroit Tigers downed the California Angels 5-2, the New York Yankees outslugged the Texas Rangers 8-6, the Boston Red Sox trounced the Kansas City Royals 9-2 and the Milwaukee Brewers edged the Oakland A's 5-4. Minnesota and Cleveland were rained out with the Twins leading 4-0 in the third inning, washing out home runs by Harmon Killebrew and Rod Carew.

Wood's pitching actually was more impressive than the seven runs he surrendered. He yielded a ground single to Bobby Grich in the first inning and then retired the Orioles in order until Brooks Robinson and Paul Blair hit ground singles with two out in the fifth.

Boog Powell followed with a towering fly right at the right field foul pole for his second home run of the season and first since April 27, wiping out a 2-0 Chicago lead on Dick Allen's 13th homer.

Eddie Brinkman drove in two runs with a homer and double and reliever John Hiller posted his 11th save of the season in the Tigers' victory over the Angels.

Hiller bailed winner Jim Perry out of a bases-loaded, twoout situation in the sixth when he fanned pinch hitter Winston Llenas on three pitches. He then stopped the Angels on one hit the rest of the way as the Tigers maintained their 1½game lead over New York in the AL East.

Jim Ray Hart smashed a three-run homer, Roy White clubbed a two-run shot and Ron Blomberg drove in three runs with a single and double in the Yankees' victory over the Rangers. The Yanks took advantage of an error by second baseman Dave Nelson to score five unearned runs off Sonny Siebert in the sixth, including a two-run single by Blomberg and Hart's homer.

Carlton Fisk drove in four runs for the second game in a row with a homer and double, powering the Red Sox over the Royals behind Marty Pattin's seven-hit pitching.

Don Money greeted reliever Rollie Fingers with a leadoff home run in the ninth inning, snapping a tie and boosting the surprising Brewers over the A's. Money cracked a 2-0 pitch from Fingers over the left field fence for his fourth home run of the season, stretching the Brewers' winning streak to five games—three over the White Sox and two over the world champion A's.

Willis, B'burg open campaigns with wins

Willis Insurance and Bloomingburg opened the 1973 Fayette County Babe Ruth League baseball campaign with victories Tuesday night.

The Willis team topped the defending champion Girtons 7-5 in action at Roszmann Field, while Bloomingburg downed Sabina in a 12-10 struggle.

Girtons roughed up Willis pitcher David Van Dyke for two runs in the opening frame, but Van Dyke settled down after the shaky start and scattered six hits while fanning a total of 13 Girton batters.

Van Dyke received plenty of firepower as the Willis players provided a 10-hit offensive attack. Gary English and Bob Wilson unloaded doubles, while David Stackhouse had four hits in four trips to the plate and chased home four runs.

JACK JAMES, one of two Girton pitchers, drove home two runs with a bases-loaded single. Ted Mercer absorbed the setback for the Girtons, surrendering seven runs and all 10 hits.

After giving up six runs in the bottom of the first inning, Bloomingburg scored 12 runs in the final four innings to down the determined Sabina bunch.

Sabina got to Bloomingburg starter Carl Riley for the six runs in the opening frame, however, Riley stiffened and hurled four scoreless innings. Tom Ingersol, who relieved Riley in the fifth inning, yielded four runs, all in the sixth inning, but picked up the win.

Bloomingburg's 11-hit attack was sparked by Allen Anschutz, Ken Darling and Riley with two hits apiece. Allen Conner, who doubled, Darling and Jim McCoy had two runs-batted-in each.

Boggs had a double and triple for Sabina and Smith, who was tagged with the pitching defeat, also tripled.

Sham ready to challenge Secretariat

NEW YORK (AP) — Trainer Pancho Martin gave Sham his final workout Tuesday and pronounced the colt "in perfect condition" for Saturday's Belmont Stakes—and another confrontation with Secretariat.

Sham was beaten by Secretariat by 2½ lengths in both the Kentucky Derby and Preakness, but Martin is not ready to concede the third jewel in the Triple Crown.

"I throw out the Derby and the Preakness," said Martin. "Sham had trouble both times. Only if Secretariat beats him in the 1½-mile Belmont will I say yes, Secretariat is the best and maybe great.

"But I hold off till Saturday."

If Secretariat does win the 105th running of the Belmont, he'll become the first Triple Crown winner since Citation in 1948. If Sham should come in second, he'll become the first horse ever to finish second in each of the three races.

Four horses are expected to try and foil Secretariat's Triple Crown bid. Joining Sham in the effort will be My Gallant, Pvt. Smiles and Twice A Prince.

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — The Cincinnati Reds announced the signing Tuesday night of their No. 2 pick in the free agent draft.

Jensen, with an 0.82 earned run average and an 11-2 record, has also fired a one-hitter and three two-hitters in his prep career.

The Reds first choice in the regular phase was outfielder Brad Kessler, 17, of Claremont, Calif.

A total of 35 selections were made by Cincinnati and 20 were pitchers.

Gary Lucas, 19, of Riverside, Calif., was the only player selected by the Reds in the secondary draft. He had been picked by the Reds in January's draft, but didn't sign.

Challenge Stakes attracts classy eight-horse field

COLUMBUS — The Howard Beissinger stable entry of Quick Work and The Gipper rate a slight nod as the early morning line choice in the $12,500 Challenge Stakes four-year-old trot Thursday night at Scioto Downs.

The second in a series of six Challenge Stakes events at Scioto Downs attracted eight entries including Aflame Hanover, Ickawowie, Majestic Cliff, Snippy Dawn and the great Klaus.

Quick Work, a blazing bay son of Speedster, took his record in a race at Scioto Downs a year ago in 2:03.1 under the expert hand of veteran Curly Smart, before being syndicated for $100,000. The syndicate, headed by Pennsylvania breeder Alan Leavitt, turned the colt over to Beissinger who guided Quick Work to a time trial record of 2:00 over Lexington's famed Red Mile.

THURSDAY'S engagement is the first start of the 1973 season for Quick Work. The Gipper, a promising son of Star's Pride, was a bit of a disappointment last year, but has sparkled in early workouts this year.

Ickawowie, the slick son of Lumber Boy, may have a tongue-twisting name, but the huge four-year-old can trot fast and straight. Owned by Barbara Drensky, of Brecksville, Ickawowie offers driver Greg Wright the chance to score his second straight stakes triumph at Scioto Downs. Wright guided J.R. Skipper to a smashing win in the May 24 Challenge Stakes three-year-old pace in 1:59.1.

Ickawowie comes into Scioto Downs fresh from a decisive victory in 2:04 at Woverine Raceway in Detroit last Friday night.

Lou Huber is scheduled his 1973 Scioto Downs debut Thursday night behind the powerful Klaus, owned by R.D. Ricketts, of Houston, Tex. The winner of 11 of 27 starts last year, the bay son of Florlis earned his record of 2:02.4, but in his only 73 starts.

The veteran Bob Seabrook has an outstanding entry in Aflame Hanover, a bay daughter of Hickory Smoke, owned by Joel Black, of Mansfield. Aflame Hanover posted a half-mile track mark of 2:07 last year at the Ohio State Fair, and won last week in 2:09.

Dick Taylor has Majestic Cliff in for his first Scioto appearance. Majestic Cliff won 14 of 21 starts last year, but is winless in three starts this season against some pretty stiff competition.

Dick Williams with Snippy Dawn and Ed Novak with Tom Circo, round out the classy eight-horse field.

Davis shines as Dodgers pop Cubs

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Who's on first? Willie Davis. As a matter of fact, he's on second, third and home, too.

The "old man" of the Los Angeles Dodgers is getting around these days.

"I'm really excited about our chances," said the Dodgers' most exciting player after belting a triple, double and two singles in a 10-1 rout of the Chicago Cubs Tuesday.

Davis' 4-for-5 performance, which included three runs scored and one RBI, boosted his batting average to .292. Not bad for a guy going on 34.

The Dodgers' victory kept them within three games of San Francisco in the NL West after the Giants beat the Pittsburgh Pirates 3-2.

In the other National league games, the Montreal Expos nipped the Atlanta Braves 7-6 in 11 innings; the Cincinnati Reds stopped the New York Mets 6-5 in 10; the Philadelphia Phillies turned back the Houston Astros 4-0 and the St. Louis Cardinals trimmed the San Diego Padres 5-3.

Ron Fairly belted a two-out home run in the 11th inning, powering Montreal past Atlanta. Fairly's shot over the right field fence, his eighth of the year, made a winner out of Mike Marshall.

Johnny Bench capped a four-run rally in the last of the 10th inning, carrying Cincinnati over New York. The rally wiped out a three-run uprising by the Mets in the top of the inning.

Ed Gooson cracked a runscoring double in the seventh that powered Ron Bryant and San Francisco over Pittsburgh.

FAMILY AFFAIR — Former National Hockey League star Gordie Howe, right, helps son, Marty, 19, up, as the rest of the family, left to right, Mark, 18; Colleen, Murry and Cathy look on. The Howe family was in Houston to start negotiations with the Houston Aeros of the World Hockey Association that could lead to Howe and his sons, Mark and Marty, playing for the Aeros next season.

Nicklaus, Weiskopf meet in Philadelphia classic

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The tournament preceding the United States Open often gets short shrift from the great names of professional golf, but the $150,000 IVB Philadelphia Classic offers a nead-to-head confrontation between Jack Nicklaus and streaking Tom Weiskopf.

The 72-hole test—the last regular event before next week's national championship at Oakmont, Pa.—begins Thursday on the 6,708-yard par 72 Whitemarsh Country Club course.

Nicklaus, the season's leading money winner, 1972 Player of the Year, defending champion in the National Open, and winner of three of his last four starts, is making a break with tradition in appearing in this tournament.

"I think Whitemarsh will be good practice for Oakmont."

While Jack, easily the outstanding player in the game today, may be looking for practice, Weiskopf may be looking for something entirely different.

"I'll worry about the Open next week," he said. "Right now I'm just interested in this one."

The tall, hard-hitting Weiskopf has won two of his last three starts, including last week's Kemper Open at Charlotte, N.C. He's won $87,100 in that period.

But there's a catch. The only one he lost—when he played well enough to win any previous Atlanta Classic—Nicklaus beat him. In the two he won, Nicklaus wasn't playing.

Two no-hitters spun in minors

A pair of no-hit pitching performances were turned in Tuesday night in Little League Minor action at Armbrust Field.

Bumgarner Real Estate, behind the no-hit pitching job of Anderson, scored a lopsided 22-2 win over the County Bankers in the opener, while McKinney held First Federal hitless in the Elks one-sided 20-4 win.

Anderson, who fanned 10 batters in the no-hit effort, helped his own cause with a home run while Seymore and Crider doubled for Bumgarner. The County Bankers used four pitchers in an attempt to quiet the Bumgarner bats. Cockerill started and was followed by Clay, Huysman and Carl.

Tubbs cracked a home run and two doubles and Oesterle had a pair of triples for the Elks in support of McKinney's no-hitter. Brown and Ruth pitched for First Federal.

Good Hope chalks 2nd straight win

BLOOMINGBURG — Good Hope's Mosquito League baseball team won its second game in as many starts Tuesday night with an 18-3 win over Bloomingburg.

Roman Linton and Jimmy Perrill combined for a three-hit pitching job for the Good Hope team and Randy Boyer sparked an eight-hit attack with a bases-loaded triple. Eric English and Linton had two hits apiece. Ryan, Mullins, Russell, Massie and Tackett pitched for Bloomingburg.

Bengals exchange Buie for draft pick

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP)— The Cincinnati Bengals, who figure they have an abundance of receivers, traded little-used Drew Buie Tuesday.

The Catawaba College product went to the New Orleans Saints for a "not very high" draft choice.

Buie was signed by the Oakland Raiders in 1969 and played three seasons there.

Cincinnati's top three draft choices this year were receivers.

Bellino grabs lead in Ohio Seniors golf

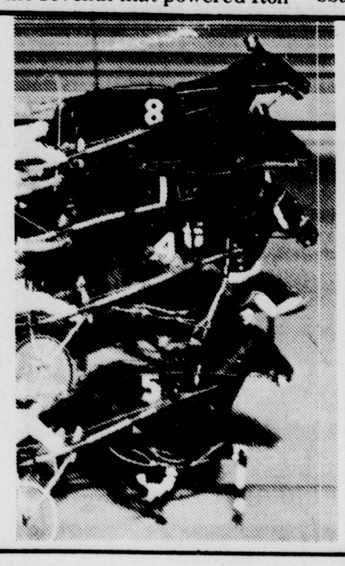

MANSFIELD, Ohio (AP) — The leader going into today's final round of the 33rd annual Ohio Seniors Golf Tournament was Frank Bellino, 58, of Youngstown.

Two county shooters win 4th place honor

Alan Yeoman and Robert Russell, auxiliary deputies with the Fayette County Sheriff's Department, won a fourth place team trophy at the Columbus Police Academy's annual combat pistol match.

Yeoman and Russell, who competed with over 200 other shooters, will be representing Fayette County in other combat pistol matches throughout the state this summer.

Two weeks ago, Russell placed third in the Springfield FOPA match.

Board of Health seeks more funds

The Fayette County Board of Health, meeting Tuesday, voted to request the Board of County Commissioners to place a two-tenths mill tax levy on the November ballot for Health Department services.

Dr. William E. Covert, health commissioner, said the proposed five-year levy would produce an additional $20,000 per year.

The board's action was recommended by the Fayette County Health Advisory Council earlier this year. At that time, Dr. Covert reported that changes in the personal property tax laws had caused an erosion of monies for operation of the Health Department. He said additional money will be needed in 1974 to maintain the current public health program.

The proposed tax levy will be in addition to the current two-tenths mill levy which was passed in 1971 for five years.

IN OTHER action Tuesday, the board discussed a routine survey of schools made by Charles Funk, sanitarian, and adopted a new complaint form.

It was reported that the Ohio Environmental Protection Agency had inspected the county's landfill during the past week but had made no report.

The board reviewed the Jeffrey Estates No. 1 and No. 2 subdivisions and will begin issuing sewage permits for these areas. The subdivisions are located north of Washington C.H.

Dr. Covert reported that he will be begin working five days a week in the health field. He will be in Chillicothe and Ross County three days a week, and will spend one day a week in Fayette County and in Pike County.

Gilligan raps White House on fuel crisis

STATELINE, Nev. (AP)— There may be a "full-blown energy crisis," but Ohio Gov. John Gilligan said Tuesday that he found it hard to believe that it could happen without prior warning from the federal government and oil firms.

The Democratic chief executive, speaking during a discussion of the energy situation at the National Governors Conference, blasted the Nixon administration for failing to take some action to avoid such a crisis.

"There has been no warning whatever from the national administration over the past few years that such a crisis was impending," Gilligan said. "And no really meaningful proposals, plans or programs" have come from the federal government on how to deal with the crisis.

"Instead," he said, "The President and his people have simply announced that such a crisis exists and advised the governors and others to do something about it."

Gilligan said the governors attending the meeting could do little more than complain about energy shortages in their home states.

Gilligan said he could not understand how the "most highly developed technological nation in the world could have been confronted in the past few months" with such a situation.

The governor also announced that he would submit a report Wednesday from the Urban and Rural Development Committee of the conference which he chairs.

That report, he said, will deal with a survey taken among the 50 governors on revenue sharing and its effectiveness in meeting the needs of states in handling urban and rural problems.

Senate considering farm support

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate begins voting today on a new five-year farm program which sponsors say will protect growers against economic failure while guaranteeing consumers would benefit from falling prices.

Senate leaders hope to pass the complex legislation by the end of this week. But numerous amendments are to be offered before the final vote.

The bill, drafted by Democrats and farm-state Republicans on the Senate Agriculture Committee, would put into effect a new approach to farm-income support based on target prices for the major crops.

The target prices for wheat, feed grains and cotton are fixed close to the present high market prices.

If prices were at the target level at the start of the program in 1974, there would be no income payments to farmers.

But if prices fall, and some experts predict this will happen because of big crops expected this year, the farmers would receive subsidies to make up the difference between the price and the target.

Sponsors emphasize that consumers would get the benefit of such price decreases. This was not the case under some previous programs which were designed to bolster commodity prices.

However, under the new plans, consumers' tax dollars would have to contribute to the subsidies.

Administration officials have criticized the Senate committee's plan as extremely expensive and as aimed in the opposite direction of President Nixon's recommendations.

Services set Thursday for Airport founder

PARK HILLS, Ky. (AP) — Bernard Eilerman, 76, one of the founders of the Greater Cincinnati Airport will be buried Thursday.

Eilerman died Monday night. He was director emeritus of the Greater Cincinnati Airport at the time of his death and was a former president.

Burial will be at Fort Mitchell.

Trash removal poses New Holland problem

NEW HOLLAND — The village dump in New Holland will be covered as soon as arrangements can be made for bulldozing equipment.

The closing of the dump and the prospects for alternative means of trash removal were the focus of discussion at the New Holland Council meeting this week.

The most workable alternatives seem to be finding a contractor from a nearby community to collect and haul the trash out of the village, or locating a local landfill which could be used.

As yet, the council has not been in contact with any contractors, and the outlook of finding a landfill is not very promising, it was said.

It was announced at the meeting that a federal loan will be available to help finance the village sewer system, and the Council has resolved to proceed in the matter.

Council discussed the purchase of a portable generator for the Fire Department without reaching a decision, and decided to purchase lumber for the repair of the bleachers in the park.

Hamulak, Mrs. McCullough file for Council

Chester F. Hamulak, of 1028 Center St., and Mrs. Bertha McCullough, wife of Archie McCullough, 431 Circle Ave., have filed petitions with the Board of Elections as candidates for City Council seats.

The two long-time residents of Washington C.H. disagree on the matter of pay raises for councilmen. Hamulak believes that compensation for Council should be kept at a minimum, thereby restricting the candidates to "dedicated" individuals.

Mrs. McCullough, who took out her petition prior to the suggestion of a pay raise, feels that in the long run the higher salaries would encourage highly professional persons to make the time to serve on Council. She says that doing a good job for the Council requires time and expense for which there should be adequate compensation.

Mrs. McCullough, who is a service representative for Ohio Bell, does not feel that being a woman will hamper her in the election.

"Women do have a different viewpoint," she said, but she thinks that it can be a complement to the men's views.

Hamulak, who works for Industrial Nucleonics, Columbus, says that he has attended most of the Council meetings for many years, and has offered his time and service to the Council in the past. He says that he was instrumental in promoting the city's ordinance against flog desecration and gathered for Council a survey of residents-opinions concerning their preference for an income or property tax.

Making his second bid for council, Hamulak is a member of the Burnett Ducey Post, VFW, Paul H. Hughey Post, American Legion, and the Church of Christ in Christian Union.
